ABOLISH DRY ACT: ROOSEVELT

NEW ARGENTINE HEAD BIDS FOR U. S. BLESSING

Deposed President Leaving Country.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LA PLATA, Argentina, Sept. 11 (Thursday). — Former President Hipolito Yrigoyen was placed aboard the cruiser Belgrano at his own request, it was learned early this morning. The vessel leaves at dawn in the direction of Montevideo, Uruguay, but it is not known whether the deposed radical leader will disembark there. Last night it was understood the Buenos Aires specialists sent to examine him reported he is suffering from extreme mental depression.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10.—Provisional President José Evaristo Uriburu's determination that the new government of Argentina shall do all in its power to coöperate fully with the United States was marked today by decisions as to who the most suitable man to send as ambassador to Washington. Gen. Uriburu plans to name as envoy to this post, vacant for nearly two years under the Irigoyen regime, as soon as the United States recognizes the new government.

It is understood that the most likely candidate for the Washington post is Dr. Manuel P. Malbran, former ambassador to both the United States and Chile. He served at Washington for only a short time in 1928, being recalled by former President Yrigoyen during a general shakeup of the Argentine diplomatic staff abroad.

Ministers Decline Salaries.

None of the members of the provisional government will accept the salaries attached to their posts. The military officers in the régime will only receive their regular army pay, while the civilians will receive no compensation at all.

Today the National City bank of New York and the First National of Boston, participating with 27 Argentine banks, offered Minister of Finance Henrique G. Perez approximately $48,200,000 for a period of six months at 5½ per cent interest without guarantees. It is understood that the government may accept $16,800,000 of this amount.

The reports that the government had already executed various offenders, including political offenders, were officially denied by President Uriburu's secretary, Lieut. Col. Emilio Kinkelin, in an announcement to the press tonight. He said that under the prevailing martial law sundry looters caught in the act, as well as two anarchists at Rosario discovered posting placards inciting sedition, were summarily shot.

TALKS TO U. S. BY PHONE

New York, Sept. 10.—[Special.]—The New York Times interviewed Gen. Uriburu, provisional president of the Argentine Republic, by wireless telephone this afternoon.

In a conversation which carried with startling clarity across the 5,300 miles of sea and land which separate the government house in Buenos Aires, where the provisional president was speaking, and the office of the Times in New York, Gen. Uriburu told of the present conditions in his country, just emerging from a revolution, and of his hopes for his country's future.

Gen. Uriburu stressed particularly his desire for cordial relations between his government and that of the United States in a statement which was particularly significant when contrasted with Irigoyen's anti-American attitude.

"The new government," said its head, "is very desirous of coöperating to the fullest extent with the United States and of promoting the friendship between the peoples of the two countries which has existed since the founding of this republic."

One of the first questions between the two countries to be taken up, Gen. Uriburu indicated, was that of the tariff. There has been considerable concern in Argentina over the effect which the American tariff might have on Argentine commerce by discouraging Argentine exports to the United States.

Neither Speaks, Eats or Drinks.

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 10.—(AP)—An official medical bulletin issued today said that the deposed president, Augusto B. Leguia, was not only physically very ill, but that his mental depression continued. It said that the former president neither spoke, ate, nor drank anything any more. He has been confined in prison on San Lorenzo isle since the revolution which thrust him from power.

GOVERNOR ASKS STATE CONTROL OF RUM POLICY

Wants Amendment 18 Replaced.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt definitely aligned himself against national prohibition today when he called for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the substitution of a new constitutional provision which would return to the states exclusive control over the sale of intoxicants.

In addition, he stated, there must be an extension of the home rule principle to permit cities, towns and villages to prohibit, by vote, the sale of intoxicants within their borders.

The governor's statement, his first definite declaration of his stand on the liquor question, was embodied in a letter sent from the executive office today to Senator Robert F. Wagner, who will serve as temporary chairman and keynote orator of the Democratic state convention at Syracuse Sept. 29, which is expected to nominate Gov. Roosevelt for a second term.

Denounces 18th Amendment.

The 18th amendment, the governor said, has fostered excessive drinking, led to corruption and hypocrisy, brought about disregard for law and flooded the country with untaxed and illicit liquor. The governor strongly declared his opposition to the return of the saloon.

Gov. Roosevelt's announcement was viewed with special interest because of the prominence with which his name has been brought forward as a potential Democratic presidential candidate in 1932.

His letter to Senator Wagner, after first dealing with general affairs in New York state, went on:

"Finally, but of very great importance, is the subject of prohibition, which is of great moment in every part of the state. I am convinced that this is true, not only in the large cities, but also in the smaller communities and in the agricultural districts.

Overwhelmingly Opposed.

"It is my belief that in the state of New York an overwhelming public opinion is opposed to the eighteenth amendment. The crux of the matter is that the eighteenth amendment has not furthered the cause of a greater temperance in our population, but, on the other hand [quoting from language used in a resolution adopted by the American Legion], it has 'fostered excessive drinking of strong intoxicants' and has 'led to corruption and hypocrisy,' has brought about 'disregard for law and order,' and has 'flooded the country with untaxed and illicit liquor.' I personally share this opinion.

"Literally dozens of schemes have been proposed by well meaning citizens seeking means and methods of improving the existing situation, while, at the same time, leaving the eighteenth amendment in full force and effect.

Don't Beat About Bush.

"The language of the eighteenth amendment is so direct and so clear that it seems to me the time has come when these people should no longer try to beat about the bush. It is not merely a matter of the Volstead act or the Jones act, or any other piece of mere legislation, federal or state, under the eighteenth amendment—it is the amendment itself.

"The force and effect of the eighteenth amendment can be eliminated, of course, only by a new constitutional amendment. This would supersede and abrogate the eighteenth amendment and substitute therefor a new constitutional provision. That is, the fundamental of a new amendment must be the restoration of real control over intoxicants to the several states.

"The sale of intoxicants through state agencies should be made lawful in any state of the Union where the people of that state desire it, and, conversely, the people of any state should have the right to prohibit the sale of intoxicants, if they so wish, within its own borders.

"This recognizes the undoubted fact that in a nation of such wide extent and with such diversity of social conditions public opinion and practical administration in regard to the methods of seeking a greater temperance differ very greatly in different parts of the country, and even in different parts of the same state. There is no doubt that in many states the actual sale of intoxicants would continue to be prohibited, at least by statute, whereas, in many other states a reasonable sale of intoxicants through state agencies would, in the opinion of the great majority of citizens of these states, do much to bring about less intoxication, less corruption and

THE NIGHTMARE OF BUSINESS AND LABOR

Robbers Slay Druggist as He Lies Helpless

Willis Fiddelke, 25 years old, proprietor of a pharmacy at 6560 South Western avenue, was shot to death by one of a pair of bandits last night while lying face downward on the floor back of his prescription case. Fiddelke was killed because he had only $40 in his cash register. He died in the arms of his wife, Elvira, 21 years old, a bride of 11 months. The bandits escaped.

Fiddelke and his clerk, William Mehl, of 6700 South Halsted street, were alone in the place when the robbers entered with drawn guns. The gunmen forced the two to go to the rear of the store and lie down. While the holdup was in progress John F. Wolf, a salesman of 6651 South Oakley boulevard, dropped in to buy a 2 cent stamp. He was ushered to the rear to join Fiddelke and Mehl on the floor.

Shot While on Floor.

One robber guarded the three. The other ransacked around until he found a case of whisky. He was preparing to lift it from the shelf when his companion, who had previously rifled the till, suddenly said to Fiddelke:

"You've got more dough. Where is it?"

"Honest to God, boys," replied Fiddelke, "I haven't another cent. You cleaned me."

Fiddelke lay between Mehl and Wolf. The bandit, without a another word, leaned over, put his gun to the back of Fiddelke's head and fired once. Then the two ran out of the store without taking the whisky. Police of the Chicago Lawn station were called.

Wife Rushes to Store.

Mehl ran around the corner to Fiddelke's home at 2541 West 67th street, and notified Mrs. Fiddelke that her husband had been shot. She arrived hysterical, and was moaning over him when the police abulance came and a physician pronounced him dead.

Fairly good descriptions of the bandits were supplied by Mehl and Wolf. One was 25 years old, about five feet eight inches, weight, 150 pounds, with a dark brown suit and brown cap. The other, the same age was five feet eleven inches, of slim build, wearing a brown fedora and dark suit.

Nobody saw them after they left the store.

Witness Is Found.

The heartlessness of the murder puzzled the police until George Johnson, 6511 Kenwood avenue, appeared at the Chicago Lawn station and told the police he was passing the store at about the time of the robbery and saw two girls peering into the store and shifting nervously from foot to foot. When he was half a block distant, Johnson heard a shot.

The police believe the bandit committed the murder to impress the girls who were acting as lookouts for them.

BABSON LOOKS FOR UPTURN IN U. S. BUSINESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wellesley, Mass., Sept. 10.—Improved business this fall was predicted today by Roger W. Babson, world famous economist and statistician, at the opening of the 17th annual national business conference at Babson Park, Wellesley Hills.

"I certainly am optimistic regarding this fall," said Babson. "It is just as evident today that business is bound to improve, as it was evident a year ago that the high pace of early 1929 could not be kept up."

As regards next year and the future, he declared that prosperity hinges on the circulation of money, and he gave concrete recommendations to business men, the most important of which he said was to spend more money on advertising.

"We will not get money to circulate faster by reducing wages, or by discharging employés, or by refusing to buy or by talking gloom," he said.

HOLDS UP DOCTOR AND GUEST IN WILMETTE HOME

A youthful gunman last night walked into the home of Dr. Oscar B. Yeatman, 521 Lake avenue, Wilmette, and, entering the sun room where Dr. and Mrs. Yeatman were entertaining, took $25 from the doctor and $20 from John Stewart, son of Bishop George Craig Stewart of Evanston. The robber did not offer to molest Miss Eleanor McDonnell of 7350 Ridge avenue, Chicago, nor Dr. Yeatman's mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles G. Rickles, 1415 Juneway terrace. He forced young Stewart and Dr. Yeatman to drive him to Howard street, where he left the car and vanished.

T. R. Jr. Asks Accounting of Dad's Estate

New York, Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico, who in July asked for permission to resign as an executor and trustee of the estate of his father, the late President Roosevelt, has joined with his coexecutors and trustees to seek an accounting which will disclose the details of their stewardship.

This became known today through papers on file in the county clerk's office which revealed the appointment on July 18 last of Andrew E. Delaney as referee.

The proceedings are in the form of a motion for an order of reference made by Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, the late President's widow; Gov. Theodore Roosevelt, and George Emlen Roosevelt, executors and trustees under President Roosevelt's will. The defendants are the heirs at law, Ethel C. Derby, Edith Kermit Roosevelt, Alice Longworth, Theodore Roosevelt, and Archibald Roosevelt.

Answers to the summons and complaint have been filed by only two of the defendants, Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Longworth. Thomas R. Strahan appears as attorney for both.

Mrs. Longworth, in her answer, denies she has knowledge of allegations in the complaint that the trustees and executors have performed all of their duties in accordance with the terms of the will. Theodore Roosevelt's answer contains no denial.

Mrs. Longworth's denial, it was pointed out, places her in a strategic position where she may, if she wishes, challenge the correctness of the details of the estate's management since May 31, 1922, the date of the last accounting.

"Mrs. Longworth's answer was not filed for the purpose of raising an issue unless we find that the accounts have been confused," said Mr. Strahan. "I do not expect that this will be the fact," he added.

Multitudes Join in Wire to Cheer Cubs

Are Cub fans downhearted?

Ask the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

At the rate of 15 a minute—one every four seconds—for four hours last night the Cub fans answered in a loud and emphatic "No." The rate of call was limited by facilities in the Superior exchange of the telephone company.

And early this morning the names of every one of those Cub fans—more than 3,600 of them—went ticking over THE TRIBUNE'S leased wires to New York, signed to the following telegram addressed to Manager Joe McCarthy and his National league champions:

"Chicago is for you. The eastern teams thought they had you licked before. You fooled them. Chicago fans believe you'll do it again. You are fighters. Chicago's for you."

The telegram was inspired by the Cubs' defeat yesterday by the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 0, their second consecutive shutout defeat.

Test Sentiment of Fans.

THE TRIBUNE decided early last evening to test the sentiment of the Cub fans who are staying here at home while the Cubs are playing in the hottest pennant drive of years, and the above message to Manager McCarthy was published in the first edition with a briefly worded invitation to readers to telephone their names. The announcement in THE TRIBUNE was supplemented an hour later by an announcement broadcast by W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE'S radio station.

The first edition of this morning's paper was on the street shortly after 9 p. m. At 9:16 Mr. and Mrs. William Peth of Rhinelander, Wis., who are visiting friends in Forest Park, called from the loop.

Deluge of Calls Begins.

By 10 o'clock the Superior exchange was reported to be 15 minutes behind on incoming calls and a few minutes later an official of the telephone company called to inquire whether there had been a great catastrophe of any kind.

"Several exchanges, particularly the Superior exchange, are swamped," he said. "What's the trouble?"

From all corners of Chicago the calls continued to come as the first edition of THE TRIBUNE reached the outlying sections of the city.

Telephone calls came from Indiana and Wisconsin and every suburb from the north shore to Chicago Heights. From the west came a message from "All the boys in Cicero," and the attendants at the four mile crib out in the lake sent a word of cheer to the Cubs from Chicago's wide and wet east side.

Cab Employés Join List.

Entire families sent in their names with Mrs. M. J. Gavin and her "family of eight" holding the record for size. The Verdun post, No. 42, of the American Legion and the Kersten Boosters club were two of many organizations whose names were listed in the telegram. The federal government was represented by the Stockyards postoffice and the local governments by the Park Ridge fire department, while every police station in the city had its quota of boosters.

An employé of a north side garage of the Yellow Cab company gave up trying to phone in the names of 500 employés of the company and brought his list in to THE TRIBUNE office.

As fast as the names were taken over the telephone they were telegraphed to New York, where they were copied on an unbroken roll of paper. This morning the message, bearing the names of the 3,600 signers, will be presented to Manager McCarthy and the Cubs by Edward Burns, TRIBUNE sports writer, who accompanied the Cub team to Brooklyn.

School Draftsman Tells of Beating.

Labor union racketeers have invaded the school board offices and a branch department of the city's engineering bureau to punish recalcitrant union members. This was learned yesterday as the authorities planned their concerted campaign against racketeers of all descriptions in obedience to the charge of Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court to the grand jury.

The attack of the racketeers was described by Edward Ceslik, a draftsman employed in the board of education offices in the Steuben Club building. He will be the first witness of racketeer violence to be called by State's Attorney Swanson, who promised to coöperate with Chief Justice McGoorty and the grand jury in an inquiry which the authorities hope will send many racketeers to the penitentiary.

Complaint to Judge Told.

At the same time that the attack on the city employés became known it was discovered that Chief Justice McGoorty was actuated in making his charge to the jury by a complaint made directly to him by a man representing a labor union official.

The story as told to the chief justice indicated that gangland chiefs are lined up solidly in their efforts and desires to get control of the unions with large financial resources.

The complaint alleged that George [Bugs] Moran, north side gang chief, joined forces with George [Red] Barker, ex-convict head of a branch of the coal teamsters' union, in an effort to gain control of a union. The authorities were puzzled by the story that Moran and Barker were associated because it had been thought that the Capone interests were behind the move to capture the unions.

McGoorty Remains Silent.

Judge McGoorty refused to discuss the details of the complaint, because he said the man involved feared for his life.

A similar situation was uncovered by the story of a small independent dealer who told of exorbitant demands being made on him by a racketeer union chief. This man also refused to allow his identity to be revealed, but promised that as soon as he is convinced that an honest effort is being made to drive out racketeers he will come forward with his testimony.

"The first thing which must be done is to educate the honest labor union men and the business men that we mean business," said Judge McGoorty. "They must be assured that any testimony they may give before the grand jury will be kept secret and that they will be given ample protection from any possible harm."

Tells of Racketeer Attack.

Ceslik, the board of education draftsman, described his experience yesterday to Ernest Withall, business manager of the board.

"Our union, the technical engineers, architects and draftsmen's union, was all right until about six months ago," Ceslik said. "At that time an effort was made to raise the dues from $3 to $5 each quarter, and despite the fact that the members voted against the proposition, the raise was ordered.

"Arthur Kostka, right hand man of T. J. Gilboy, the business agent of the union, came to the board offices on Tuesday and asked me about my dues. I told him that I could not pay them and he said, 'We will make an example out of you.'

Beaten By Three Sluggers.

"I went to an inner room, leaving Kostka, who described himself as an international organizer, in the hall. He soon entered the room with three other men, and one of them wrapped something in a handkerchief. One of the men said to me, 'You are too high hat to see Gilboy, so we are going to fix you.'

"The three men then jumped on me, beat me until I fell to the floor and then they took a few parting kicks at me. They got away before any of the other employés could make a move."

Ceslik said that to his knowledge neither Gilboy nor Kostka ever was engaged in any of the occupations of the men who are members of the union. They were outsiders, who took control, he charges.

Five engineers were among the Fall Shoe Styles Are Distinctive—Prices Low

The feet that tread the pavements of Chicago are much more attractive this fall. Whether she is hurrying to a luncheon and shopping appointment or he is hustling across town to close a sale, one thing is certain—their shoes are properly styled.

After all, shoes are something more than leather sandwiched between feet and sidewalks. They're important to one's appearance. Style is decidedly a factor in comfort and good looks. Now more than ever shoes are designed in models to fit the occasion. Women find perfect matches for their costumes. Men nonchalantly throw one leg across the other, safe in the knowledge that the foot on display is well shod.

In addition to the new styles, values in shoes make this month a good time to buy.

others listed as victims of labor slugging, according to reports received in the city hall yesterday. The latest assault on George F. Bartels of the city engineering department took place on Tuesday at about the same time that Chief Justice McGoorty was charging the grand jury. He was attacked by two men in the branch office of the engineering department at Roosevelt road and the river.

Bartels said that he was assaulted because he had paid no union dues for the last year because of internal strife in the union.

Among the others reported beaten are Arthur Seman, a meter tester; an engineer named Seeley; and two others named Meyers and Olson of the water pipe extension bureau. Bernard W. Cullen, superintendent of the extension bureau, said that a Howard Meyers was employed as an engineer, but had made no report of an assault.

Meyers could not be reached yesterday. Cullen said he had no one named Olson on the pay roll.

Benjamin Rappaport, employed by the board of education, is head of the Technical Engineers' union. He said that his union does not countenance any such attacks as reported.

Col. Randolph to Testify.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce and of the so-called "secret six," which is reported to have been collecting evidence to stop gangsters and racketeers, is to be the first grand jury witness when the investigation is opened on Monday. In an interview yesterday afternoon Col. Randolph indicated that he probably would not be much help to the investigation.

"You are to be the first grand jury witness," Col. Randolph was informed yesterday by reporters.

"I haven't heard about it," he said. "In the event that you are called as a witness, can you give the grand jury any evidence of racketeering?" he was asked.

"I know nothing of my own personal knowledge," he replied. "I might give the grand jury names of officials of other organizations to call and I can give what information we may have in our files."

John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, is the other witness scheduled for appearance before the grand jury at the first session of the racketeering inquiry.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller and Charles Lounsbury were nominated yesterday to conduct the investigation.

The inquiry will be started, it was announced, by investigating the bomb set off yesterday morning—less than 12 hours after war was declared against racketeers by the authorities. The bomb was aimed at the Maison Lorraine beauty shop, 509 South Crawford avenue.

Nab Beauty Shop Racketeer.

Following three bombings within a week of beauty shops, a man who later said he was Louis Baer of 3330 West Monroe street, yesterday afternoon approached Jones De Mar, proprietor of a shop at 3941 West Madison street, and said he wanted De Mar to join the National Beauty Parlors association, being organized by one "Tubby" Walsh of the west side. It would cost De Mar a $25 initiation fee and $1 a month thereafter. If he didn't join, "we will get you one way or another," Baer said.

De Mar propitiated him by saying he would think it over and Baer left. De Mar followed him till he encountered Patrolman Harlov Zauner of the Fillmore street station. Zauner took Baer in custody and Lieut. Thomas Duffy questioned him.

Capt. Patrick Collins of the Fillmore station, after getting Lieut. Duffy's report, expressed the opinion that Baer was a pseudo racketeer. He said the records failed to disclose any such person as "Tubby" Walsh.

One phase of the investigation to be pushed vigorously, prosecutors said, is that concerning the taking over of some 33 unions by gangsters. This investigation will be aimed at Barker, William J. [Three Fingered Jack] White, ex-convict labor leaders; Klondike O'Donnell, beer runner; and the Capones.

Rewards totaling $55,725 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

Two more gangsters were made ready yesterday for trial under the vagrancy act, which has been invoked by the state's attorney's office and Judge John H. Lyle in a counter attack on Chicago gangland.

Anthony [Red] Kissane, a notorious gunman and racketeer, and Johnny [West Side] Barry, were arrested last evening by Patrolman Ray van Herik of the East Chicago avenue police station while he was off duty as they were loitering at Polk and Dearborn streets.

Both gangsters will be arraigned this morning before Judge Lyle on vagrancy charges. If they are found guilty they may be sentenced to six months at hard labor, and fined $100 each.

Kissane said he lived at 4225 North Springfield avenue and Barry gave his address as 130 West Washington street. Kissane listed his occupation as a salesman and Barry said he was business agent for the newspaper drivers' union. Both have long records.

Urges Indictment of Bondsmen.

In the campaign against gangsters under the vagrancy act the feature yesterday was the exposure in Judge Lyle's court of the activities of a professional bondsman. At the end of the session Judge Lyle recommended to the state's attorney's office that the bondsman, Gaetano Anselmo, be indicted for fraud and perjury.

The judge also canceled the bonds furnished by the professional bondsman for Izzy Alderman and Joe Condi, gangsters arraigned for vagrancy, and ordered that both men be held in the lockup at the East Chicago avenue police station.

Their bonds were increased from $20,000 each to $30,000, and Judge Lyle said he believed the action against Anselmo would discourage other professional bondsmen from coming to the gangsters' rescue so quickly.

Trial Set for Tomorrow.

Then the judge set the trial of Alderman and Condi, on the vagrancy charge, for tomorrow. Attorneys for the two hoodlums announced they would present motions for a change of venue, for quashing of the information because no warrant had been served, and for dismissal on the ground of double jeopardy.

Attorney Benjamin Feldman, who had argued before Chief Justice McGoorty of the Criminal court that a previous trial of the two gangsters before Judge Lyle was void, after which the chief justice freed the men on a writ of habeas corpus, yesterday argued before Judge Lyle that because of the first trial, his clients had been placed in jeopardy, and could not be tried again. Attorney W. W. Smith, law partner of Clarence Darrow, appeared yesterday to assist in the defense of the two hoodlums.

Fraud Charged by Lyle.

In his investigation of the professional bondsman, Anselmo, Judge Lyle stated it was plain that a fraud had been perpetrated upon Judge Alfred O. Erickson, who approved the bond at his home after midnight.

"Undoubtedly this exposé will cause judges to be more cautious in the future when they come to approving bonds which place criminals back on the street," Judge Lyle said. "That is one of the outstanding aids of the outlaw."

The judge praised the efforts of Attorney Charles F. Rathbun, member of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, and Martin, who has been serving as a special assistant state's attorney in the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle.

The bonds set by Judge Lyle for Condi and Alderman in the first instance were for $20,000 each, and the law provides that in the case of a real estate bond double the amount of the bond must be represented in the value of the property scheduled. This would require for both bonds a property valuation of $80,000.

Mr. Rathbun presented evidence to show that the value of Anselmo's property, which he himself had set at different times at $105,000 and at $140,000 was $83,492. The records of the board of review scheduled the property at a full value of $63,492, but the state's attorney's office allowed an additional valuation of $20,000.

The property was mortgaged for $50,000, the records showed. Further deductions included $10,000 for bonds on which the property was already scheduled, $1,000 for homestead rights, and $27,000, or one-third, for the dower rights of Anselmo's wife. She had not signed the bond.

This made total deductions of $88,000, or $4,508 more than the property was worth. Consequently, Mr. Rathbun asserted, there was no value whatever attachable to the bonds scheduled for Condi and Alderman.

Anselmo admitted having been on the bond blacklist for some time.

Abandons Forsythe Case.

Attorney James M. Burke, who had entered into negotiations with the state's attorney for the surrender of James [Red] Forsythe, sought in connection with the Lingle murder, announced yesterday that he had abandoned the case entirely. He charged that Prosecutor Rathbun, with Special Assistant State's Attorney James E. McShane and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, had tapped his telephone wires and planted detectives about his home in an effort to apprehend Forsythe before his surrender.

Investigator Roche yesterday led a raid on a loop office at 36 West Randolph street, in the Delaware building, on the fifth floor. Information had been received that machine guns were cached in the office, and a search warrant was obtained from Judge Lyle. The raid disclosed about forty pint bottles labeled whisky and gin and filled with spirits, which were seized by Mr. Roche. A half dozen prisoners were taken to the detective bureau for investigation.

TERRY DRUGGAN TO GO ON TRIAL SEPT. 29 AS U. S. TAX EVADER

Terry Druggan, former beer baron, will be the first of a series of defendants in income tax cases to be tried at the fall term of the federal District court, United States Attorney Johnson said yesterday. Druggan's trial will be called on Sept. 29, according to tentative plans.

Following the conclusion of Druggan's trial, his former partner in the beer industry, Frankie Lake, will be tried on charges of evading income taxes. State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien, teaming contractor; George L. Chamberlain and Fred W. Rhoades of the U. S. A. company, electrical contractors, and William Nichols, alleged tax fixer, all under indictment on income tax charges, are scheduled to follow in the order named.

Mr. Johnson said he hoped to try at least one major income tax case a month.

TWO ARE JAILED FOR GUN TOTING; ONE GETS A YEAR

Martin Ryan, 38 years old, 9207 Justine street, a chauffeur for a race track publication, was fined $200 and sentenced to one year in the Bridewell yesterday when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Luster on charges of carrying concealed weapons and assault with a deadly weapon.

Ryan was arrested on Aug. 22 when he alighted from an Ashland avenue car at Archer avenue and attempted to board it again without paying a second fare. He was put off the car by T. P. Sanderson, a conductor. Ryan went to his home and procured a revolver. He boarded the car again, brandished the weapon and threatened Sanderson, the conductor told the court.

Judge Luster also sentenced Roscoe Wright, 27 years old, 2224 Logan boulevard, to 30 days in the Bridewell and fined him $100 for carrying a gun. Wright's companion, Wayne Stewart, 24 years old, 2110 North Springfield avenue, was fined $100 on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested yesterday morning.

YOUTHS BATTLE FACTORY GUARD; 1 SLAIN, 1 SHOT

Two brothers were shot, one of them fatally, by a special policeman at the plant of the Grigsby-Grunow corporation, radio manufacturers, at 5801 Dickens avenue, yesterday afternoon. The shooting followed an altercation over the brothers' loss of their jobs at the factory three weeks ago.

The dead youth was William Federici, 22 years old, 2919 North 74th avenue, River Grove. His brother, Baptiste, 26 years old, is in the Keystone hospital in a critical condition.

According to the Cragin police, the two brothers were laid off with several other employés. Yesterday afternoon they returned and asked to see the foreman, Clarence Webb, 3134 North Luna avenue.

They accused Webb, the police said, of causing them to lose their jobs and attacked him with their fists. Webb shouted for help and Albert Marth, 5534 Cornelia avenue, the special policeman on duty at the factory, went to his aid.

Marth said the two youths refused to obey his orders to get out and he fired at them. They fell wounded, and Webb and Marth called the police. Both brothers were still alive when they arrived at the hospital, but William died soon afterward.

The elder brother gave his name and address and lapsed into unconsciousness. Hospital attachés said his condition was serious.

Marth was taken to the Cragin station and questioned.

200% AUTO SALES GAIN PREDICTED IN NEXT 20 YEARS

Transit Survey Indicates Motor Car Market.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Chicagoans in the next twenty years will buy more than twice the number of passenger automobiles they purchased in the last 22 years. In the next two decades the Chicago sales of passenger motors will be 1,880,407, compared with 792,490 in the last 22 years. During the next two decades—at the average wholesale price per passenger car in 1928—Chicago will spend more than $1,100,000,000 for autos.

If Cook county is taken as the sales territory of Chicago automobile dealers, they will sell 2,534,110 passenger autos in the next 20 years at an estimated value of $1,742,356,366.

These forecasts are deducible from the proposed financial plan of Halsey Stuart & Co. to consolidate the surface and elevated lines into one transit system for Chicago. It therefore follows that the figures come from a source which has no incentive in promoting the sales of autos.

Population Basis of Plan.

To be acceptable, the transit financial plan must conservatively reckon the net earnings of the proposed consolidated transportation system. While a dime, and perhaps a score of factors have been considered by Halsey, Stuart & Co., apparently the basic foundation was the increase in population. They have calculated the rides per capita and have followed with an estimate of the effect of private autos added on the earning of the street cars, subways, and elevated lines.

To gauge that influence it was necessary to estimate the number of private passenger autos. This is presented in the report for each year up to 1950. It is estimated how many autos will be on the streets of Chicago competing each year with the merged public transit system.

Engineer Makes Estimate.

The basic estimates of automobiles, population and car rides per capita were made for the car financiers by James Walker, consulting engineer.

This year, Mr. Walker reckons, there are 415,476 passenger automobiles owned by residents of Chicago. For 1950 he places the number at 641,488 cars.

"The Facts and Figures of the Automobile Industry," published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, gives the average life of a car at 4½ years, which presumably accounts for the period of utility by the first owner, the second, and perhaps the third before the car is discarded.

Applying that life to the cars which Mr. Walker predicts will be registered yearly in Chicago, and adding the new cars to be bought by first owners, the next twenty years will require 1,889,607 passenger cars in Chicago.

The following table shows Mr. Walker's forecast of the number of passenger automobiles in Chicago yearly, and also the new cars it will be necessary to buy to keep Walker's estimated number operating on the street.

While Halsey, Stuart & Co., judging from the text of their report, believe the Walker estimate is accurate, they affiliated, for the sake of conservatism, the trend of the last ten years as a basis of forecasting the future of passenger autos in Chicago. The annual increases during the last 10 years have ranged from 17,000 to 40,000 cars a year, which is much greater than the Walker estimates for the future.

But even if Walker's lower estimate does prove true, it will be a surprise to those motor car makers who appear to believe that the opportunity for the sale of passenger cars is not now so good as in years past. Walker's figures indicate that the passenger automobile business will at least be double.

BOLIVIA'S JUNTA RULE STAMPS OUT MINOR REVOLT AT AIR SCHOOL

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A threatened revolution, which had its beginning in the aviation school, was put down here yesterday in a vigorous manner by the military junta now ruling Bolivia.

The government states that manifestation was not of a major nature and that the incident at the aviation school was one of a disciplinary character only. Criminal proceedings were begun against officers implicated in the attempt to start a revolt.

EVANSTON CAN'T HAVE THIS SORT OF HORSES ABOUT

Disorderly horses will not be tolerated on the streets of Evanston, Chief of Police William O. Freeman yesterday warned stable owners after two animals had been arrested for resisting an officer.

Policemen Frederick Fellows and Elmer Higley, cruising in a flivver along Ridge road, near Noyes street, sighted the horses loitering about a residence, browsing leisurely on flowers and shrubbery. Immediately their suspicions were aroused and they decided to investigate. However, as they approached, the horses hurdled a hedge, and the policemen had to abandon their flivver to give chase.

They overtook the fugitives after a three block pursuit. Just as Policeman Fellows sneaked up on one of the animals it let go with a hind foot, knocking him for a count of ten.

Shot Down by Cop Whose Tire He Tries to Steal

Patrolman Thomas Norton of the Englewood station, off duty, last night saw a man trying to lift the spare tire from his automobile, parked in front of his home at 6224 South Fairfield avenue. Norton ran out and the man fled. When he refused to halt Norton fired, wounding him in the arm. He surrendered and said he was Jacinto Mantes, 35 years old, 3308 West 39th street. He is at the Bridewell hospital. He will recover.

BEN FRANKLIN WANTS TO MEET BEN FRANKLIN

Personal: Mr. Benjamin Franklin, 1051 North Francisco avenue, building contractor, is desirous of meeting Mr. Benjamin Franklin of Bloomington, Ill., chicken dealer; object: to sock him on the nose.

Mr. Franklin of Chicago was arrested recently for speeding in Michigan avenue. Mrs. Amelia Bosworth of Bloomington read a newspaper account of it, and decided he was the Franklin of her home town, who had passed three alleged worthless checks on her. She notified her mother, who telephoned Sheriff Moss of Bloomington, who telegraphed the South Park police, who swore out a warrant and arrested Mr. Franklin. He protested he had never been in Bloomington.

So last night Mrs. Bosworth, Sheriff Moss and other townspeople arrived and were shown the prisoner. "He's not the Benjamin Franklin we want," chorused one and all, and Mr. Franklin was released.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 10.—"The short kiss does no harm. It is the long drawn and continuous kiss that is dangerous. A girl who knows her limit and goes to it and quits may do the boy tremendous harm." This is what the Rev. A. L. Charles of Brooklyn told members of the Huron College Alumni association here today in an address on family foundations.

Girl Triplets Are Born in Hospital; Two Have Teeth

Triplets, two of whom arrived with a pair of teeth, were born yesterday to Mrs. Walker Petty, 2241 South Hamlin avenue, at St. Anne's hospital, 4900 Thomas street. The three are girls, weighing 4 pounds 8 ounces, 4 pounds 3 ounces, and 3 pounds 4 ounces. The parents, each 28 years old, have one other child, Billy, 5 years old.

Woman Is Arrested on Mortgage Fraud Charge

Mrs. Helen Holsinger, 4901 North Marmora avenue, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging her with conspiracy, sworn out by Morris Matsoss, 1130 North Harding avenue. The case involves alleged false and forged second mortgages. Judge John Sbarbaro set her bond at $15,000, for which she obtained surety and was released.

Jealousy Charged

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The troubled domestic life of Lina Basquette went through another episode today with the granting of a divorce to J. P. Everell Marley, who married the film beauty in January, 1929.

Marley complained of his wife's jealousy. As a motion picture camera man, he recited, his life brought him into contact with many actresses. This so enraged Miss Basquette he finally gave up the work and went with her on a vaudeville tour.

Thus began the end, Marley said. They separated and several weeks ago, when the actress was recovering from an attempted suicide, she told Marley to get a divorce. The suit followed.

Thelma Todd, actress, testified that as recently as last May Miss Basquette threatened to slap Marley's face at a ball because he had nodded to a woman acquaintance.

Miss Basquette's first husband was the late Sam Warner of Warner Brothers, motion picture producers.

His death several years ago led to disputes over custody of their four year old daughter, not yet settled. The child lives with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner of New York. Harry Warner is a brother of Sam and is president of Warner Brothers.

Spurned, Shoots Woman and Then Kills Himself

Daniel Lee, a Corean, yesterday afternoon walked into the cafeteria at 3154 Lawrence avenue where Mrs. Anna Lim, bookkeeper, was at work and shot her four times. He then shot himself through the head. Both were taken to the Swedish Covenant hospital. Lee died several hours later and it was said there was little chance for the woman's recovery. Mrs. Lim, who is also a Corean, told the police she had spurned Lee's attentions and had refused to marry him. She caused Lee's arrest last Sunday for threatening to kill her.

Marine Band Gives 2 Concerts Tuesday; Set Park Amplifiers

Coming second in a series of musical treats sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, the United States Marine band, the country's oldest military musical organization, will play two concerts next Tuesday at Chicago stadium, 1800 West Madison street.

The entertainment follows the great Chicagoland music festival which packed Soldiers' field in Grant park several weeks ago. The band concerts will be open to the public at no charge and are being held in the finest indoor stadium in the country, where almost 22,000 persons can see and hear with perfect ease, as guests of THE TRIBUNE.

School Children to Attend.

The afternoon performance is being planned for the school children and arrangements were completed yesterday to insure the opportunity of attendance to every child in both the parochial and public schools who has an interest in music through band, orchestra, or glee club connections—up to the limit of the Stadium's capacity. This plan was praised by Superintendent William J. Bogan of the Chicago public schools and by Father Frank Cunningham of the parochial schools, each of whom promised cooperation. President Lewis E. Myers of the board of education echoed this approval.

These children will be dismissed from their classes in time to reach the stadium by 3 p. m., the hour the concert opens. The evening performance is intended to draw adults, as well as children, who do not find it convenient to attend the first concert.

Stadium Ideal for Concert.

The Chicago stadium is well adapted for presentation of this type of music. The band will be placed in the center of the main floor, in the spot normally occupied by the boxing ring, where ample room is available for the fifty musicians. There Capt. Taylor Branson, the noted leader, will find the lighting and amplification systems placed to the best advantage. THE TRIBUNE rented the stadium for both performances as the best available location.

To accommodate the overflow crowd from the concerts, arrangements were made yesterday to amplify the music in Grant park, where batteries of loud speakers will be perched atop a platform seventy-five feet high erected at a point near the Buckingham fountain.

The cluster of speakers, built especially to project sound long distances, will be arranged in a circle so as to cover the territory in the immediate vicinity and enable motorists to park near the fountain and listen to the music without moving from their cars. If the evening weather is fine it is expected large crowds of people on foot will be there.

COUNTY G. O. P. CLASHES WITH REALTY BOARD

Snow Replies to Attack on Tax Law Stand.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Chicago politics was enlivened yesterday by the first passage at arms of the fall campaign. It involved Chairman B. W. Snow of the Republican county central committee and the Chicago Real Estate board.

The board made public a letter to Snow signed by Newton C. Farr for its property owners' division, in which Mr. Farr commented on Mr. Snow's recent press statement urging the citizens of Chicago to unite against the ratification of the amendment of the revenue article of the state constitution which will be submitted to the voters on Nov. 4.

The letter propounded three questions to the Republican chairman. Mr. Snow said that he had not received the letter, but he said he was willing to reply at once by asking Mr. Farr and his associates a single question. So that was where the matter stood last night. Mr. Snow was waiting for Mr. Farr's reply to one question.

Urges Equal Representation.

In his statement issued last Saturday Mr. Snow stressed most the argument that Chicago and its suburbs cannot vote to give the general assembly unrestricted powers in tax matters until all citizens of the state are given equal representation in conformity with the constitution.

Mr. Farr's questions to Mr. Snow in slightly abbreviated form were as follows:

"1. Do you and your political associates who oppose the amendment realize that in so doing you force real estate taxpayers to continue to pay 20 per cent of the direct tax burden and exempt approximately 90 per cent of the wealth of the state from carrying its just share of the load?

"2. Do you want to continue this inequitable tax burden upon property owners or have you some program of relief to submit now that you and your associates forgot to recommend to the last special session of the legislature?

"3. Did not your associates vote at the recent special election to submit this amendment to the voters because it represented the best intelligence of the peoples' elected representatives to correct the inevitable revenue system in force?"

Chairman Snow Makes Reply.

Here is Mr. Snow's reply to the Farr questionnaire:

"If they ask me three questions I certainly have the right to ask them one question. Here is my question to them:

"'Do you favor taxation without representation?'

"If they can answer that I may have one or two more to submit."

The proposed amendment is expected to come in for further denunciation from the Democratic county convention today when it meets to select its nominees for the six vacancies on the Superior and Circuit benches caused by deaths.

The party slatemakers had not made much progress with their task late last night and gossip said that only a few of the aspirants were regarded as fairly certain of their places. It was said that the chances of Ross C. Hall of Oak Park had been materially augmented by protests from important sections of the country towns against the Republican selection of Charles C. Carnahan as that party's entry from the suburbs. It also was reported that Municipal Judges Joseph Burke and Frank M. Padden were strongly favored. Others under discussion were Charles A. McDonald, Walter T. Stanton, and Joseph A. Graber.

CITY DEPARTMENTS' HEADS DRAFT PLEAS FOR APPROPRIATIONS

City department heads yesterday were preparing requests for appropriations which they deem are necessary to operate their departments during 1931. They have been warned by City Controller Schmidt that the estimates of appropriations must be in his hands by Sept. 20, and that data submitted after that date will be disregarded in the controller's report to the finance committee.

In a letter to all the department heads Controller Schmidt stated that he will not consider any requests for salary increases or regarding of employés positions, but that those matters will have to be taken up with the finance committee direct. He also pointed out that the city will have no more to spend than in 1929 and mentioned restrictions placed on appropriations by legislation passed at the special session of the general assembly.

One item that is puzzling the department heads is the amount to include in their estimates for telephone service. In other years no charge has been made by the Illinois Bell Telephone company for calls originating in the city hall, but a charge will be made under the new franchise, which will be in effect Nov. 5 unless the mayor vetoes it.

LEGION TO KEEP OUT OF POLITICS, POORMAN SAYS

Partisan politics will continue to have no place in the program of the American Legion in Illinois during the administration of Capt. Arthur G. Poorman of Chicago Heights, the new state commander said yesterday.

The new state commander said he would appoint a commission to study the legislative requirements of the state department and draft a program of proposed legislation to aid war veterans. He hopes to reduce the red tape accompanying the veterans bureau relief work. A state-wide campaign is planned to interest all former service men in the national legislation enacted in their behalf. Capt. Poorman said he would investigate means of assisting the various posts in developing better methods of management and financing.

William C. Mundt of Bloomington, who has been state adjutant and treasurer for the last three years, will continue in that capacity by reappointment. The new department chaplain is the Rev. David J. Thornton of Robinson.

RESTAURANT MAN ROBBED.

Two armed men yesterday robbed Ben Bernicchi, owner of a restaurant at 3001 West Madison street, of $150 in cash, $300 in checks and a diamond stickpin valued at $50 after forcing him into a curb in front of 14 North Sacramento boulevard as he was driving to his bank.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Monmouth, Ill., Sept. 10.—[Special.] Indications that the Anti-Saloon league is split asunder in regions where once it was strong, and is finding the collections tight, were uncovered by the Republican caravan today in the four of the 14th and 15th congressional districts.

Reports that Republicans in the military tract have been brought to their toes in fighting form by the league's presentation of Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill as its independent candidate were laid before the party leaders at workers' meetings in Galesburg and Monmouth.

Likewise in passing the hat, the Anti-Saloon league this time is finding all contributors have sewn fishhooks in their pockets. At Galesburg Otis Arnold, who for ten years was a state representative from the Quincy district, one of the dry floor leaders and a contributor to the league's campaign funds, told the caravan he had just received a begging letter from the league.

Refuses to Contribute.

"I'm writing the league officials," said Mr. Arnold, "that inasmuch as the league has officially said it will ignore the prohibition referendum, it will not need any funds for that part of the election.

"If the league funds are to be used in support of Mrs. O'Neill, the real effect will be to help James Hamilton Lewis, the dripping wet Democrat. I'm writing the league that if such is the purpose, why should it not be better for me to contribute directly to Mr. Lewis. In passing the plate to help Mrs. Lottie, isn't the league in reality taking up a collection for Jim Ham Lewis? I'm for Ruth Hanna McCormick, and isn't the Anti-Saloon league, in effect, now soliciting me, a dry, helping finance the campaign of Mr. Lewis, who is as wet as the Atlantic? Looks that way to me."

"Mussolini of Illinois."

The "Mussolini of Illinois," was a taunt tossed by Gen. Milton J. Foreman at the Rev. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the league. At Galesburg, where delegations of workers from Adams, Schuyler, Fulton, Knox, and Henry counties packed the courtroom, Gen. Foreman said:

"The league methods savor of countries afflicted with despotism. Rule or ruin—let us rule, or off goes your head, is the league's edict. Illinois is not yet ready for soviet rule or for a Mussolini."

Some of the orators expounded old-fashioned "Republican gospel." The keynote of this was sounded by Burnett M. Chiperfield, nominee for congress to succeed the late Edward J. King.

"The Democrats," said Chiperfield, "are unable to present any reason for a political change. It reminds me of what Gov. Dick Oglesby said in a time similar to this: 'What! turn the government over to the Democrats? Why, it's all the Republicans can do to run it.'"

Suggests League Be Consistent.

At Monmouth tonight Clarence F. Buck, nominee for state treasurer and one of the home boys, argued that the Anti-Saloon league, to be consistent, should put a full congressional ticket in the field. Mr. Buck, who was campaign manager for Frank O. Lowden in 1928, put on his red shirt and spoke to the visiting firemen at their Peoria convention this morning—he used to run with a hand pump truck and ladder in his youth—and tonight he addressed the home folks.

"If the league wanted to be consistent, why does it not put up third party candidates for congressmen at large and district congressmen? The congressmen have just as much to say as a senator at Washington; they are on the same platform as Mrs. McCormick and are just as much bound by it."

The caravan today was still talking of the Peoria doings, where two meetings of unusual size were held last night. L. Y. Sherman, former United States senator, among other speakers, dwelt upon the Anti-Saloon league.

"Against our ticket are two other tickets; one, the Democratic, with a platform and candidate both soaking wet, saying no matter what are the results of the referendum, no matter if it is overwhelming dry, it is for amending," he said.

"The second is a bone dry party, the league backing Mrs. O'Neill, and it says no matter how the people vote on the referendum they will be against any changes."

Tomorrow the cavalcade is to be at Dixon and De Kalb.

WOMEN ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN.

The interest of women in the senatorial race was brought out yesterday by two developments in Chicago.

The Cook County League of Woman Voters sent to THE TRIBUNE a letter reading in part as follows:

"In THE TRIBUNE of today an inaccurate statement appeared concerning the Cook County League of Woman Voters in your story entitled 'Illinois Dry Forces Split in Senate Race.' The league does not indorse candidates, and on questions of public policy it can act only in accordance with the action taken in convention by the membership. As there has been no convention since the presentation of the prohibition referendum, no action has been taken."

The Illinois division of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform announced that it had indorsed James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for senator, and Walter Nesbit and W. H. Dieterich, Democratic nominees for congressman at large.

WYOMING G. O. P. SENDS CONGRATULATIONS TO MRS. M'CORMICK

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Wyoming Republican state committee, in session here this afternoon, telegrapher felicitations to Ruth Hanna McCormick of Chicago, senatorial candidate of Illinois. The message says:

"The Republican state central committee of Wyoming, the state which first extended equal suffrage and which knows the value thereof to the citizenry, takes great pleasure in extending to you our congratulations on your nomination as Republican candidate to the United States senate from Illinois and the fearless and independent stand you have since taken, and regard this as an assurance of your election and that your people can feel you will always be fearless and independent in asserting their rights.

"We regret you have not been able to enjoy a portion of the summer on your Wyoming ranch and look forward to having the 'first woman elected to the United States senate' with us next year."

$2,500,000 BONDS FOR FORESTS PUT UP TO VOTERS

Voters at the Nov. 4 election will be asked to approve a bond issue of $2,500,000 for the Cook county forest preserves. The forest preserve board, composed of the county commissioners, yesterday voted unanimously to place the proposition, calling for funds for recreational and sanitary purposes, on the ballot.

The proposal is sponsored by the advisory committee of the board, headed by Brig. Gen. Abel Davis. A similar bond issue was defeated at last November's election. Supt. Charles G. Sauers of the preserves has urged a favorable vote on the bonds.

Payment of all remaining outstanding 1929 bills and those of 1930 up to March 15 was approved by the county commissioners. The bills, totaling $1,034,167, will be paid within a week, from the proceeds of the $2,500,000 deficiency bond issue authorized at the special session of the legislature, President Cermak said.

EX-ALDERMAN'S SON HELD AFTER WIFE IS SHOT

Milton Kummer, son of former Alderman Matthew H. Kummer of Evanston, was being held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon last night, following the shooting early yesterday of his bride of a year, Mrs. Lottie Kummer, 20 years old, in their apartment at 1730 Washington street, Evanston.

Kummer claims he was examining an old shotgun and that it was accidentally discharged, but Chief of Police William Freeman ordered him held, when, he says, he received information that neighbors had heard sounds of quarreling in the apartment preceding the shooting. Also a note was found signed by Mrs. Kummer, the police say, stating she was "going out riding," and asking her husband "not to get mad."

Mrs. Kummer staggered from the building with blood streaming from her face and shoulder. A load of shot peppered her from the top of her head to her waist. She was taken to St. Francis hospital. She is in a critical condition.

LEADER OF WETS IN WASHINGTON IS PRIMARY WINNER

Defeats Dry Incumbent for Congress.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Ralph A. Horr, who led the fight which put a wet plank in the state Republican platform recently, defeated John F. Miller, Seattle, First district Republican congressman for seven terms, latest primary election returns showed tonight.

Lin H. Hadley, veteran member of the house ways and means committee, candidate for his ninth term from the Second district, was ahead in the vote tally, while incumbents in three other congressional districts appeared to have been nominated.

Hadley was leading Payson Peterson, a newcomer who made a sensational campaign as leader of the young Republican element, 17,486 to 16,544.

Albert Johnson was assured of his tenth term in congress by defeating John T. McCutcheon in the Third district, 35,907 votes to 30,435.

Horr defeated Miller by 3,728 votes with 486 of 460 precincts in the Seattle area giving him 32,400 votes to 28,672 for Miller.

Senator Harris Ahead in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10.—(AP)—United States Senator William J. Harris piled up a lead for renomination with increasing returns from today's Democratic primary.

Returns from 83 of the 161 counties showed Harris leading in 81, while his opponent, former Gov. John M. Slaton of Atlanta, was ahead in only two, or a unit vote of 222 to 4.

There are 414 county unit votes in Georgia, 208 being necessary for a choice.

George H. Carswell was leading in the race for governor in 29 counties with a total unit vote of 80. John N. Holder was second with 22 counties, total unit vote of 58.

E. D. Rivers in 20 counties with 42 unit votes, Richard B. Russel Jr. in 17 counties, total unit votes of 42, and James A. Perry, 2 counties, total unit vote of 8.

Contest Looms in Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Prospects of a demand for a recount in the closely contested governor's race overshadowed the apparent defeat of Senator Cole L. Blease by James F. Byrnes today, as virtually complete unofficial returns were assembled from yesterday's runoff Democratic primary.

Olin D. Johnston, vigorous opponent of the state's $65,000,000 highway program, is considering a request for a recount.

On the face of returns from all but five small precincts out of 1,423, Johnston was 1,184 votes behind his fellow townsman, Solicitor Ibra C. Blackwood. The vote was: Blackwood, 118,407; Johnston, 117,213.

Senator Blease, for 42 years an active and often stormy figure in the state's political life, refused to concede defeat and would make no statement. With 1,398 boxes accounted for the vote stood: Blease, 115,044; Byrnes, 119,893.

Hunt Wins in Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 10.—(AP)—George W. P. Hunt won the Arizona Democratic gubernatorial primary for the eighth time. He defeated Frank H. Lyman by a plurality of more than 5,000 votes and will contest in the November election with Gov. John C. Phillips, Republican.

Returns from 301 complete and 80 incomplete precincts out of 502 in the state gave Hunt 19,548; Lyman, 14,625; Fred C. Colter, 1,977, and Andrew Bettwy, 5,088. Hunt's lead was increasing as outlying precincts reported.

Shaw and Costigan in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Their nominations conceded, George H. Shaw, Republican, and Edward P. Costigan, Democrat, tonight were running up greater leads over their opponents in yesterday's senatorial primary election.

Long's Majority Near 40,000.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 10.—(AP)—With only 72 scattered precincts over the state missing, Gov. Huey P. Long's majority over Senator Joseph E. Ransdell for the Democratic nomination to the United States senate stood at 38,005.

OHIO G. O. P. LEADERS FIND THEY MUST FACE DRY LAW ISSUE TODAY

Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Ohio Republicans found themselves tonight face to face with demands by leaders from Cleveland that prohibition be made an issue in the state convention tomorrow.

State Senator Joseph Ackerman of Cleveland said today that he and others aligned with him would not permit the convention to adjourn without raising the issue. Maurice Maschke of Cleveland, Republican national committeeman, declared in favor of a referendum on the prohibition question. He predicted a "new alignment of political parties" unless congress finds some way to submit the question to referendum.

In deference to United States Senator Simeon D. Fess, Republican national chairman, who will be the keynote speaker, Maschke will not express his views on the convention floor. Senator Fess has been entrusted with the task of drawing up the planks on national issues.

GOV. ROOSEVELT URGES REPEAL OF DRY AMENDMENT

Should Keep Dry States Dry.

"It is, therefore, clear to me that it must remain not only the right but the duty of the federal government to protect states which continue to prohibit the sale of intoxicants.

"Furthermore, I am positively saying that there must be some definite assurance that by no possibility, at any time or in any place, the old saloon can come back. Therefore, the control of any sale of any intoxicants should be wholly in the hands of the state or of state agencies.

"Finally, there should be definite recognition of the extension of home rule to the lower subdivisions of government—in other words, a recognition of the right of cities, villages or towns by popular vote to prohibit the sale of intoxicants within their own borders, even though intoxicants may be sold in other parts of the state through state agencies.

"So widespread in this state is the resentment against the results of the eighteenth amendment that the time has come to stop talking and to seek action."

WET NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR, SENATOR TO RUN FOR 2 JOBS

Concord, N. H., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Albert W. Noone, 84 year old Peterboro manufacturer, who furnished a problem to political experts by his unprecedented nomination in yesterday's primary as the Democratic candidate for the United States senate and the governorship, today said he would not yield either of the honors.

John G. Winant is the Republican gubernatorial nominee, winning a three cornered race, and United States Senator Henry W. Keyes was unopposed.

"I will stay in the field," Noone said, "because when I entered I intended to win both places. I want to go to the United States senate because I am dripping wet.

"If I am elected to the offices of governor and United States senator I do not intend to qualify as the latter until I have had a chance to serve in the governor's chair and put into effect some of my economy theories in legislation. For one thing I intend to turn back into the state treasury my pay checks as chief executive."

CRUSADERS TO MARSHAL WETS IN EVERY WARD

The Crusaders, an organization opposed to prohibition, yesterday announced plans for the formation of a semi-military organization to carry their cause against the drys. The Crusaders, now 30,000 strong in Chicago, propose to form battalions in every ward in the city.

Each battalion is to number at least 100 members, according to Col. Ira L. Reeves, former dry and now executive secretary of the Chicago division of the organization. While the Crusaders are following political subdivision lines they will continue to be nonpartisan, he said.

"At present the Crusaders are concentrating their efforts on the support of candidates for legislative offices, both state and national, who stand for the repeal of the Volstead act, the Jones law and the eighteenth amendment," Col. Reeves said. "It is expected that a true Crusader will take a recess from party affiliation until the prohibition question is settled."

ROB TWO DRESS SHOPS; LOOT $5,500.

Burglars yesterday broke into two dress shops. The Selma Frock shop, 4145 Jackson boulevard, lost garments valued at $1,500 and from the Blossom Frock shop, 4011 North avenue, 300 dresses valued at $4,000 were stolen.

BOARD RAISES ASSESSMENTS ON W. SIDE REALTY

Reversing its policy of the last two weeks, the board of assessors yesterday approved increases in the 1929 valuations on 54 parcels of west side real estate. Since the assessors began the hearings on assessment increases, recommended by their technical staff, they have steadfastly declined to confirm any raises, allowing the 1928 reassessment figures to stand. Their action caused Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals, to give warning that the underassessments would endanger the finances of the local governments. Yesterday the board ordered increases in the assessments on properties on Canal, Taylor, Harrison, and Forquer streets and Ogden avenue.

WETS CONSTRUE VOTE RESULT AS REBUFF TO DRYS

Discern Swing Against Prohibition.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Wet trends in several states in yesterday's primary contests gave satisfaction today to advocates of repeal or modification of prohibition. While it is recognized that there is no chance of overturning the heavy dry majorities in congress, the wet leaders believe that the sentiment shown in the primaries will mean further gains in the November election.

An apparent weakening of dry support in states represented by the recognized prohibition leaders of the senate and house was a cause of particular gratification to the wets.

The outstanding upset for the drys was the apparent defeat by a narrow margin of Representative Louis Cramton [Mich.], regarded as the official Anti-Saloon league spokesman in the house. Representative Cramton, who hitherto has had an easy time obtaining renomination in his district, appears tonight to have been defeated by Jesse P. Wolcott, a wet, by 125 votes.

An error in the earlier tabulations had given the victory to Crampton by 75 votes. A recount will be necessary to officially determine the winner.

Hudson's Defeat Decisive.

The overwhelming defeat of Representative Grant M. Hudson, Mr. Cramton's dry colleague on the Michigan house delegation, was hailed with satisfaction by wet leaders. Mr. Hudson has been scarcely less active than Mr. Cramton in his advocacy of dry legislation.

Renomination of Senator James Couzens by the Republicans in Michigan was regarded by the wets as a favorable sign, as Senator Couzens is mildly wet, while his opponent, former Gov. Chase S. Osborn, is dry.

It was also pointed out that Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash.], author of the Jones "five and ten" law and Anti-Saloon league leader in the senate, finds his position of political leadership in his state threatened as a result of sweeping victories by the wets in contests over nominations of members of the Washington state legislature and of congress.

His Wet Foes Triumph.

Over the protest of Senator Jones, who will be up for reelection two years hence, Republicans nominated yesterday for the legislature will join with the Democrats in proposing repeal of the state prohibition enforcement act. Defeat of Representative John F. Miller, veteran dry member of congress from the Seattle district where Senator Jones resides, also was a rebuff for the senator as well as for the prohibition cause.

Mr. Miller's successful opponent, Ralph A. Horr, has been active in behalf of the wet plank adopted by the Republican state convention in Washington.

Nomination of George H. Shaw by Colorado Republicans for the Phipps seat in the senate was a major defeat for the Anti-Saloon league. Shaw had been branded by the league as "unsatisfactory," while his opponent, William V. Hodges, was indorsed.

Some Comfort for Drys.

The drys probably have obtained a more dependable supporter in former Representative James F. Byrnes, who defeated Senator Cole Blease for the Democratic senatorial nomination in South Carolina. Senator Blease boasted that he voted dry because his constituents wanted him to do so, but that he took a drink when he felt like it.

PADLOCKS ARE USED BY WASHINGTON DRYS IN ATTACK ON BOOZE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Prohibition agents, trying to stem the flow of illicit booze in the capital, have caused the padlocking of property worth $394,000, the results of a local survey revealed today.

The survey was conducted by Rufus S. Lusk, Inc., and published in the Washington current business review received by Washington real estate and business men. Statistics used were compiled from records of the District of Columbia tax assessor and the United States district attorney's office.

Padlock proceedings in the last few years have been concentrated in Illinois, where 2,726 places, most of them in Chicago, were closed in the 12 months ending March 31, 1930.

FOUR WETS WIN FOR CONGRESS IN MICHIGAN POLL

House Dry Chief Cramton Among Losers.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Representative Louis C. Cramton, dry leader in the house, was defeated by Jesse P. Wolcott, a wet, for the Republican nomination for congress in the 7th district in yesterday's primary election, according to complete unofficial returns.

Three other wet candidates for G. O. P. congressional nominations, one of whom was State Senator Seymour H. Person, who defeated Grant M. Huelson, a dry, also won. Senator James Couzens, a moderate wet, was renominated over former Gov. Chase S. Osborn, a bone dry.

Wilbur M. Brucker, attorney general, won the Republican nomination for governor over former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck. With returns in from all but 22 of the state's precincts, the count was: Brucker, 367,598; Groesbeck, 359,068.

Person Has Big Lead.

Person's victory, won by some 21,000 votes, according to nearly complete returns, was in the 6th district, which includes part of Detroit and is the most populous district in the nation.

The vote for Person in this district, as well as in the 1st, where Robert Clancy, a wet, won by a two to one margin, and in the 13th, where Representative Clarence McLeod, also a wet, was victorious by more than four to one, was construed as virtually sounding the death knell of the Anti-Saloon league, for it had supported the dry opponents of the victors.

Parts of Detroit are included in each of the districts where the wet candidates triumphed.

The following Republican representatives were renominated:

Earl C. Michener, Second district; Joseph L. Hooper, Third; John C. Ketcham, Fourth; Carl E. Mapes, Fifth; Bird J. Vincent, Eighth; James C. McLaughlin, Ninth; Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth; Frank P. Bohm, Eleventh; W. Frank James, Twelfth.

Frank Murphy, former judge of the Recorder's court, was elected mayor of Detroit yesterday. He will succeed Charles Bowles, recalled July 22, but holding office in the interim.

Hudson Issues Statement.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Defeated for renomination by State Senator Seymour Person, a wet, Congressman Grant Hudson, former Anti-Saloon league superintendent, issued a statement here today charging that the lavish use of money in the closing days of the campaign accounted for the success of his opponent.

CHOIR LEADER REPORTS WIFE AS KIDNAPED

Milton M. Pollack, choirmaster of the Fullerton avenue synagogue, yesterday asked police to search for his wife, Eva, 26 years old, and their daughter, Beatrice, 6 years old, charging that they had been kidnaped by a Brooklyn resident. Pollack came here recently from New York with his family and took rooms at the Milshire hotel, 2525 Milwaukee avenue.

Pollack told police his wife had left twice before and had been seen with Hyman Goldberg, alias Jimmy Rich, alleged Brooklyn bootlegger. He reported he saw his wife meet Goldberg Tuesday in the hotel lobby. After the meeting his wife returned to their rooms and later went to the lobby alone, saying she would return immediately. Pollack insisted her disappearance was not voluntary.

KASKEL KASKEL DUNLAP

What constitutes a "smart hat" is largely a point of view. Houston Street has one idea—Broadway is apt to be different. The younger business men who are largely the buyers of Dunlap Hats tolerate no extreme styles. They get all this in a Dunlap Hat with the added satisfaction of knowing that its splendid quality will more than last its allotted time.

ACCUSE BRITISH OF MASSACRING INDIA NATIVES

Peshawar Probe Report Seized by Police.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, Sept. 2.—[By air mail to Paris.]—Charges that the firing by British-Indian troops on a mob at Peshawar April 23, which resulted, according to the government announcement, in 20 killed and 30 wounded, was in reality a massacre, in which at least 125 unarmed nonviolent persons were shot down and killed in cold blood by British armored cars and troops, are contained in a report just issued by the Peshawar inquiry committee. The committee was headed by V. J. Patel, for the last five years president of the Indian legislative assembly.

The report further alleges that a reign of terror has held sway over Peshawar since the shooting in which "the life, liberty and property of no one in Peshawar" are safe. It divulges that "mail fisted" rule led to a fresh outbreak on May 31, hitherto unreported, when military forces again opened fire on the people, killing ten and wounding 22.

Suppress "Masacre" Report.

The Patel report was officially proscribed this week under the new press ordinance on the grounds that it "contains words which are likely to bring hatred or contempt of the government."

Every copy of the report has been declared forfeited, and raids have been conducted throughout the land on Nationalist headquarters to seize copies already circulated. Over 700 copies have been confiscated by Bombay police.

I have been able to obtain a proscribed document, however, and present herewith a summary of its contents, not as an absolute and final truth, perhaps, but as a people's version of the shooting of a large number of their own members in Peshawar last April.

What the British Charge.

Since the report was written Peshawar and the northwest province have been placed under martial law and foreign newspaper men are not allowed there, and all news from the district comes by way of government communiques.

It is the government's contention that troops and armored cars fired on the populace of Peshawar on April 23 only after an infuriated mob had stoned officials, wounding a deputy commissioner, killing a British dispatch rider, setting fire to an armored car and generally threatening the trops with iron rails, axes and sticks. The official communique first placed the number of dead at 12, but later admitted that 20 were killed.

The Patel report denies the government allegations and finds that there was no riot to justify the firing; second, that the people had no arms of any kind and were absolutely nonviolent, and had begun to disperse when the firing began; third, that, even before the firing started, armored cars rode into the crowd, killing and wounding 14, and that 125 known persons were shot down and killed.

The Indian Version.

The report then described the alleged repression carried out by the military in the northwest province, culminating in fresh firing May 31.

"The military opened fire without the slightest justification, on people who were in the act of burying two children, shot by a British soldier accidentally," the report reads. "The result of this firing was ten killed and 22 wounded."

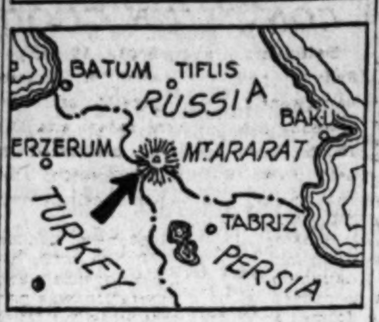
The report concludes with a description of the "reign of terror" in Peshawar, which "became a forbidden land to the outside world. To screen ugly happenings from the public, it was isolated from the rest of India, and no public leader was allowed to go there to see things for himself and expose the abuses of the administration. Congress volunteers were subjected to ruthless persecution, and a large number were jailed. Persons wearing Gandhi caps were stripped naked and beaten."

No Invitation for Gandhi.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The India office tonight announced the list of invitations to Indian delegates to the London round table conference in October. The list totals 70, sixteen princes and ministers of Indian states and 54 leaders in British India. Mahatma Gandhi, civil disobedience leader; the Nehrus, Patels, and Mrs. Sairojini Naidu, the "holy man's" aids, have not been invited, nor have any Indians associated with the civil disobedience drive.

HUNDREDS SLAIN



ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 10.—(AP)—An announcement here tonight said fighting between Turkish forces and the Kurds on Mount Ararat continued. The report said the Kurds left hundreds of dead on the field, and the Turkish soldiers were rounding up scattered bands. The Turks lost forty killed and some wounded.

PILSUDSKI JAILS POLITICAL FOES; WARSAW RIOTS

Accuse Dictator of Plot to Grab Election.

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Shouting crowds milled in the streets today as Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, prime minister, minister of war, and "strong man" of Poland, began a political struggle with the opposition party in the chamber of deputies.

The first round was taken by Marshal Pilsudski, who caused the incarceration of former Premier Witos and seventeen former deputies in the parliament. Political observers said this coup tended to paralyze the opposition's campaign in the elections set for Nov. 16. They said the opposition would speedily be rendered helpless if such arrests continued.

Protest in Vain.

At first the opposition was stunned by the blow, but they recovered speedily. They first protested to the minister of justice that the arrests were illegal, inasmuch as the law permits such incarcerations only by order of the court. The minister replied that he was sorry, but could do nothing because the authorities had gone over his head in the matter.

Failing in this move, members of the opposition began public protests in Warsaw's streets. Small crowds paraded, singing radical songs and shouting "Down with Pilsudski." Preparations were started for a big demonstration to be staged next Saturday.

Among Those Arrested.

Among those arrested were the organizers of the summer opposition congress in Cracow, at which resolutions were adopted attacking Marshal Pilsudski. The government began investigation on the theory that these resolutions were revolutionary, but parliamentary immunity of the deputies saved them from arrest for the time being.

Nip Plot to Wreck Train.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Sept. 10.—Ukranian terrorists are charged with attempting to wreck the Lwow-Bucharest express train tonight by placing several large stones on the rails outside of Lwow. The vigilance of the engineer saved the train. Numerous Ukranians have been arrested.

First Gasoline Tax Paving to Be Laid in 95th Street

A permit for the paving of 95th street between Cottage Grove and Yates avenues was issued to the county yesterday by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe. The pavement, according to Wolfe, will be the first one laid in Chicago with the aid of gasoline tax money.

Morning . . . and your Mouth

Heed the warning of "UNCLEAN TASTE"

Over night "Unclean Taste" comes like a blight. A dry, stale, musty sensation makes you unpleasantly aware that your mouth has been asleep—inactive for many hours. That is why every mouth each morning demands a thorough cleansing. Merely brushing the teeth and rinsing with water is not sufficient. Your mouth needs the special, hygienic care of GLYCO-Thymoline—to refresh it and restore clean taste.

GLYCO-Thymoline is different. An alkaline solution, without "stinging" or "shrinking" effect, it flushes out food particles from between the teeth, expels dry mucus from the mouth tissue and neutralizes harmful acids.

Do not confuse GLYCO-Thymoline with highly flavored mouth washes that merely replace one taste with another. Too, GLYCO-Thymoline deodorizes, not merely disguises your breath. Also relieves irritated throats and husky voices. A morning necessity.

Physicians and Dentists have prescribed GLYCO-Thymoline for over 30 years. They will tell you your mouth wash should be alkaline! Use it daily when you brush your teeth—and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. Today—make it a point to ask your nearest druggist for "GLYCO."

LEAGUE OPENS SESSION; PEACE IS THE BIG ISSUE

Nations Differ as to How It Should Be Achieved.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

GENEVA, Sept. 10.—The eleventh annual session of the league of nations assembly opened today. The meeting is expected to last at least two weeks and essentially will be a fight over peace.

Other vital matters such as the removal of tariff barriers, the world economic crisis, and the opium question, will figure in the agenda as adopted today, but all will be overshadowed by the question of war and peace in its various aspects. Everybody wants peace, but nearly everybody seems to have a different idea of how to go about securing it and is willing to fight for his idea.

The Various Viewpoints.

Foreign Minister Briand of France favors a European federation to end war. The British insist that disarmament and the preservation of the league's authority come first. The Germans consider real peace insecure until the treaty of Versailles is revised. The Italians look on the French demands for naval superiority in the Mediterranean as a serious menace.

Instead of the dingy old Reformation hall, the assembly is meeting this year in the spacious, handsome Electoral building. In contrast with its elegant stone exterior, the meeting hall is partitioned with beaverboard and paneled with unpainted pine, with a billowing white cloth for a ceiling. The rows of delegates' benches look like folding camp stools. Red carpets are laid in the aisles, and big printed signs on the walls complete the picture. The first glance suggests a strange combination between a circus, a revival meeting, and a championship prize fight. Only the sawdust is lacking.

"Big Shots" Present.

All the "big shots" of international diplomacy were on hand this morning waiting for the bell. There was M. Briand, with his shaggy head close to his shoulders. There was Arthur Henderson of Great Britain, with pouchy eyes and an expressionless face; Julius Curtius of Germany, round and determined; the inscrutable Matsudaira of Japan, and Chancellor Schober of Austria.

The opening of the assembly was somewhat overshadowed by the hurried departure of Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister for Rome. Considerable mystery attached to his sudden departure. He made no explanation. It was rumored that he had incurred the displeasure of Premier Mussolini and rushed back to try to keep his job.

In the meantime conversations regarding the naval question are going on between Rene Massigli, the French expert, and the Italian expert, Augusto Rossi.

Admits Peace Is Far Off.

Retiring president Cesar Zumata of Venezuela opened today's proceedings. Señor Zuemeta frankly admitted that the cause of peace had made little progress during the past year, despite the league disarmament commission and the naval conference. He declared that the international situation is in every way threatening. Even in the field of social and humanitarian work, he continued, the league had not "completely exhausted the program."

Nicholas Titulesco, former Rumanian minister to Great Britain, was elected president. The rest of the day was devoted to routine work—picking committees and selecting vice presidents. There was some skirmishing for the vice presidential posts, the successful candidates being M. Briand, Mr. Matsudaira, Mr. Henderson, Herr Curtius, Señor Quinones de Leon, Spanish ambassador to Paris, and Costa du Rals of Bolivia.

650 MILLION DOLLAR FLEET WILL BE PUT UP TO THE PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Prospects are that President Hoover will be asked to approve a revised naval construction program which would require an annual expenditure of 125 millions over a five year period if all ships included were completed or laid down before the London treaty expires.

Preliminary work on the navy's revised program, now being made as a result of the passage of the London treaty, has disclosed that it will require a minimum of 650 millions to finance the war ship construction needed to bring the fleet up to the treaty tonnage limits. Completion of all the 150,000 tons of destroyers which could be replaced under the treaty would raise the cost of the program to close to a billion dollars.

Thus far the President has given no indication as to whether he intends to support legislation which would give the United States a treaty navy.

SENATOR ALLEN IS OPERATED ON; CONDITION GOOD

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas underwent a major operation at Johns Hopkins hospital here today, and Dr. Hugh H. Young, who performed it, said it was entirely successful and that the patient was in excellent condition.

Senator Allen arrived here Monday from his home at Wichita with his daughter, Henrietta, his physician, and a nurse. A minor operation was performed at Wichita last week but failed to relieve the glandular disorder from which he suffered.

The second operation was decided on, it was said at his home, when the senator expressed a desire "to go through with it and get it over."

Senator Allen was in a hospital at Wichita two weeks before he was brought here, following his return from a vacation trip to Mexico City.

ALBERT STARTS FIGHT TO BREAK TWO "L" LEASES

Charges Waste in Rental of Suburban Tracks.

Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d] yesterday began the submission of evidence before the Illinois commerce commission in support of his petition requesting the cancellation of leases under which the elevated lines operate trains to Niles Center over the tracks of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad and to Westchester over the track of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin.

Ald. Albert charged that the elevated company has paid a total of $2,728,391 in rentals to the two railroad companies in the last five years. He said that this amount is equal to more than one-half the interest on the $18,563,000 debenture bonds in default since 1924.

Figures Rental in Interest.

"The $243,634 rental paid by the elevated lines to the North Shore in 1929 amounts to the 7 per cent annual interest charge on more than $3,400,000," testified Ald. Albert. "On the concellation of this lease, therefore, the elevated will increase its net earnings thereby to an amount sufficient to provide the interest on over $3,400,000 new capital for extensions and improvements."

Records of the elevated company were produced by Albert showing that in 1927 the gross receipts from its three suburban branches amounted to $713,862, which is $114,550 more than the $599,282 in rentals paid for operation over leased tracks of two of the suburban routes.

"If operating and other expenses for conducting the rural business to Niles Center and Westchester can be estimated at 50 per cent of the rentals then it is evident that the elevated suffers severe losses on account of these unnecessary rental contracts," Albert said.

Asks Dividend Restoration.

A supplemental petition will be filed by Albert with the commission next Monday when the hearings are resumed. This petition, Albert said, will ask the commerce commission to order the directors of the elevated lines to restore to their treasury the sum of $371,846 which he said is the amount of dividend payments to Dec. 31, 1929. He charged that these payments were made out of the capital account which he declared is illegal procedure.

Attorneys for the North Shore and the Aurora and Elgin railroads sought to have Albert's petition dismissed on the ground that a private citizen cannot file one with the commission. Albert then asked that he present his facts as a friend of the commission and was ordered to proceed with his testimony by Robert Farrell, assistant commissioner.

STATE ST. WIDENING NEEDED FOR SUBWAY, BUSINESS MEN TOLD

The widening of State street and the construction of the new State street bridge across the main channel of the Chicago river are necessary before the subway can be constructed, members of the North Central Association of Business Men and Property Owners were told yesterday.

Maj. R. F. Kelker Jr., chief engineer of the subway project, addressing the members of the association at a luncheon at the Virginia hotel, said: "If there is a delay in the street improvement it will be reflected in the subway construction. The street improvement depends on coöperation of all property owners in the city."

Paul Schioler, city bridge engineer, spoke of the new Wabash avenue bascule bridge in the world. He said it would be ready for traffic by December.

100,000 GREET GRAF ZEPPELIN ON MOSCOW VISIT

MOSCOW, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin today paid her first official visit to the soviet capital. She arrived at noon and was greeted with red flags flying and bands playing proletarian airs. After a brief visit she left for Germany again.

The veteran dirigible, which on her round the world flight last summer sailed across Russia from east to west, was speeded by a tail wind during the twenty-seven hour flight from Frederichshafen, Germany.

After circling low over the city and twice dipping over the ancient Kremlin in tribute to the chiefs of the Red republic, the Graf came down on October field. About 100,000 holders of special tickets had been waiting for her there since early morning. A detachment of 250 Red soldiers held the dirigible while Dr. Hugo Eckener descended and was greeted by high Russian air officials. Mail was dropped and more was taken aboard.

After an exchange of greetings and courtesies Dr. Eckener climbed on board again. The Graf rose, once more circled over Moscow, and headed for Friedrichshafen.

Fire Destroys Chinatown of Batavia; $1,608,000 Loss

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Fire today destroyed the entire Chinese quarter at Pontianak, Borneo. Many shops were burned to the ground. Damage was estimated at 4,000,000 guilders [about $1,608,000].

CHARMING MAJOR OF TAKING WAYS GUEST OF POLICE

Much Sought, but for Various Reasons.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Edward Bedell, 41, who is known to the social world as an army air corps major and to the police as a man wanted in many cities, had a cell in a police station here tonight. He was arrested today because his "sergeant" made an error.

Bedell admitted posing as an army officer for more than a year and told police he was wanted "in about as many cities as you can name offhand."

His living—and it has been an expensive one—has been at the expense of members of exclusive golf and polo clubs and hotel owners. His cars, he said, were "stolen merely as a matter of course."

Equips Self with Orderly.

Being an officer, Bedell decided in Philadelphia five months ago he should be equipped with a "non-com" as an aid. Harry Thomas, a lightweight fighter of some note, received the position. Bedell provided the uniform.

During the months that followed "The Major" and "The Sergeant" were royally entertained. "The Major," who described himself as "a fair polo and golf player," said country and polo clubs in various cities staged a miniature war for the privilege of entertaining him.

Nabbed Robbing Y. M. C. A. Locker.

Last week Thomas came to St. Louis to map out a campaign for the two. He made the mistake of rifling a Y. M. C. A. locker and was arrested. Police found a letter telling of Bedell's arrival.

Bedell, a world war pilot, in addition to admitting numerous motor car thefts and forgeries, told police he "borrowed a couple airplanes."

Federal authorities charged Bedell with violating the Dyer motor vehicle theft act, and bond was fixed at $25,000. Police of Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, New York, Youngstown, Philadelphia, and a score of other cities want Bedell. Both Bedell and Thomas likely will be charged with impersonating officers, police said.

Bedell served a two year sentence in a Canadian prison for forgery.

FATHER, JAILED 3 TIMES, BEATS BOY OF 8 AGAIN

Clarence Olsen, 31 years old, three times sentenced to the bridewell for beating his 8 year old son, Kenneth, returned to his home at 1916 North Rockwell street yesterday intoxicated and pummeled the boy so severely that he lost consciousness.

Coming home from work, Mrs. Florence Olsen, the mother, discovered father and son lying on the floor, Olsen in a stupor. She telephoned the Shapeapeare avenue police. Sergt. Frank Demieski arrested Olsen and lent Mrs. Olsen $5 to take Kenneth to the Children's Memorial hospital, where it was found he was suffering from a mastoid.

He will be operated on this morning by Dr. Albert Montgomery of the hospital staff.

French Admiral, Once in Cabinet, Commits Suicide

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Admiral Albert Huguet, attached to the French cabinet during the term of President Emile Loubet, committed suicide today. He was born in Paris in 1855.

WEIGH CHARGES AGAINST POLICE CAPTAIN AND AID

After hearing witnesses for a full day the police trial board yesterday took under advisement the cases of Capt. Joseph Goldberg and Sergt. John A. Belsky of the Albany Park station, who were suspended from the police department last month after they had been charged with beating Richard J. Jackson, a retired policeman. A decision is expected from the board this week.

Jackson was arrested by a police squad headed by Capt. Goldberg while he was attending a 41st ward Republican club party at 4430 Irving Park boulevard. Jackson was the only one taken from the party to the police station. He charged that Goldberg struck him and then ordered five policemen to continue the beating.

Both Goldberg and Belsky in their testimony denied that they had mauled Jackson. They testified that he was intoxicated and was abusive to the policemen when they arrived at the party. Another witness, J. H. Solberg, superintendent of the Illinois Free Employment office, testified that Jackson became "stormy" and used vile language to Capt. Goldberg.

POLICEMEN TIED TO TREES WATCH MOB HANG PAIR

Negroes Had Robbed a Store in Mississippi.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—While police officers, tied to trees, looked helplessly on, two Negroes were lynched by a mob between De Kalb and Scooba, Miss., today.

The Negroes, "Pig" Lockett and Holly White, charged with the robbery of a man and his wife on Highway 45 a few nights ago, were taken from De Kalb to Scooba to face trial.

Stop Auto with Prisoners.

The Negroes had been held in jail at De Kalb since the alleged robbery and officers who left with them for Scooba today were warned that sentiment was running high. A few miles out of Dekalb the automobile in which the prisoners and the officers were riding was stopped by the mob. Officers attempted to keep the mob back, but were overpowered.

The Negroes, terror stricken, were jerked out of the automobile and dragged to trees near the road. Ropes were produced and tied around their necks while the free ends were flung over limbs.

Victims Cursed.

Stirred to a frenzy and cursing the victims, members of the mob jerked the men off the ground almost before the ropes had been secured around their necks.

The Negroes were accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCoy. They were to have been tried in Judge Reynolds' court. The two Negroes, after robbing the couple, threatened to kill McCoy, the victim declared. They got $45 from the pair.

No shots were fired after the Negroes were strung up and the mob dispersed.

George Harrison, 36 years old, 5047 Kenmore avenue, a shoe machine salesman, shot and killed himself at the apartment of his estranged wife, Mrs. Josephine Harrison, 33 years old, 4236 Kenmore avenue, early yesterday.

He was found by Town Hall police lying on the floor of her apartment with a bullet in his brain early in the morning when Mrs. Harrison fled screaming to the street. She said he had several times tried to effect a reconciliation, but that she had refused to live with him again. After his visit yesterday, she said, he fired at her, missed, and then turned the gun on himself.

Capt. Hugh McCarthy of Town Hall station released Mrs. Harrison after questioning.

Euripides

Long before the Christian era this great Greek dramatist wrote: "Every man is like the company he is wont to keep." In 1930, these words still ring true. We say, "Keep company with such men as Sage, Roosevelt, Wanamaker, Greeley and Carnegie in real estate investment, and you need never fear any man's judgment." Land is the basis of all wealth.

CLERKS ACCUSE BANK HEAD AND GIRL CASHIER

Maywood Depositors See Trial Open.

A courtroom filled with depositors of the defunct People's State bank of Maywood attended the opening of the trial yesterday of Elmer P. Langguth, the bank's president, and Miss Lavina Lindgren, 25 year old cashier, in Judge Otto Kerner's court. Testimony, largely of a technical nature, was presented to the jury by the state regarding the $173,000 shortage in the bank's accounts.

Miss Lindgren wore no makeup on her face, which was partly shaded by the brim of a smart but conservative black felt hat, which enhanced her dark eyes. She wore low heeled pumps and black stockings and a black and white dress with white gloves. She might have been in mourning.

Chats When Jury Is Out.

When the jury was absent, Miss Lindgren chatted and laughed with Langguth and their attorneys, Frank Tyrrell and Eugene L. McGarry. When the jury was present, not a smile creased her pallid face. Occasionally, however, she leaned forward and whispered suggestions to Mr. Tyrrell as he cross-examined a witness. Langguth, who with Miss Lindgren is on trial on one of five charges against them—that of making false statements to a bank examiner—appeared unconcerned when Assistant State's Attorney Leonard Rice in the opening statement declared that if found guilty the defendants would face a sentence of from one to ten years.

Bookkeeper Is Witness.

Miss Florence Campbell, 1935 South Ash avenue, bookkeeper at the bank for three years before the crash, testified to "pulling" ledger sheets of depositors under Miss Lindgren's direction on Jan. 31, the day the bank examiners arrived. She said the sheets bearing the accounts of the larger depositors were taken from the ledgers and concealed in a rear room.

She also testified, on examination by Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller, that she had pulled ledger sheets on previous occasions and on further questioning said Langguth had directed her to do so on those occasions.

Under cross-examination by Attorney McGarry, she said, in reply to his question as to whether she were promised immunity for testifying:

"They questioned us at the bank and told us if we didn't answer all questions we would be indicted."

Miss Elsie Gordon, 1012 South 13th avenue, Maywood, a bank stenographer, told of forging the name of John Braeske to a $5,000 note at Langguth's bidding when the examiners were in the bank on Jan. 31.

F. A. Pope and Harrison Mathieson, bank examiners, testified to finding the forged note, false entries, and missing sheets from the depositors' ledger books.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION IS FILED AGAINST MAL S. DAUGHERTY

Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Mal S. Daugherty, former Washington Courthouse banker, will be filed in United States District court here tomorrow by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman on behalf of State Superintendent of Banks O. C. Gray, it was announced tonight.

The petition lists claims totaling $77,237.51, of which $52,100 is for promissory notes to the Ohio State bank of Washington Courthouse, now defunct, and $25,000 is for promissory notes to the Peoples and Drovers bank, Washington Courthouse, now defunct.

Daugherty was president of the Ohio State bank. He is a brother of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty.

FIGHT TO OBTAIN $75,000 INVOLVED IN LAVINE CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—A three cornered legal fight to obtain possession of $75,000 extortion money began today before Federal Judge Paul McCormick.

The three claimants to the money included Morris Lavine, former reporter for the Hearst Morning Examiner, who recently was convicted of attempted blackmail in connection with a promised series of newspaper arrticles. Another chairman is Charles Crawford, Los Angeles politician, who entrapped Lavine and who handed the $75,000 to the ex-reporter.

The third claimant is a brokerage firm, which seeks to secure part of the money as a reimbursement for losses sustained in the $30,000,000 collapse of the Julian Petroleum company. It was the "inside" of the Julian scandal which Lavine promised to relate in newspaper articles. The $75,000 was used as evidence during Lavine's trial and conviction in Superior court.

Llama Cloth Coats

With Beaver, Wolf and Kit Fox

With the realization that llama cloth is too luxurious a fabric to be confined entirely to the sports mode come these coats—with a new feeling. For with lavish use of soft furs (in keeping with the texture of the soft, deep-pile fabric) and with lines which are fitted and flared, they emulate the more formal coat in an informal way.

Brown and tan coats are trimmed with wolf, blue and tan ones with beaver, and oxford coats with kit fox. Those sketched are only two of several styles which come in misses' and women's sizes.

RACKETEERING.

The appeal of the chief justice of the Criminal court to the new grand jury strikes at the worst evil in the community. Less conspicuous and dramatic, and therefore less generally known, the racket is a more destructive and subversive phenomenon than the spectacular crimes of the underworld. It is a worse evil because it is an invasion by criminal methods of respectable industry and is not confined to the no man's land of the outlawed traffic in liquor. It is the worst development of organization for criminal violence, threatening employers and employés and peaceful citizens of all classes.

No self-respecting or self-regarding community can afford to tolerate racketeering, which nullifies the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness and imposes the jungle law of tooth and fang upon a society of law and order. If it is tolerated it will spread, as in fact it has been spreading, and there is no duty before the authorities of the law or before the citizen more imperative than to destroy it.

The duty does not belong to public authorities only, to the police, the prosecuting officials, and the courts. It belongs equally to the citizens. Juries must act with vigor and courage. Civic and business organizations must coöperate. Individual employers must do all possible to produce the evidence necessary for legal action and must resist racketeering activities. Conscienceless employers are said to have made use of racketeering to injure competitors. They should be exposed and if possible punished. There should be a concerted and persistent war upon criminal methods, and the respectable leadership and rank and file of organized labor should take a leading part in it.

The issue raised by racketeering is precisely that "maintenance of the primary safeguards of life and property against organized criminal assaults" to which Chief Justice Hughes referred in his address before the American Bar association. It is fundamental to civilized order, to our security, our prosperity, and our self-respect as citizens. Racketeering must be destroyed. It is a threat and a disgrace to the city and its people.

A CHILEAN STATESMAN DISCUSSES US.

In contrast to the unfriendliness that has been shown toward us in Argentina during the régime of Yrigoyen are the views of one of the ablest and most discerning of the representatives of foreign nations accredited to the United States, the Chilean ambassador, Don Carlos Davila. A journalist and publicist of note, Don Carlos has traveled in this country with both open eyes and an open mind, and his interpretation of American social, economic, and political institutions and conditions not only is refreshingly free from prejudice but reveals a rare understanding of realities.

One of the obstacles to understanding between South and North America is that the education and therefore the preconceptions and viewpoint of South American intellectuals is European. They are still to a great extent imprisoned in the past and have not yet evolved an indigenous American thought. The North American very early began to think as an American and this has been a most potent factor in his alert and resourceful development of the opportunities of a new world and a new epoch. The lure of old world culture has dominated intellectual life in South America, and while this has given a great deal of charm to South American culture, it has been a deterrent to the development of the possibilities of American conditions. In Señor Davila we have an impressive example of what the strong and lucid mind of the Spaniard will produce when it is free from old world preoccupations and is directed vigorously to the conditions of our western world under the inspiration of its creative spirit.

An illustration of Señor Davila's thought is offered in a notable address he delivered at Santiago in July. Space limitations forbid as generous quotation as the address deserves, but we reproduce a part of his discussion of North American civilization, a misunderstanding of which is the greatest deterrent of those relations of understanding and coöperation which ought to exist between North and South America.

"North Americanism," said Señor Davila, "presents itself before the world as a fact which it is necessary to consider with realistic and dispassionate judgment. It is futile for the older civilization to resist it. The warning diffused in books and reviews is sterile because North Americanism is not only an economic reality but is also a cultural reality. North America not only has created methods of production; it not only has brought into being characteristic systems of organization; it not only produces and sells. It has done more than that. It has created a manner of living. And side by side with its statistics of production, its manufactures, its banks and its stock exchange movement, it exhibits also the portentous figures which describe its cultural activity and reflect the idealistic inquietude of the American spirit. This last aspect is the one which especially must not be lost sight of in seeking to appreciate the general program of North American life, because both are inseparable, dependent and complementary the one to the other. Those fabulous figures of production and the like would be impossible without those which in a synthetic summary I will give as a résumé of the cultural effort of the United States . . . . Long ago the North American comprehended that action is quite as important as thought. The North American philosophers used abstract speculation, but constituted themselves makers of methods and spiritual adapters of the tendencies and models to which the American atmosphere was giving birth. Nietzsche admired in Emerson this passionate intoxication in the presence of life and action. Emerson would have nothing to do with worries and useless preoccupations. The North American was then face to face with hostile nature and had to overcome it. Thus activity and labor became the essence of the religion and philosophy of the American. An immense land stretched itself before the man of the north to be dominated and reduced to his ideas. What were needed were time and labor. The man accelerated the first and gave the second. He then needed time to think and time for the recreation of his soul, like a man who by his own labor has made a fortune and now disposes of a full day of liberty for enjoyment and meditation."

After an able analysis of recent developments in industrial accomplishments and industrial relations in the United States with special reference to Chilean conditions and opportunities, Señor Davila concluded by an appeal to his countrymen which we hope for the sake of Chile's progress and prosperity will have the influence it deserves. "I do not ask," he said, "the workers of my country to form an opinion as to what this economic connection with the great republic of the north means for them, on account of anything I may say; but I do ask them—invoking a life spent in promoting their welfare and the recognition of their right to a greater participation in the good things of life—that they try to form their own opinion on this matter, and do not allow themselves to be influenced by an atmosphere and a literature founded on facts and acts of the past, of which no vestige remains in the United States of today."

LAKE MICHIGAN AND THE MISSISSIPPI DEVELOPMENT.

Five stern wheelers and a score of barges tied up at the wharf at St. Louis are eloquent testimony to the vital importance of the Illinois waterway in the whole scheme of water transport development in the midwest. These craft are immobilized because there is not water enough in stretches of the lower Mississippi to float them. The situation produced by the drought has merely presented in dramatic form factors in the problem of our chief inland waterway development which are basic, and no sound solution can be achieved if they are ignored.

These factors are not eccentric or so exceptional as to be negligible, but must be dealt with in any comprehensive planning. They have always been present, but they have been obscured and ignored as long as it was possible. The shipping interests and the politicians controlled or influenced by them, determined as they have been and are to obstruct water transport development, have seen to that. Nature is now forcing the essential facts into the open and it is apparent to every fair mind that continuous modern navigation of the Mississippi cannot be insured without water from Lake Michigan.

The organized opposition to water transport has been aware of this, for it is fully supplied with information, but when the case for water flow was up for examination the testimony presented was carefully chosen to obscure the fundamental conditions and subserve the special interests of the opposition.

The problem is now presented with the overwhelming force of the essential facts and public policy cannot be perverted as it has been by a one sided and superficial presentation. Its sound solution is now possible, and the nation, if it will consider the vast benefit to be derived from it by American commerce and industry, not only in the Mississippi valley but throughout the whole continent, will insist upon the establishment of a policy of waterway development which will assure full use of all our resources and the fullest continuous efficiency of the system to be created. To spend hundreds of millions for the development of a Mississippi waterway without assuring an adequate flow from Lake Michigan where conditions require it would be worse than a blunder. It would be a crime against one of the greatest public projects in the history of the nation and against the people whose means are taxed to create it and whose economic interests are involved in its success.

DO YOU WANT TO BE A NAPOLEON?

[Brooklyn Eagle.]

A chest of forgotten medical papers, recently discovered at Napoleon's favorite retreat, the Chateau of Malmaison, throws considerable new light on the life of the great Bonaparte. Dr. Thooris van Borne, who has classified the data, thinks he has found the secret of Napoleon's "genius," which is explained as due to illness that prevented him from sleeping and drove him to excesses of concentration to overcome pain.

From the record it seems that Napoleon was abnormal as a child and suffered from ill health from his sixth year. At ten he developed asthma. Later he contracted tuberculosis. All his life he was wracked by fearful headaches, and much of the time he was tortured by indigestion.

Despite these ailments, it seems that Napoleon paid not the slightest attention to the advice of doctors or friends. He swallowed cracked ice when he had stomach attacks and insisted that he worked better when fired by fever. He always complained of cold and chewed peppermints by the bushel. He also consumed large quantities of licorice. He would go for days without food, then hurriedly bolt enormous meals.

In Egypt and Palestine he went for weeks with little or no food, but drank ten glasses of liquor a day. Back in France he drank forty cups of coffee a day. Once he took no food but milk for a month. Another month he ate nothing but meat. When lumps of ice failed to relieve his indigestion, he drank boiling hot chocolate. He persistently refused to take exercise and habitually locked himself in unventilated rooms.

It is Dr. van Borne's belief that much of Napoleon's tremendous energy came from his illness, which spurred him to almost superhuman activity. Whether this be the explanation, or whether his genius enabled Napoleon to rise above the handicap of ill health, we may never know. It is certain, however, that only an extraordinary person could have survived the afflictions and self-neglect Napoleon went through, to say nothing of duplicating his achievements.

BIRTH RATE IS DECREASING.

THE Swiss townspeople are committing race suicide. According to the official figures of the league of nations, for the last four years the birth rate of thirty Swiss towns has averaged 12. This is not high enough to maintain the population. The figures from 49 German cities make a showing that is but a fraction better. In Berlin the birth rate has been lower than the death rates for four years, in Munich the two rates were almost even, and in Hamburg and Leipsig they were not far apart.

That this is in part racial suicide is shown by the fact that Strassbourg, with a predominantly German population but under French economic conditions, has a birth rate that is about that of the death rate; it has the lowest city birth rate in France. The relatively high death rate of French cities offsets their slightly higher birth rates as compared with Germany. In English, Scottish, Irish and Dutch cities the birth rates, while falling steadily, are still above the death rates. In Chile, Egypt, India, Poland and Japan the birth rates in the cities continue at very high levels.

The trend in American cities is illustrated by that of New York. Twenty years ago the excess in the rates of births over deaths was 11; it is now 7. As the average age of the population increases, the immigration of high birth rate stocks decreases, and the proportion of women of childbearing age shifts, the birth rate will continue to decline. Meanwhile, the tendency of the death rate will be to run horizontal, or even to increase slightly. However, the birth rate will not reach the low level of the death rate in New York City during the next twenty years. This parallel of rates will be reached in certain stable cities in some of the older states within the next five years.

The tendency downward over all of American as well as western Europe, in cities and rural populations alike, seems to be irresistible as well as progressive. It is a direct challenge to health officers to concentrate on worth while activities and to desist from doing things that are of small consequence. There are two great groups of people that have high death rates. In both groups the tendency of the death rates is not downward. One of these is babies under three months of age; the other, people over fifty years of age.

HEARING VIA THE TEETH.

T. Y. sends a newspaper clipping about a device by which a deaf man may hear with his teeth. The device is plugged into a light socket or into special sockets at talkie theaters and one part of it is held against the teeth. He wants to know whether it has merit.

REPLY.

More than fifty years ago a hearing device calculated to send sound through the teeth was invented. It is still used somewhat. As I understand it, this inventor has taken some modification of the old device and adapted it for use in a talkie theater. My guess is that it will work very well in many cases. There are different types of deafness.

Whether the talkies will equip for this device remains to be seen.

PIN UP THE GARTERS.

M. T. G. writes: In re garters:

"What is good for a horse is good for a man." The famous driver, John Murphy, found the tape used to secure bandages sometimes worked injury to the tendons, so he cut off the tape and used safety pins. I followed suit, and one day when garters were constricting my legs I threw them aside and pinned the stockings to my drawers with safety pins. It worked admirably, and I have never worn a garter since.

RINGWORM TREATMENT.

I. R. writes: What is good for ringworm, or whatever you get at swimming tanks? It causes a terrible itching and scaling under the toes of my feet.

REPLY.

Among the remedies used for this purpose are sulphur, chlorstone, salicylic acid, and carbol fuchsin. These are on sale in drug stores under various names, principally as ointments. Some cases require expert medical care.

LANDLADY'S PROBLEM.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Two roomers owe their landlady several weeks' rent. They intend to disappear without paying, as they told another party who in turn told the landlady. She tried vainly to obtain a warrant against the roomers in the district town court. The roomers may change their names after they leave. Their personal belongings, if taken, would not cover half of what they owe. What can the landlady do to get her money? K. M.

We would advise her to employ a lawyer.

What has politics to do with this examination and why should temporary truant officers be kept working when this list is completed?

A CAVE WOMAN'S SOLILOQUY

I loitered through the museum and there
I saw, new-hinged with wire, tricked out for show,
The skull I had a million years ago;
The lipless thing grinned with a knowing air,
The eyeless sockets gave me stare for stare,
And, O my Sweet, the crown still holds the dent
You made that memorable morn you bent
The grid on it and left it grilled and bare!
How fashions change in skulls! We wore them thick
And sloping quickly backward from the eyes
When I was in my primal womanhood;
And did a lover bounce a playful brick
Upon his sweetie's sconce, it was but food
For happy laughter then. Ah me!
Time flies!

EDITHE GRASHOFF.

IN THESE days of baseball tenseness and queries on all subjects relating to the same, we have received a query asking the record for throwing a baseball which was prompted by the recent figures showing that a ball had been batted for a carry of 481 feet. The record for throwing is 426 feet 9½ inches, established by Sheldon Lejeune in an authorized field day meet at Cincinnati baseball park Sept. 11, 1910.

Our authority on such matters, H. P. Edwards of the American league, says what he believes was the longest throw ever made in a regular game was by Joe Birmingham, playing center field for Cleveland at St. Louis. Bobby Wallace was on third when the succeeding batsman hit a long fly to deep center. Birmingham dashed beyond it and came charging in so as to make the throw to the plate the second he caught the ball. Wallace was nipped at the plate, and the St. Louis manager was so astounded he engaged a surveyor to bring out a chain to measure the distance. It was found to be 386 feet. It need hardly be stated Wallace was as much astounded as his manager.

THERE will be a benefit boxing show at the Stadium tonight far more meritorious than most affairs of that kind. It offers, at prices of $1.10 to $5.00, Tony Canzoneri, who always has shown action in local appearances, and Billy Petrolle, in a ten round windup. The card justifies the price of admission. Profits, however, will go to found a trust fund for little Patricia Harmon, daughter of the late Paddy Harmon, whose realization of a life dream in building the Stadium exhausted his comfortable fortune. Paddy passed on before his venture became profitable and his stock holdings were without liquidating equity. So the show offers the usually sentimental sporting public not only an expected good bout but a cause as well.

IN CONSONANCE with our announced policy of faith, hope and optimism for better lines, the Wake-Line essayed our first golf since July 4 in the first season's match of the "Conversational Foursome." For readers not familiar with this foursome, etiquette demands that the other three players talk over the "knuckles" of the one attempting to putt, that the player finding a trap shall be greeted with "Nicely in," followed by "Good out" even if the pill is out only by decimals of a foot. A ball to the rough brings forth "That won't hurt you MUCH." This affair took place at the Old Mill Farm course of A. D. Lasker, where the groundkeepers were busy the following day replacing divots. Incidentally, this is a private course of 6,888 yards, meticulously maintained, and so uncrowded that Gasper, our caddy, whom we had known at Skokie, suggested we play the last nine first because there was already another foursome on the first nine. Well, our side finished "up," but it wasn't because of our 117 with 40 putts and a 12 hole. Our faith and hope were a bit chilled but our optimism persists. Our next exhibition of faith, hope and optimism will be at Lincoln Fields.

SKETCHES OF THE NEWS

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 11, 1914.

BERLIN, via Rome.—The retreat of the Germans who attacked the allied forces between Meaux and Montmirail in France yesterday is officially admitted. The retreat is attributed to the numerical superiority of the allies.

LONDON.—A Paris dispatch says: "In the haste of the Germans' latest retrograde movement many regiments of Germans have been cut off and remain in the wooded country within the triangle of Senlis, Gonesse, and Dammartin. It is believed that they amount in all to about one army corps. They have been cut off from the main body by the allies' line between Compiegne and Meaux, and their situation is precarious. Lagny and La Fere have been invested by the Germans and perhaps have fallen. It is not known what has happened at Reims."

PARIS. — This official communication was issued tonight: "On the left wing the British and French troops have crossed the Marne between La Ferte-sous-Jouarre, Charly, and Château Thierry, pursuing the enemy, who is in retreat. During the course of the advance the British forces took a number of prisoners and captured mitrailleuses. During the four days' battle the allied armies have gained in that sector about 37 miles. Between Château Thierry and Vitry Le François the Prussian guard has been thrown back. The action continues with great severity in the region between Camp de Mailly and Vitry Le François. On the Ornain and in the Argonne district the opposing forces are maintaining their positions. In the region of Nancy the Germans have made slight progress on the Château Salins road."

PETROGRAD. — This news was made public through official channels: "The Russian army, having occupied the position of the Austrians at Mikolajoff, south of Lemberg in Galicia, after incessant fighting for two days, undertook immediately, after allowing the men only two hours of rest, a night march for the purpose of attacking new positions occupied by the enemy."

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 11, 1900.

HOUSTON, Tex.—The tempest and floods which swept over Galveston and the coast country on Sept. 8 probably caused the greatest tragedy of the century. The dead of Galveston will number 1,000 and the number of dead in the coast country will not be known for several days. The property loss is incalculable. Galveston is practically in ruins, with between 4,000 and 5,000 buildings destroyed. Homeless people are walking the streets strewn with the storm dead.

CHICAGO.—Aid for the Texas flood survivors was asked of Chicago and Mayor Harrison issued a proclamation soliciting the assistance of citizens. A ready response came and nearly $4,000 was subscribed at once.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 11, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The nomination of Gen. Patrick for the state treasuryship of New York was received here with a howl of surprise and indignation by every man conversant with the administration of the provost marshal's department of the army of the Potomac. That officer has persistently, obstinately, and openly administered against the private soldiers of the Union army. He repressed and discouraged a vigorous prosecution of the war, fostered sympathy with the rebellion, and upheld slavery.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The agent of the Scotch Immigration company in Washington has succeeded in securing a 20 year lease on upward of 30,000 acres of bottom land on the James river, below Richmond. It will be taken possession of about the last of October by a colony of 300 Scotch agriculturists, who will make market gardening a specialty.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Freedmen's bureau has been informed that colored troops on duty at Harper's Ferry have been fired on lately by returned rebel soldiers, who stationed themselves on Louden Heights on the opposite side of the river and fired on them whenever opportunity offered. Gen. Howard has taken measures to stop the outrages.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FOR MORE ATTRACTIVE MEN.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Papers and magazines are running over with advice to women on how to keep young, how to be beautiful, how to win or keep a man's love, etc. Why not advise men similarly? I am quite certain that it is just as important that men should be attractive to win and keep woman's love as vice versa. Otherwise, why so many women suing for divorce?

Too many men after marriage are careless as to dress, shaving, little courtesies, etc., etc., yet these same men expect, even demand, that their wives be as charming in every way as before marriage. Let them set an example for their wives. Men, especially middle aged men, are far more prone to carelessness than are their wives. They are careless about their clothes, both as to cleanliness and general appearance. They slouch when sitting, thus promoting the development of an exaggerated waist line. They forget little courtesies, such as lifting their hats, standing when women enter, etc., etc. They form a habit of walking with shoulders slouched forward when it is just as easy to walk erect.

You can always tell when a man is getting old and losing his pep by just these little things. Physicians are fond of telling them they need sex rejuvenation. The silly men swallow that, hook, line and sinker; line some doctor's pockets with gold when, if they had paid attention to their own personal appearance and forgotten that such a thing as sex existed, they, their wives as well, would be far better off—healthier, happier, more intelligent. This sex rejuvenation blah has made fools of more men otherwise intelligent than any other one subject one can think of.

Let the middle aged men use his brains, read good books, pay attention to his appearance, manners, diet, postures. A middle aged man can be charming, if he will, to a degree that will challenge the younger man.

HIGH WATER.

QUEBEC, Sept. 5. — In traveling through the Thousand Islands yesterday in a launch, the captain said: "The St. Lawrence river is very high this year, over three feet higher than it ever has been. At least one hundred boathouses have been swept away and destroyed!"

Isn't that just too bad! Perhaps Chicago should pay for those because the water wasn't allowed to go down the drainage canal and help out the Illinois river!

We saw some of the 65 vessels unable to unload their grain at Montreal!

LILLIAN I. DANSKIN.

IT WOULD HAVE BEEN WORSE.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—L. M. H. tells us that starting school a week late will alleviate the present Labor day rush, and points out New York as an example. If the writer had taken the trouble to read the column next to the one telling of Chicago's woes he would have seen this: "The homeward rush of 2,500,000 New Yorkers from summer and Labor day vacations . . . taxed to the limit rail, water, bus, and air transportation lines . . . travelers moved in endless processions along all highways . . . lines of waiting automobiles extended for blocks." E. H. S.

RESPECT FOR LAW.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A car with paper license plates from Bellingham, Wash., ran into my car while my car was parked. A policemen held them and called me. There were two men and two women in the car and none of them had any money. We took them to the Chicago avenue police station and had them locked up. The men admitted they had been through three or four states with these girls in the last three weeks and were not related or married to them. They admitted being jailed for thirty days in Colorado for petty larceny and also that they still owed over $300 on the car and had not made a payment since last June.

I wired the dealer they bought the car from and he wired back he would pay the $20 damage to my car if I would hold the other car.

The trial came up before Judge John H. Lyle, who said he couldn't act as a collection agency for either me or the dealer, put the girls on probation, and dismissed the fellows after taking up a collection in the courtroom for them of several dollars and ordered an office to see that they got their car.

Where is the justice of telling me I'm just out of luck and taking up a collection for them? This is just another reason why I am losing respect for the law.

JAMES CRAWFORD.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—H. J. K. aptly states the school problem for many suburban communities. I was closing a real estate deal when I asked about schools. Upon finding a situation similar to that described I forfeited my deposit and thought myself lucky. The distance children have to go to school is keeping a lot of people from moving out of the more congested areas. I. E. J.

ANTIQUATED LAWS.

Palatine, Ill., Sept. 8.—H. J. K. is telling of his school troubles outlined the situation that many more find ourselves in. We are obliged to pay tuition for two children because we live twenty-five feet out of the district which has the only available school. The one which is supported by our taxes is a mile and a half away, beyond a three track railway and two busy highways, altogether inaccessible to little children.

The schools of Illinois operate under some queer old laws, among them those that retain the old district system. Illinois has failed in its pledge to maintain an adequate school system. It is time that a new system was put into operation; first to establish more good schools, and second to place them where they can be reached.

The schools should exist for the children. Schools which were arbitrarily placed in the center of school districts in the days when this was altogether an agricultural community are now ludicrously situated with regard to the new center of population.

ELIZABETH M. WOLFRUM.

HE GAVE UP THE FIGHT.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—If H. J. K. hopes to get out of his old school district he will die in despair, because the old district won't let go of him and his taxes until he does die. I know. I fought it out for four years and then I sold out and returned to Chicago, where my youngsters can go to school, even if the teachers do have to wait a long time for their pay.

ADVERTISING EXECUTIVES relate personal experiences in family buying

TRUE, she is the greatest Purchasing Agent in the world. Every day she buys 86% of all goods sold in retail stores.

But does this Modern Woman-of-the-Home, the American Housewife, perform her great task entirely alone?

In her busy winding through stores—testing, weighing values, choosing here and there—what influence sways her to this brand of fruit . . . that radio . . . this tooth paste . . . that refrigerator?

DOES she alone make the choice? Or do two or more members of the family contribute advice and opinions?

We put these questions to fifty-five advertising men. What was their day-to-day experience on family buying in their own homes?

The experience of one executive* is typical. He likes a certain brand of coffee. His wife buys it. Neither he nor his wife care for radio, but his charming young daughter does—and the family gets one. His wife wants a new car. He picks the make, she chooses the type. And daughter says something about its "style."

Everywhere the answers tallied. Father's likes and dislikes . . . daughter's whims . . . son's enthusiasms . . . consciously or unconsciously these are the determining influences in family buying.

This was true, not only for major purchases like pianos or refrigerators, but for small, distinctly personal articles like tooth paste, shaving cream and fountain pens.

And now, here's one more salient fact on family buying you can prove for yourself. Ask your friends or business associates or make a comprehensive survey on this question:—

WHAT magazine does your family as a whole read and like best? Which one the majority would vote to keep if only one magazine could come into the home?

In recent tests by leading advertisers The American Magazine was the overwhelming first choice, with a commanding lead over the magazine that ran second. We are certain that any test you make will confirm The American Magazine's dominance in family reading.

Advertisers today must realize that they are not doing a thorough job unless their story reaches the whole family.

Obviously the most effective and economical way to accomplish this is through the proven family favorite—The American Magazine. Every month it reaches the family purchasing agent and her entire staff of advisors in 2,200,000 American homes.

*ONE of fifty-five leading advertising men with whom The American Magazine has discussed family buying habits. Almost without exception, they agree that most buying is influenced by several members of the family.

The American Magazine urges you to make your own investigation. Ask yourself and your acquaintances, "How are buying decisions—from breakfast foods to automobiles—arrived at in your home?"

The American Magazine is the overwhelming favorite with the family as a whole. Many surveys have been conducted among thousands of families by advertisers, agents and research groups to determine family reading habits (details on request)—and they all point to this one fact: The American Magazine rates first with all the family.

They prove that, in The American Magazine, advertisers reach and vitally influence all the family.

IOWA PLOWMEN VIE FOR HONORS IN OLD CONTEST

Cherokee, Ia., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Vying for "King of Plowmen" honors in the 23d annual Pilot-Rock plowing match, twelve horse drawn plows plodded steadily through a field of golden stubble on the Clifford Chapman farm in Cherokee township today, turning up even rows of rich black loam. Tomorrow tractor drawn plows will compete. The contest, opening today, continues until tomorrow night when titles will be conferred by the judges. Visitors have been attracted from all sections of the state.

Plowing matches originated in Scotland and were started here in 1908 by a group of Scotch farmers migrating from Wheatland, Ill., the site of the only other plowing match in America. The contests have been held each year since by farmers of Pilot and Rock townships.

Although the Pilot-Rock plowing match assumes the proportions of a typical midwestern county fair, it is strictly a "home" product affair in that no concessions of any kind appear on grounds. Those who attend may saunter through the flower show, inspect the county's prize breeds of cattle, watch baseball games, read the news of the world as broadcast from the bulletin board of the county's daily paper or join the audience that lines the fence around the field where the plowing matches are in progress.

Wounded Broker Rallies After Nerve Operation

Morton J. Traub, La Salle street broker, who shot himself in the chest, apparently by accident, Monday morning at his home at 507 North Linden avenue, Highland Park, has a slight chance for recovery, his physicians said yesterday. Mr. Traub rallied after an operation on a nerve by Dr. Ray McNeally, a specialist, called upon by Dr. Karl Meyer, chief of staff at the county hospital and friend of Mr. Traub. The operation enabled Mr. Traub to breathe freely through his left lung, which had been constricted.

LEADERS OF FOUR CITIES BACK ROAD WIDENING PLAN

Will Ask Legislature to Provide Funds.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Public officials and civic leaders of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Silvis in a meeting here today developed opposition to the Chicago Motor club's program for road widening in northern Illinois but at the end of a heated two hour session adopted a resolution petitioning the 1931 general assembly to appropriate for the construction of a forty foot road from Chicago to this group of cities on the Mississippi river, a distance of 186 miles.

State Senator Martin R. Carlson of this district presided. He opened the discussion and he closed it with a talk that carried the resolution.

Carlson Urges Action.

"The state," he said, at the opening, "will soon complete the bond issue road systems. The legislature at its next session must appropriate for further developments of traffic facilities. I believe that much money will be needed to improve existing routes. I hope this meeting takes some action to express its desires."

James E. Bulger, director of the minor club, introduced a resolution for the widening of route 3 for five miles toward route 6, the Lincoln highway, which is about 50 miles north of Rock Island. The club's program calls for widening of No. 6, Roosevelt road, from Chicago through Sterling, 120 miles from Chicago.

Wants Secondary Roads Improved.

Mayor W. M. Slover of Silvis suggested that the improvement of the state highways within cities was a more urgent need than the widening in the rural districts.

"I'm being visited by many delegations," added Representative Clinton Searle, "folks who want secondary routes improved. I feel it is as important to get pavement to communities now isolated by mud as it is to care for through traffic."

"Let's not dodge the issue," Senator Carlson said in closing the meeting. "Forty foot arterial highways in Illinois are a thing of the near future. I'm satisfied that the communities that work for these wide roads will be the first to get them.

Adopt Resolution.

"I'm also satisfied that the policy of the present state administration will call for the widening of a transcontinental highway for the first forty foot road across the state. I'm convinced that route 6 will be the first cross state superhighway. Unless we want to be left on an 18 foot sidetrack, let's get behind the move for a four lane pavement connecting Rock Island with route 6."

A resolution introduced by Mauritz Johnson, president of the Moline Rotary club, was adopted.

WAR ON 'BOBTAIL' TELEPHONE BILLS GAINS IN SUBURBS

North Shore Towns Join Evanston in Protest.

Protests continued to pour into suburban officials yesterday against the sending of "bobtailed" telephone bills to subscribers by the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Mayor Charles H. Bartlett of Evanston took a hand in the situation during the day by promising support to William Lister, corporation counsel, who is preparing to file a protest with the Illinois commerce commission against the new policy of the telephone company.

To Ask League Coöperation.

Mayor Bartlett is president of the Illinois Municipal league, in which most of the mayors and village presidents in the state hold membership. He indicated he would invite the coöperation of that organization in the protest movement.

"Never before have I received so many letters of protest," said Ald. Herbert Simpson of Evanston.

Towns Aid Evanston.

Two north shore towns, Waukegan and North Chicago, in resolutions adopted at special council meetings yesterday, instructed their attorneys to join forces with Corporation Counsel Lister of Evanston.

Nick M. Keller, commissioner of public improvements of Waukegan, and Mayor Walter L. Atkinson of North Chicago declared that at least 75 factory owners of that territory were opposed to the omission from their phone bills of toll numbers called. Mayor B. F. Lewis of Highland Park and President O. J. McComb of the Lake Bluff village board announced that their communities are already coöperating with Mr. Lister.

SCHOOL BOARD TO APPEAL IN FIGHT OVER ATTORNEYS

By a vote of seven to one the board of education yesterday decided to carry to the Illinois Supreme court the fight dispute with James Todd, attorney for the board, over the right of the board to designate duties of law department employés. Mrs. Helen Heffernan, the only woman member, cast the dissenting vote. Todd, who declared he had become a figurehead through the board's delegation of important duties to his assistants, obtained a writ of mandamus in the Circuit court directing the board not to designate duties of assistant attorneys. The Appellate court upheld the decision.

MISSING JUDGE INQUIRY OPENED BY PROSECUTOR

Court Hearing Requested in Crater Case.

New York, Sept. 10.—[Special.]—A John Doe investigation of the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater, who has been missing since Aug. 6, was instituted today by District Attorney T. C. T. Crain, who asked Chief Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan to sit or appoint another magistrate to sit, at an open hearing to determine whether Crater is alive or has met with death.

The prosecutor suggested that the hearing start next Monday morning. At the same time an extraordinary grand jury, which will hear the charge that George F. Ewald purchased a magistrate's appointment from Tammany Leader Martin J. Healy will convene for its first session.

Foul Play Mentioned.

"The John Doe investigation," Mr. Crain said, "will have for its purpose the discovery of the circumstances attending the disappearance of Justice Crater and the ascertainment of the place where he is to be found, or in the event that he has met with foul play, the unearthing of the circumstances, the apprehension of the criminals and their prosecution."

Mayor James J. Walker today requested a special meeting of the board of aldermen for the purpose of appropriating a $5,000 reward to be given by the city to any one who can give information as to the whereabouts of Justice Crater.

The mystery of the disappearance of Justice Crater took another unusual turn today with the discovery that a $3,000 check, drawn on Judge Crater's account and supposedly indorsed by his personal attendant, Joseph Mara, may be a forgery.

Mara has told the police that he went to the bank on Aug. 6 and cashed two checks for Justice Crater —one for $2,150 and another for $500 —turning the cash over to the judge. He denied all knowledge of a $3,000 check, the stub of which was found in Justice Crater's check book.

Denies Check Signature.

Today the police came into possession of the cancelled $3,000 check. The check was indorsed with the name "Joseph Mara," according to Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan, was made out to "cash" and signed by Justice Crater. Mara denied that the signature was his and the check has been turned over to handwriting experts to determine the genuineness or falseness of the signatures.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Worse

LEONARD BUSBY FUNERAL RITES WILL BE TODAY

All Transit Cars to Halt One Minute.

Leonard A. Busby, the Chicago transit leader who died Tuesday after months of arduous labor to effect a settlement of Chicago's transportation problem, will be buried this afternoon in the Gary Memorial cemetery at Wheaton as he had requested.

At the hour of the funeral, the wheels of every surface and elevated car in the city will be stilled for one minute as Chicago pays a last tribute. Flags of many of the loop business buildings will be at half mast during the afternoon.

Although Mr. Busby had not maintained a residence at Wheaton, he passed most of his summers at the Chicago Golf club there and his associates said he was fond of the quiet suburb. He had requested particularly that he be buried among these familiar surroundings.

Private services will be held in the Busby residence at 420 Roscoe street at 2 p. m., with the Rev. James H. Durand of Wheaton officiating. The pallbearers, friends and associates of Mr. Busby during his career, will be Melvin A. Traylor, Britton I. Budd, John J. Abbott, Chauncey McCormick, Irving Allen, and Harvey B. Fleming.

Many messages of condolences were received at the Busby home yesterday, business and civic leaders of the city expressing their sympathy and lauding the untiring efforts of Mr. Busby toward a solution of the transportation problem.

Despite an illness of the last three years, Mr. Busby went forward with his work ignoring the physical strain that ultimately was to cause his unexpected death. His physicians ordered him to the hospital on Labor day for observation, finally decided that an operation was necessary for a gland ailment. He failed to rally after the operation, and died at 2:30 Tuesday morning.

PROHIBITION BREAKS LAWS OF NATURE IN VAIN, SCIENTIST SAYS

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The value of scientific study to the nation's political and economic life, including prohibition, was urged in the annual address tonight by the president of the American Chemical society, Dr. William McPherson of Ohio State university.

"Nature," he said, "makes no leaps. We have only to look about us for illustrations of the trouble that results from refusing to regard this method of nature. For many years there was a slow but gradual progress made in overcoming the evils of intemperance.

"Then we got in a hurry, and almost overnight, under stress of emotion and by vote of the people, we made a leap from a position in which a large percentage of our people could legally obtain liquors as a beverage, to one in which no one could legally do so. And many seemed to be surprised at the results.

"Now, having ignored this fundamental habit of nature, we find ourselves in a pretty fix. Whether to go on in the hope that somehow, in due time, natural processes will catch up with our attempt and come to our rescue, or whether to return to a former position and to reach the desired goal gradually but surely, is one of the most perplexing problems before the nation."

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

ELUDES WIFE NO. 1 IN TAXI FLIGHT WITH NUMBER 2

Deputy Sheriffs Trailing Model and Husband.

Deputy sheriffs last night were on the trail of Clifford Farwell, 24 years old, alleged bigamist and kidnaper. Farwell has been sought since Tuesday noon, when he fled with his present wife and her child from the courtroom of Superior Judge Gentzel, as a woman, claiming to be his first wife, and her two children, appeared unexpectedly.

Attorney Barnie Frankel, directing the hunt, said the fugitive, if caught, will be brought before Judge Gentzel this morning to face a number of charges.

Farwell's troubles started when he decided to adopt the illegitimate child of his present wife, Mrs. Helen March Farwell. The baby, Dolores Irene March, 18 months old, has for the last five months been cared for by Mrs. Ella M. Novak of 5519 South Throop street, Mrs. Farwell's mother. The baby's mother had named a commercial artist, for whom she had posed, as father of the child.

She Appears in Court.

While a few minor difficulties were being settled in Judge Gentzel's court prior to carrying out the adoption proceedings, Mrs. Catherine Farwell, 348 West 37th place, entered. She caused a dramatic scene in court when she declared she was still married to Farwell and that he deserted her and their two children last April, two months before his second marriage.

Farwell took one look at Mrs. Catherine Farwell and hurried out of the room with his present wife and the baby. The judge cited them for contempt and the search was started.

The hunt was given impetus when it was learned yesterday morning that Farwell had arranged to stay at his first wife's home until the case quieted down. His father had provided the home for the deserted wife and was also living there, it was said.

Arrive at the Home.

Mrs. Novak, who had been awarded custody of Dolores, and her son, Joseph, hurried to the house in 37th place. So did Attorney Frankel, representing the first wife. At 1 a. m. Farwell approached the house on foot, followed by his present wife and her baby in a taxicab.

Joseph Novak set out after Farwell and the first wife went after her successor. All escaped without injury, but Mrs. Catherine Farwell was bruised when she fell from the running board of the cab as it sped away. The cab driver returned later without his passengers to collect the taxi bill from the elder Farwell. He said he had driven the couple around for several hours. Through the driver the deputy sheriffs hoped to find Farwell's hiding place.

A new phase of the mixup was brought to light yesterday by Mrs. Novak, mother of Mrs. Helen March Farwell, who revealed to a newspaper reporter that her husband had left her because of the trouble.

In addition to the six months jail term for contempt of court, which Judge Gentzel has promised, Farwell will also face a charge of bigamy, brought by his first wife. Mrs. Novak says she will press a charge of kidnaping.

Man's Fight to Tame Mighty Mississippi Viewed from Air

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Caruthersville, Mo., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—Man's efforts to tamk the Mississippi were scanned from the air today by Secretary of War Hurley. He flew for an hour over a great wall of earth and stone, 35 miles long, which is intended to protect Cairb, Ill., and the surrounding territory from the river at flood time.

In cost and size this floodway is a gigantic project. The government will pay millions for land which it intends to flood in order to save other land, and added millions for construction of the levee. But from a height of 2,000 feet and with the magnificent spectacle of the blue Ohio surging on to the yellow Mississippi as a setting, these efforts of man to subdue nature seemed puny.

As the plane soared south from the Cairo flying field, the secretary and the two newspaper men who accompanied him caught their first glimpse of the levee under construction.

Thousands at Work.

Thousands toiled over the massive wall of mud and rock. Everywhere could be seen men dredging, digging, piling, excavating, throwing up this barrier against the expected annual onslaught of the river next spring.

It was a striking paradox. Thus far on the 1,000 miles of this expedition from St. Paul to New Orleans, the great problem of the Mississippi river had been lack of water. And here were armies striving mightily against the time when this same river would threaten whole counties.

We passed over a great dry channel of sand, overgrown with young willows. This was the bed of the Mississippi twenty years ago, now far from the present stream, but there were indications that Old Man River is being conquered. Here, the flow had been slightly curbed; there, urged into a certain channel; forced by stone and dirt and persistence into temporary submission.

Hurley Foresees Victory.

"Perhaps this generation will not see the taming of the Mississippi," remarked the secretary of war, "but this trip has convinced me that persistence will conquer it in time."

The Mississippi from the air is a stunning spectacle. Where it is joined by the Ohio the two streams flow together, blue water stubbornly refusing to mingle with yellow for many miles.

Farther down the great waterway becomes choked with sandbars. It wanders aimlessly in long loops. It cats into cornfields on one shore and leaves great mud banks on the opposite side. It spreads out into shallow, scum-laden lakes, studded with dead cypress stumps, where thousands of screaming birds hover incessantly.

Resuming the river trip on the government steamer Mississippi, Secretary Hurley and his party of engineers anchored for the night at Caruthersville, Mo.

Reaches Memphis Today.

He will reach Memphis, Tenn., tomorrow noon. He will speak at a luncheon and inspect the barge terminal which has had a successful record as a clearing point for freight between the railroads and the barge lines.

The barge terminal at Cairo also was visited by the secretary. Despite the comparative smallness of the city, an average of 1,000 tons of freight is cleared through this terminal each day, the records of the Inland Waterways corporation show, and in some months as much as 70,000 to 80,000 tons were cleared.

LEOPOLD, LOEB END SIXTH YEAR IN PRISON TODAY

Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb killers of Bobby Franks, today will have served six years of their life sentences in the penitentiary. They were received there on Sept. 11, 1924.

Leopold still maintains his ego, officials say, and the other prisoners do not care for him. He is employed as clerk in the office of the Rev. William Frye, chaplain at the new prison at Stateville. Mr. Frye is also in charge of the library and Leopold assists him.

Loeb is said to have become much subdued and to get along well with the other prisoners. He is a clerk in the office of Deputy Warden George Erickson, in the old prison building at Joliet. His work consists of typing and carrying messages.

The families of both prisoners visit them frequently, the officials say.

Moreover, this FOAM keeps on working after you hang up your toothbrush. For 3 hours it continues to cleanse teeth and purify the mouth.

That is why teeth are so easily and so swiftly cleaned down to the beautiful, naked white enamel—without injury.

"Lazy" Said the Boss "Acidity" Said the Doctor

Charged with laziness — guilty simply of acidity! That's the situation with many men today. They realize that they are not themselves — they're conscious of a vague, tired feeling that's always with them—they know they have to pull themselves together for each and every task — but they can't tell what's the trouble. They're branded as lazy and ambitionless when the real truth is that they're sick men—victims of acidity.

Acidity, due to our unnatural eating habits, irregular hours and other violations of Nature's laws, causes acid-indigestion with gas, sourness and burning. Also, it sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the intestinal tract, which forms poisons that sap our strength and vitality, irritate our nerves, spoil our sleep and make us weak, listless and chronically tired.

To correct acidity a remarkable new product has been developed by a 100 year old pharmaceutical house in Germany. It comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids, which do not have to be chewed but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

Make This Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your sleeplessness, your run-down condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this acidity test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores, Economical Drug Stores, or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If, after taking contents of one bottle you don't feel decidedly better, return the bottle and the druggist will promptly and cheerfully refund your money.—Adv.

GROWTH MEANS OPPORTUNITY

A thirty-mile circle drawn about Kansas City includes three quarters of a million population—a growth of 25 per cent, one of the most rapid among America's larger cities. This growth is sound. Kansas City in the past decade has proved its ability to best serve the rich southwest market with its twenty-one million prosperous buyers. Kansas City has become the nation's Transportation Center . . . twelve trunk railways converge at one of America's greatest terminals . . . forty-six scheduled passenger planes arrive and leave each day . . . six federal and nine state highways carry the nation's truck and bus traffic . . . a five-million-dollar bus terminal has just been completed. Already far-sighted executives are buying wharf fronts on the Missouri, soon to be the westward head of navigation.

Meadow Brook, L. I., Sept. 10.—America kept its international polo slate clean this afternoon by defeating the British, 14 to 9, in one of the most closely fought matches in the history of the series. Another great crowd of more than 45,000 persons saw the deciding game that established American supremacy for the third successive time and left Great Britain without a victory since 1921.

LEWIS LACEY.

The score hardly indicates the bitter fight, for it was any one's game right up until the last period. The Americans rode like demons, but everywhere they turned they found a hard riding, slashing Britisher. A mount went down with an injured leg. Winston Guest and Pat Roark came crashing together and Guest and his pony went spinning to the ground, but the tall American back was back fighting in a couple of minutes. It was that kind of a game. A game to keep the crowd on its feet cheering itself hoarse.

Lacey, Roark Are Brilliant.

Two men carried the British team for six periods and then individual brilliancy could go no further. The men were Lewis Lacey, past 40 and probably playing his last game, and Capt. Pat Roark. They were the best combination at No. 2 and No. 3 the game has ever seen. They made the most gallant bid for victory any British players ever have made. They could not be called out of position, no matter where they played.

The same thing as regards position might be said for three great American players—Hitchcock, Pedley, and Guest. It is unique that all three men are among the greatest No. 2s polo has produced, and yet today they played at No. 3, No. 1, and back, respectively. Hitchcock was at No. 3 because it was in that position he would be most valuable to his team. Guest was at back, because no great American backs had been developed, and Pedley, who is a natural No. 2, played at No. 1 because of his great scoring ability. No other No. 1 ever played the position as Pedley played it Saturday and again this afternoon.

THE GUMPS—HAPPY IN LOVE

Coast Golfer Beats Diegel in Pro Meet

Flushing, N. Y., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—The two year reign of Leo Diegel as America's professional champion was brought to an unexpected end this afternoon when he lost his match in the second round of the Professional Golfers' association tournament to Harold Sampson of Burlingame, Cal., on the 38th hole of the Fresh Meadow Country club.

A suddenly developed streak of wildness cost the defending champion his title after he appeared to have the match well in hand. At the end of 18 holes Diegel was two up on Sampson, who is little known so far as tournament play is concerned and is one of the shortest drivers among the professionals. Diegel practically tossed the match away by his erratic work on the last nine holes.

From the 10th hole through the 17th in the afternoon round Diegel was never on a single green in the regulation number of strokes, yet he lost only one hole through that stretch. The last green was the only one he hit from the 10th on and by hitting that one he squared the match.

It availed him little, however, for the blonde golfer from the coast put a spade shot eight feet from the pin on the second extra hole to win with a birdie 3, Diegel's approach being 20 feet above the hole and his putt failing to drop.

Harry Cooper, now located in the Chicago district and slated before today to go far in the tournament, and Al Watrous of Detroit joined Diegel on the side lines, but there was nothing astonishing about their defeats. Cooper fell prey to the deadly accuracy of Al Espinosa of Chicago, 4 and 3, while Watrous was put out by Charles Lacey, a young Scot, who is rapidly coming up to the top among the professionals.

Johnny Farrell managed to survive a terrific fight waged against him by Densmore Shute of Columbus, the match going to the 36th hole, where the former open champion won, 1 up. Joe Kirkwood edged out Jock Collins of Dayton on the 37th green.

Gene Sarazen, the only former champion now left in the field, Horton Smith, and Tommy Armour had easy passage into the quarter finals, Sarazen defeating Bob Crowley of Haverill, Mass., 7 and 6, Smith defeating Laurie Ayton of Evanston, 5 and 4, and Armour winning from Bob Shave of Cleveland, 7 and 5.

The third round draw for tomorrow:

Lacey vs. Sampson.
Armour vs. Farrell.
Sarazen vs. Espinosa.
Kirkwood vs. Smith.

EXPECT $125,000 GATE AT SINGER, M'LARNIN BOUT

New York, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Hungry for recognition as a genuine champion, Al Singer, new ruler of the 135 pound division, will battle Jimmy McLarnin, toughest of welterweights, in a ten round match tomorrow night in the Yankee stadium.

Pleasant weather and growing belief that the 20 year old Singer had almost an even chance to win brought longer lines to the Madison Square Garden ticket windows today and prospect of a $125,000 gate.

NORTHWESTERN TO MEET COAST TEAM IN 1931

Northwestern university yesterday accepted a football game with University of California, southern branch. It will be played at Evanston Oct. 17, 1931. Kenneth L. Wilson, Northwestern athletic director, said there would be no return game.

Bill Spalding, former coach at the University of Minnesota, is in charge of the coast squad.

PETROLLE FACES CANZONERI AT STADIUM TONIGHT

Expect Benefit Bouts to Draw $50,000 Gate.

Tonight's Card

Tony Canzoneri vs. Billy Petrolle, 10 rounds at 135 pounds.
King Levinsky vs. Leo Lomski, 10 rounds at 175 pounds.
Harry Fierro vs. Ernie Peters, 8 rounds at 118 pounds.
Kid Francis vs. Harry Forbes, 8 rounds at 126 pounds.
Charley Retzlaff vs. Pedro Lopez, 6 rounds, heavyweights.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Tony Canzoneri, the busiest fighter in the lightweight class, faces one of the most important battles in his five year career tonight at the Stadium when he meets Billy Petrolle. If he is defeated, and of course neither Tony nor his manager, Sammy Goldman, considers it possible, Canzoneri may lose his match with Champion Al Singer Nov. 14 in New York.

The chance at the title, the fourth championship bout Tony will have had in three weight divisions, means everything to the Italian lad.

Tony may meet Singer even if defeated tonight, but the edge will be taken from the fight. Petrolle then will be the threat in the lightweight class. Tom McArdle, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden corporation, talked to Jack Hurley, Petrolle's manager, on long distance telephone yesterday. He sought a match between Petrolle and Kid Berg.

Wants to Meet Singer.

"If Petrolle beats Canzoneri we want a fight with Singer," Hurley is said to have told McArdle. While a clause in the contract between the Garden and Canzoneri and Singer would permit a cancellation in event of Tony's defeat, it may be impossible to get Singer to meet Petrolle.

Disregarding these possibilities, Canzoneri and Petrolle promise one of the best fights Chicago has seen in months. Tony always has been a favorite because of his aggressiveness and his willingness to trade blow for blow. Petrolle needs no introduction. Those who saw him hammer Berg to the floor nine times and score a technical knockout over the Englishman two years ago at Mills' stadium are wondering if Tony can take such body punishment and yet win.

King Levinsky and Leo Lomski share the interest in tonight's bouts. The Maxwell street youngster makes his first start against a recognized light heavyweight after bowling over 39 opponents on the lamplight circuit. Levinsky's nervousness tends to make Lomski's task easier, but if the King can find an opening for his right hand swings and doesn't miss too many, he may be the surprise of the night.

Expect $50,000 Gate.

Ernie Peters and Harry Fierro will go eight rounds to settle their unfinished business carried over from the Coliseum last winter. Harry Forbes will give Chicago an opportunity to inspect his opponent, Kid Francis, who defeated Fidel La Barba in 20 rounds. In the opening show Charley Retzlaff against Pedro Lopez may end in a knockout if Retzlaff keeps up to the standard which has written K. O. after all his opponents' names except two.

Chicago has not forgotten tonight's bouts are for the benefit of Patricia Harmon, the four year old daughter of the late P. T. Harmon. Officials of the Stadium estimated yesterday that tonight's receipts would approximate $50,000. More than $10,000 was taken in yesterday.

Cubs Won Out in 1908; Will They Do It Again?

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs are staggering under the pressure of three other teams seeking pennant glory and thus baseball history is repeating itself. But only in a mild form. At least mild so far as the fall of 1908 is concerned.

Then not one, but both major leagues staged dramatic races which saw four teams in one circuit and three in the other traveling frantically down the home stretch much after the fashion of the Cubs,' Cardinals, Robins and Giants of today. Those were races that in public interest almost eclipsed the sprint by which William Taft eventually beat William Bryan to the White House.

Highlights of 1908.

Here are just a few of the things that turned the nation to baseball in that hectic autumn of 22 years ago:

In the American league four teams were in the fight from the midway point to the last series of the year. Three days before the final putout, St. Louis was eliminated. Cleveland dropped with only one day to go. On the final day the Tigers whipped the White Sox in the game that meant the flag.

In the National league the Pirates, after trailing since Aug. 23, took first place on Oct. 2. In one series an unknown named Harry Coveleskie of the Phillies crushed the Giants three times in one week to deny them the margin that would have won. On the last day of the season, the Pirates, needing one victory for a pennant, were vanquished by the Cubs, who thus tied the Giants and jumped to New York to whip them in the famous play-off made necessary by Fred Merkle's failure to touch second.

National Standing Sept. 30.

On the evening of Sept. 30, 1908, the Giants were topping the National league by a mere four points. They had whipped the Phillies that day. The Cubs had fallen before the Reds. The Pirates had taken St. Louis for a ride. The standing of the contenders read:

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	93	53	.637
Pittsburgh	95	55	.633
Chicago	94	55	.631

The next day Coveleskie repeated his withering fire against the Giants. He trimmed them after they had won the first half of a double header from the Phillies. The Cubs profited by a victory over the Reds. The Pirates were idle. Thus the standing became:

	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	94	54	.635
Chicago	95	55	.633
Pittsburgh	95	55	.633

The afternoon of Oct. 2 was Pitts-

Tribune Passing Contest Looks Easy, but It Isn't

Entries for THE TRIBUNE'S forward passing and drop kicking contests will be received for five more days. The seven preliminaries comprising all sections of Chicago will be held Saturday morning, Sept. 20, starting at 9 o'clock.

These contests are tests of accuracy. Consider the forward passing. Boys 14 years of age and under will attempt five passes at a circle three feet in diameter from a distance of 15 yards. Apparently this is easy. However, when you consider the target is smaller than the range ordinarily covered by a receiver, it is not as simple as at first consideration.

All who tie for first place in each sectional contest will qualify for the finals at Mills' stadium Sept. 27. The senior boys will pass at the same target, but the distance will be increased to 20 yards.

The drop kicking tests for the younger boys will be held at a distance of 20 yards from the goal posts. Each boy will have five attempts. The older group—15 to 19 years of age—will drop kick from 30 yards. This test is sufficient to determine the ability of boys of high school age.

The average drop kick is more uncertain than the average place kick. It also requires more drill. In place kicking the man who holds the ball is of equal importance with the kicker. The disadvantage in place kicking is that it requires two men, while the drop kicker, working alone, has ten players blocking out opponents.

THE TRIBUNE'S passing and drop kicking contests will be held simultaneously at each park. Each boy, however, can compete in both passing and kicking. Clip the entry blank and mail it immediately. The preliminaries will be held at Bessemer park, Washington park, Douglas park, Mills' stadium, Kelvyn park, De Paul university field, and Loyola university field.

BOTTOMLEY HITS HOMER WITH 2 ON; CARDS WIN, 5 TO 3

Giants' Lead Dissolves in Eighth Inning.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Copyright: 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.]

New York, Sept. 10.—Those nobodies unexpectedly up from nowhere, the St. Louis Cardinals, reëntered the row over the National league championship along toward a quarter of five, eastern daylight time, this afternoon, when Jim Bottomley suddenly went in for disorder and bounced a long shot off the architecture of B deck at the Polo grounds, a technical home run, scoring two other parties ahead.

This made the final score Cardinals 5, Giants 3, and tended to aggravate the congestion in the upper section of the league, where nowadays, with the season almost over, the upper four clubs are wedged together with a span of only three games between the Cubs in first place and the Giants in fourth.

"Bumley" Changes to "Attaboy."

Up to the moment of his smacking the home run in the eighth inning, the customers were giving Mr. Bottomley's name the English pronunciation, which is Bumley, but they were pronouncing it Attaboy when he crossed the plate a few leaps behind Sparky Adams, the capsule infielder, and Frankie Frisch,, who had done certain things a few minutes before. It was the first ball that Bumley or Attaboy had hit with any effort in nigh onto two games at the Polo grounds, but he saved it until the precise moment when it could do the most damage.

The Giants were still ahead 2 to 1 when the home run started its flight, but an instant later it hit the grandstand structure with considerable difference to all concerned. The umpire at the plate, Mr. Stark, solemnly unmasked as the baseball dropped to the grass, and waved his iron muzzle in a circular gesture.

Adams Gets Full-sized Run.

Mr. Adams, who could give away height and reach a circus midget, set out in great haste on a five mile run from third, where he was perched, and he looked so small as he walked between the umpire's legs that it seemed most generous to credit him with a full-size run. There seems to be no need of describing Frisch and Bottomley in their approach to the plate. There is nothing unique or spectacular about a couple of ball players rounding the bases with the ball lying dead on the sod.

Fred Fitzsimmons, one of the plump models, was pitching for the Giants, and he had been having a pleasant enough time of it up to the eighth. Four hits he allowed in the first three innings, then tightened, and didn't give another for four innings. Then Sam Breadon's upstart employes began to knock him about. Andy High appeared as a pinch hitter for Sylvester Johnson in the eighth and broke through with a hit, followed soon afterward by the atom, Adams, who got a double somehow.

Think He Should Be in School.

Several lady customers wished to know why the little party wasn't in school, and the prize fight patrons present eyed him longingly as a natural opponent for Primo Carnera. Anyway, his hit scored High, and the next minute found him on third, due to some pardonable confusion. It appears that Frisch, who has taken a very lively part in these current baseball shows at the Polo grounds, hit a bouncing grounder to Fred Lindstrom down near third. Lindstrom plucked up the ball and Adams at that moment got in his hair.

"Gnats!" exclaimed Mr. Lindstrom.

"Nuts!" replied Mr. Adams, who is quick at repartee, and hopped on past him to the bag as Lindstrom held the ball and pondered to throw or not to throw to first. He didn't throw, and this shows where Adams and Frisch were and how they got there when Attaboy, recently Bumley, belted the home run that placed the Cardinals

Cubs Still Up There; Have Edge on Foes

Although the Cubs' pennant hopes are being jolted bit by bit, they still have the best chance of any of the four contending teams. A late rally sufficiently potent to carry them to victory in ten of their remaining sixteen games may be all they'll need. Given those ten triumphs, they could boast a total of 90 for the season. The St. Louis Cardinals appear the only club likely to better, or even tie, this figure.

Here is what would have to happen to prevent the Cubs from copping the flag if they should gain the ten needed victories for a final standing of 90 wins and 64 defeats. To tie them the Cardinals would need 12 wins in 17 starts. The Robins to tie would be required to win 11 of 15 games. For the Giants to tie they would need 13 victories in 16 engagements. It looks like an impossible feat for both the Robins and the Giants, even if the Cubs take only half the 16 games remaining on their schedule.

If the Cubs should win only 8 more, the Cardinals 12 more, the Robins 11 more and the Giants 13 more, the final reading would be like this:

	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Louis	90	64	.587
Brooklyn	90	64	.587
New York	90	64	.587
Chicago	88	66	.571

The setback for the Cubs yesterday reduced their lead to one and one-half games and virtually tied St. Louis and Brooklyn for second place. The Cubs can lose again today and still cling to their top perch. Should they beat the Robins, and the Giants thump the Cardinals, the standing tonight will be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	91	53	.583
St. Louis	78	66	.565
Brooklyn	79	61	.564
New York	78	61	.561

If the Cubs should lose the third and final to the Robins today and the Cardinals should slap down the Giants, the rating would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	90	59	.576
St. Louis	79	59	.572
Brooklyn	80	60	.571
New York	77	62	.554

Should both the Cubs and the second place Cardinals lose today, the following adjustments would take place in the standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	89	59	.576
Brooklyn	80	60	.571
St. Louis	78	60	.565
New York	78	61	.561

IT'S A BATTLE FOR GOLD, NOT MERE VICTORY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The big hearted ball players belonging to teams in the first division of the National league now have reached the point where they are thinking of something much nobler than the glory of victory, namely, the glitter of gold.

The race now has reached the point where two or three days endeavor may mean a difference of $5,000 in each individual player's world series dough. Of course, the splits vary with the attendance at each world series, but the different cuts last year may be taken as fairly representative of what may be expected this fall.

The winner of the world series, of course, gets the big end of the purse, but the winners of the second, third, and fourth places in the season's race are treated the same. That is, the second place pool last year for the second place Yankees was the same as that for the Pirates who finished second in the National league, although the American league won the world series. The same was true of the Giants and Indians in third place and the Cards and Browns in fourth place.

Here are some figures from the last world series that every player in the National league fight knows by heart:

The share of each member of the world champion Athletics was $5,620.57.

The share of each member of the fourth place Cardinals was $366.12.

The difference between the share of a world champion player and the share of a player on a fourth place club was $5,254.45.

So when you cheer your heads off at a ball game from now on in it will be inspiring. But there will also be other motives to spur on the heroes.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Don't shoot your rifles at that thar balloon, boys—our Cubs are in it. They are sailing higher and higher, but they still have a chance to get hold of a parachute. It was another shutout today, Brooklyn winning, 6 to 0. The performance brought the champions' total of consecutive scoreless innings to 20, with Dazzy Vance fretting to make it 29 in the season's final here tomorrow.

ADOLFO LUQUE.

Right now the Cubs are only a game and a half ahead of the Cardinals and Robins, and only three games out of fourth place, with not a pitcher in sight. Dark days, these!

Five Runs Before an Out.

Unlike yesterday's shutout, which was a hard fought, dignified game, today's was a brutal affair in which the Brooklyn nine scored five runs before a single putout had been accomplished. Then the Robins languorously sat back and laughed at the childish efforts of the Chicagoans to ply their trade, which is supposed to be playing baseball, especially as it pertains to smacking the ball.

Adolfo Luque was superb except for one inconsequential lapse in the first inning before the slaughter began. He allowed five hits, one by English in the first, one by Cuyler in the first, one by English in the third, one by Pinch Batter Hornsby in the eighth, and one by Cuyler in the ninth. All these were singles. None led off an inning and none came in the same inning with a base on balls.

Root Pitches Five Hits.

Charley Root, who has been yowling about printed clinical reports on the condition of his arms, started his pitching with a considerable flourish. All told, he pitched 19 balls, and from this assortment the Robins smacked out three singles and two doubles. Another hit was made off Petty. Then things calmed down until the eighth, when Brooklyn manufactured a run off Lynn Nelson.

The Cubs now have lost 8 games in their last 11 starts. The season standing with the Robins is 7 games lost and 14 won.

Unless the 1929 champions, with Guy Bush pitching, can shake off their palsy here tomorrow they will leave

Anyhow, Root's Ready for Early Return to Mound

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Anyhow, the Robins didn't tire Charley Root much. Frederick, first up, singled after a count of two balls and one strike; Gilbert singled on the first pitch; Herman doubled after a count of 2 and 2; Wright singled after two strikes and one ball, and Bissonette hit the first pitch for a double. That was the extent of Charley's endeavor for the day.

Dazzy Vance may or may not pitch the season's final here tomorrow. He says his back hurts him and he wants another night's rest before deciding. Now that he's seen how the Cubs have softened up, it is expected Dazzy's back will improve rapidly.

The Robins' pitchers today and yesterday offered a contrast in the matter of servitude. Adolfo Luque has pitched in the National league for 18 years. Ray Phelps, who stood the Cubs on their heads yesterday, is finishing his first year as a major leaguer. He was in a class B league down in Florida last year.

for Philadelphia with a half game lead. If the Cards win tomorrow from the Giants and the Cubs lose to the Robins there will be two clubs only a half game behind the Cubs, and the Cubs will be three games out of fourth place. If the Cubs lose and the Cardinals lose, the Cubs will be a half game out of second place and two games out of fourth place.

Waste 2 Hits in First.

The Cubs were all steamed up when they went to bat in the first inning, little suspecting the horrible experience that was lurking only five minutes away.

True, Blair tapped gently to Luque, but English singled past second, and Cuyler singled to left, Woody stopping at second. There were exchanges of many smug glances on the Cub bench at this point. Then Bressler made a nice play to get Wilson's liner, a play on which the Robin left fielder was injured, though he lingered at his post long enough to catch Stephenson's fly.

Then the Robins came to bat. In an instant base hits were flying everywhere. Frederick singled to right and stopped at second on Gilbert's single to left. Herman doubled to left center, scoring Frederick, Gilbert stopping at third. Wright drove a single into right, scoring Gilbert and Herman. Bissonette bounced a double off the top of the right field wall, Wright stopping at third. Root was yanked and Petty went in. Hendrick batted for Bressler and singled over Blair's head, scoring Wright and Bissonette. Petty then restored order, which he sustained until he retired for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Petty Checks Robins.

Petty held the Robins to no runs and three hits from the beginning of the second inning till the close of the seventh, when he retired. Jess allowed no walks during his tenancy.

After the first inning Adolfo and his mates just breezed along. Occasionally, for comic relief, Adolfo would walk a batsman or two. Then the Robins would perform a double play just to show they were kidding.

In the fifth the Cuban's good humor was rampant. He walked Hartnett and Bell, and the Cubs thought they might actually score a run. Then the aged Havanan made Petty hit into a double play and fanned Blair. This proved such a good joke that in the next inning he walked English. Then he fanned Cuyler, and himself started a double play which sank English and Wilson. And in the seventh he walked Kelly with one out, then made Hartnett tap into a double play.

In the eighth Bell fanned and Hornsby batted for Petty and hit a Texas leaguer into short right. Farrell ran for the Rajah and was forced by Blair. Luque then heard Blair snoring and threw to Bissonette, who woke up Clarence by ramming the ball in his ribs for a putout.

Cuyler made his second single and the fifth hit off Luque with one out in the ninth. Wilson then popped to Herman in short right and Luque threw out Stephenson.

Letters Censure Fans Who Cheer a Winner Only

Fans who become abusive toward the Cubs when the team is suffering humiliation in conflict with rival pennant contenders are taken to task in two of the letters received yesterday from admirers of the National league champions. The letters follow:

"FAIR WEATHER FANS."

These fair weather "Cub fans" give me a pain. When the boys are winning all is okay, but if there is a losing streak, Joe McCarthy is a poor manager, the boys are called hod carriers, truck drivers and what not. Is this real sportsmanship?

Has any manager of the major league teams had as many difficulties to meet as McCarthy? No. Then why not be fair and give him the credit he deserves?

The Cubs' pitching staff is somewhat below par, but the outfield and infield [regulars and subs] is the best to be had, and as for catchers, where is there another Gabby Hartnett?

Let's give Joe and his boys a big hand, and pull hard for them to win, not only the National pennant but the world series, too, and hope that next year we have a few new umpires who know a ball from a strike.

HAZEL O. KAYSER.

From a Loyal Cub Fan.

Anyone who writes such letters as I have seen published about the Cub team and its owners has gall to call himself a Cub fan or admirer. Now I know who the wonderful sportsmen are who throw lemons on the field when they're displeased with the team's actions. Throw away your hammer [and lemons] and get yourself a horn or quit calling yourself a Cub fan.

The Cub management was criticized for spending too much money—for buying players to strengthen their own team and weakening their opponents at the same time. And as evidence the writer offers the fact that Wilson and Hartnett are the only players left who were with the Cubs when they occupied the cellar.

Well, well! I'd like to see another team taken from the cellar and put up in first place with as little money expended as did the Cub management in doing just that. And that they did the right thing in securing new players is proved by the position that they now occupy.

If a club seels a player whom they know will strengthen their opponents and weaken their own team, who is to blame?

By the way, it's a good thing the Cubs got Cuyler; he probably would have worn the seat of his pants a dozen times warming the bench in Pittsburgh.

The Cubs are being called the luckiest team that ever walked out on a diamond. Skill is often mistaken for luck, and such is the case with the Cubs.

Luckiest team! Hornsby, Bell, Stephenson, Grimm, Blake, and Root injured in one season. The death of a star pitcher, who would have won about a dozen games. No team in the major leagues has had as much bad luck this season, and yet their fighting spirit has put them on top and will keep them there.

Fight on, Cubs! Win or lose we're with you. GEORGE J. GARRICK, 2718 South Avers avenue.

Yanks End Polo Series with 2d Victory Over Britons, 14-9

both teams were in a fighting mood and their mounts seemed tireless.

It was the deciding game of the series, but the crowd hated to see such a gallant bid as the British team put forth bring only defeat. It was, the veterans said, the most thrilling fight that any visiting team ever has made against an American "Big Four."

There were eight amazing periods that would send anyone's blood pressure soaring. Polo is a game that one does not have to be an expert at to enjoy. It is men and horses fighting for a ball.

The British, due to tradition, did not know when they were beaten. They started off as if they would sweep the Americans from the 300 yard long greensward. Before the end of the chukker they had Tommy Hitchcock and his team outscored, 3 to 1.

Britons Lead in 5th, 7-6.

For five breath taking periods they held this pace, with the Americans one goal behind. The score stood 7 to 6 in favor of the invaders at the end of the fifth. It stood 7 to 6 in spite of Eric Pedley streaking the length of the field, Tommy Hitchcock smashing through the British ranks, Winston Guest slamming the white ball almost unbelievable distances and Earle Hopping riding like a madman.

There was glory enough for everyone. Pat Roark played a game for the Britons that matched Hitchcock blow for blow in everything but distance. Given that difference and the Irish leader would put up a game almost unmatched in modern polo.

But the cheers of the crowd for sheer audacity as well as brilliant teamwork and also a major part of America's glory must go to Tommy Hitchcock. The American leader was everywhere, and mounted on the dappled gray mare, Katrina, there was no one who could ride him down nor turn his drives.

Hitchcock Stops British.

It was Hitchcock, on a streak of a gray horse, flashing down on the ball to flip it through to the wide shouldered Guest, who, in turn, would wallop it far down the field to Pedley and his magic stick, that halted the first wild rush of the British. But the gentlemen from England would not stay halted.

Gerald Balding played a better game than he did last Saturday, but he still was not the No. 1 that England needed to play against the Americans. Lieut. Humphrey Guinness rode hard and made a number of sensational saves within inches of the goal, but Guest overshadowed him as a back.

The game that Balding played Saturday and again today at No. 1 has been overly criticized. The young British player gave an excellent performance on both occasions. It was just that he was being compared to Eric Pedley. Pedley's goal shooting has been the sensation of the series. Had Balding been playing against No. 1's such as Averil Harriman or Stephen "Laddie" Sanford, to name but a couple, the comparison would not have left him so far outside.

Pedley Scores Eight Goals.

There were those today who insisted Pedley's name should lead the rest as the master scoring machine of polo. He shot eight goals and missed a couple of others by inches. It was one of the highest totals any man ever has ever scored in international polo. His mastery of the ball was like that of a billiard player.

Earle Hopping, once he got started this afternoon, hit the ball with killing force and rode low on his mount at reckless speed. At the age of 20, Hopping has become one of polo's most vivid stars and today he did his share in the American victory.

There was a moment along in the first of the sixth period when the flashing stars of the American team merged into a ruthless machine that two super individual players like Roark and Lacey could not halt. The two British stars had carried their team for six periods—almost to victory. There is a limit to human effort, and Roark and Lacey had reached that limit. They were the best No. 2 and 3 combination that polo ever has seen, but they could do only so much. They did that, but the American team that had been welded into a machine blasted everything before it and scored eight goals in the last three periods.

Pony Injures Leg.

There was an incident at the end of the fourth period that brought a silent tribute from the crowd. Joy Bells, the beautiful brown mare that Capt. Pat Roark had been riding, hobbled off the field with a broken pastern in the right foreleg. The crowd thought the pony had broken a leg and feared it would be destroyed. When the pony hobbled away a cheer rose from the stands.

There was another great cheer from both sides of the field when the French flyers, Deudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, came speeding in from Meadow Brook club entrance in a limousine escorted by a police guard. They arrived just as the players were taking the field.

It was Guest who took the rôle of self-effacement this afternoon. The big Yale star is fitted for a roving sensational type of play, but he played back today and did his job with polish and finish. Unhorsed and badly jolted after his crash with Roark, the spill only served to make him play the harder. His shots were as long as any ever seen on International field.

Mrs. Tremayne Presents Cup.

The shadows were creeping over the turf and the crowd was pouring out of the blue grand stands where Mrs. Charles H. Tremayne, wife of the nonplaying British leader, stepped from a box to present Capt. Thomas Hitchcock Jr. of America with the heavy, old fashioned bowl—the Westchester cup—that the British will have to leave behind for another three years.

Tommy Hitchcock was modest in victory. He called the British team the strongest to try for the cup in years, and added that but for misfortunes suffered by their members after their team arrived the result might have been different.

"This was not only the hardest," said Hitchcock, "but also the fastest international series I have ever played in. Any one who saw the game today knows it was hard fought right to the end. I did not think that we showed any marked superiority until the final period, when we ran our score up. It was a fine series."

YOUNG PLAYERS PROVIDE THRILLS IN TENNIS MEET

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Frank Shields of New York provided the big thrill of the fourth day of the national tennis singles tournament by upsetting Wilmer Allison in a five set match decided by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

It was a big day for the younger generation of American tennis players. In another five set struggle Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, playing with the coolness of a veteran, downed Berkeley Bell of Texas, who on Monday put out Jean Borotra of France.

A third youngster, Sidney B. Wood of New York, came through with a 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 win over Samuel B. Gilpin II. of Philadelphia, winner over Bryan Grant yesterday, and will clash with Sutter in the quarter finals tomorrow.

The representative of Ireland, G. Lyttleton Rogers, 6 foot 7 inch Davis cup ace, made a valiant stab at victory when he faced Tilden, but was outclassed in the last two sets, Big Bill winning as he pleased at 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

BOSTON HOMERS PLAY HAVOC AS SOX LOSE, 6 TO 2

Faber Knocked Out in 5th; Moore Finishes.

A pair of homers served as an obstacle to the White Sox yesterday. Those two lengthy taps, engineered by Red Webb and Bill Regan while old Red Faber was pitching, caused an accumulation of four runs, which was the margin by which the Red Hose dropped with the second of the series. The score was 6 to 2 and was appropriate when you consider that the wearers of pale hose harvested only six hits off bespectacled Danny MacFayden.

Present in an active capacity for the first time was Luke Appling, just in from Atlanta, where he had attained more than a passing reputation as a shortstop. It was in this post that he made his White Sox debut yesterday and there is hope that he will prove worthy of the job for the rest of the season and others to come. What he did yesterday, however, afforded no line on the possibilities of his living up to expectations. He made one hit, but his fielding chances were limited and not the kind demanding exceptional skill.

Webb Ties Score.

The Chicago brand of hosiery was the first to get around to the matter of runs. They picked up one in the opening inning. Cissell singled and was forced on Watwood's intended sacrifice. Watwood went to third on a single by Reynolds and home on Jolley's hit. This slender advantage vanished shortly thereafter. Webb batted it down to a 1 to 1 tie with his round trip wallop into the right field seats in the second inning. Then the Boston lads moved ahead with a run in the fourth on a pass to Regan, Webb's single and a long fly.

The elimination of Faber in the fifth was speedy as well as disastrous. Oliver singled with one deposed. Scarritt also uncorked a one base safety. Then Regan ruined everything. Unmindful of the fact that two strikes were against him, he swung again and this time was accurate enough to whack the ball into the second floor of the left field pavilion. Three hostiles drifted over the plate, Faber drifted into oblivion and Moore completed the inning without further mishap.

Kamm Throws Wild.

A run marked up gainst Moore's performance in the sixth might have been avoided with a little tighter fielding. Todt opened the session with a hit. Warstler bunted toward third. Kamm scooped up the ball and not only pegged too late to get his man but wild as well. Before the loose ball was recaptured somewhere in right field, Todt was home and Warstler on second.

Having been the first to score the Pale Sox may have figured it fitting they also should be the last. They did so by counting one in the eighth when Fothergill, batting for Moore, walked and scored on a hit by Watwood.

Ted Lyons will go after his twenty-first win in the final with Boston today. Lisenbee will be his opponent.

Chicago Yacht Wins First Leg of Cup Series

Atalanta, R class sloop owned by William H. Colvin of the Chicago Yacht club, yesterday won the first race in the series of three for the Richardson cup, emblematic of the international great lakes championship. Gossoon, defender of the trophy, owned by T. P. Archer of Detroit, was second and Spry, the Canadian entry, third.

The race was sailed over a fourteen mile triangular course off Belmont harbor. Atalanta's time was 2:56:30, Gossoon's 2:57:05, and Spry's 3:08:59. As a result of the race yesterday Atalanta has three points, Gossoon two, and Spry one. The second race of the series will be sailed this afternoon and the third tomorrow.

Change Course of Race.

Yesterday's race started at 1 o'clock with a light wind from the southeast. Twelve minutes before the race the course was changed from buoys to starboard to buoys to port.

Halfway out to the southeast mark, Atalanta and Gossoon came together, but the Colvin boat's crew outmaneuvered Gossoon, splitting tacks with her. Another half mile was passed when Atalanta duplicated the performance, going to leeward of the Detroit sloop, which didn't cover in time, allowing Atalanta to go through her lee. From this point on Atalanta maintained its lead. At the southeast mark it held an advantage of three boat lengths.

The boats headed for the next mark on a broad reach. Atalanta's crew got the jump on the others in the business of putting up light canvas and increased its lead to five lengths when it headed home for the first time. The homeward journey was on a broad reach also, and Atalanta led Gossoon by ten lengths when they landed for the southeast mark the second time.

Gossoon Starts Rally.

Going for the northeast mark on the fifth leg, Gossoon began a rally which nearly overhauled the Chicago boat. Atalanta's reach jib failed to work and the Detroit entry picked up five lengths. The sixth leg, a dead run for home, found the Gossoon still picking up the ground lost on the first time around and at the finish it trailed by only 35 seconds.

SMITTY—SWEET MEMORIES

C. A. A. Board Will Discuss Merger Plan

The board of directors of the Chicago Athletic association will meet Monday evening to discuss whether they shall rehabilitate the present clubhouse, wreck it and erect a new one, or open negotiations with the Chicago Yacht club with the idea of joining forces in the construction of a $3,000,000 building on the lake shore opposite the end of Monroe street.

Eighteen of the nineteen members of the board have declared themselves. Of the board are reported to have declared themselves in favor of the latter course. But a large element of the membership is said to oppose the move on the ground of partial loss of identity and of the new site being less convenient for members. If any definite plan can be agreed upon in Monday's meeting it will be put to a vote of the club at large, and if approved, it then will be brought up for consideration by the Yacht club.

Williams Opposes Merger.

The only member of the board who stands squarely opposed to a merger is George J. Williams, vice president of the club. Charles B. Spaulding, the president, had been expected by many to oppose the measure, but instead he voiced the opinion that the club's future lies on the lake front.

George Getz, one of the trustees of the Chicago Yacht club, was asked last night what views that organization took on the proposal.

"A definite proposition will have to come from the C. A. A.," he said. "Regardless of what happens we will go ahead with our present plans for the $3,000,000 club building. Work will start this winter."

Hotel Opposes Plan.

Officials of the Stevens hotel have fought the erection of any new structure to the east of Michigan avenue on the grounds that a precedent would be set, and others would follow, with the result that ultimately the hotel would be deprived of its unobstructed outlook on the lake.

When asked what chance he believed the Stevens would have to prevent the erection of the new structure, Mr. Getz replied:

"They already have brought two injunctions, but both have been overruled by the Illinois Supreme court and a rehearing has been denied. Their only alternative is to carry the case to the Supreme court of the United States, and I don't believe they will accomplish anything there."

Prepares Opposition Report.

Mr. Williams has published a report at his own expense and has circulated it among the C. A. A. members. In this document he sets forth the reasons why he believes the C. A. A. should retain its present home and its present identity.

He points out that the lake front site is subject to federal and state restrictions, and says that under certain conditions the state can either confiscate the property or force the club to sell it for 80 per cent of its investment.

"The state has made a conditional grant to the Chicago Yacht club," Mr. Williams says, "and the federal government has issued a permit to inclose the land by a bulkhead.

"Under the state charter the club must provide docks and landing places for the free use of the public; wharfage for the use of naval reserve forces; facilities for the training of sea scouts, and available space for the use of the public viewing naval exhibitions.

"Furthermore the club must provide free facilities for other clubs interested in conducting water sports. The state may at any time acquire the premises and all improvements by paying a sum of 80 per cent of the value.

"Aside from this, the proposed consolidation is bound to result in a loss of the identity and individuality of the Chicago Athletic association. It means the abandonment of all that is behind us, the sacrifice of our traditions, our atmosphere, and our cherished memories."

READ THE LABEL when you buy ginger ale AND SAVE MONEY

HERE'S a chance for housewives to make big savings when buying ginger ale. Just read the label on a bottle of Clicquot Club Pale Dry. It guarantees you 16 ounces!

That's four ounces more than you get in any other nationally known dry ginger ale. And Clicquot Club Pale Dry is aged 6 months in the making to give it a finer, more mellow flavor. It carries full carbonation, too, which gives it zest and sparkle.

FANS OF 1908 HAD TWO FLAG RACES TO WORRY ABOUT

Cubs Won Then; Will They Do It Again?

burgh's big day. The Pirates scored two victories over the tail end Cardinals. Mordecai Brown registered a 5 to 0 shutout for the Cubs over the Reds. The Giants hung on by beating the Phillies. The standing that night was:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	97	55	.638
New York	95	54	.638
Chicago	96	55	.636

The Pirates wrecked St. Louis again on Oct. 3. The Cubs followed them with a victory over the Reds. It was a bitter day for the Giants. For the third time in a week Coveleskie beat them, score 3 to 2. The standing changed to:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Pittsburgh	98	55	.641
Chicago	97	55	.638
New York	95	55	.633

Sunday, Oct. 4, on the old west side grounds of the Cubs, saw the end of the Pirates' hopes. On this same afternoon the Sox, on their own grounds, kept in the American league race by whipping the Tigers. Victory this day would have put the Pirates beyond reach. They had no more games to play. But the Cubs routed them, 5 to 2, with Brown pitching. The Giants had no game. The standing then was:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	98	55	.641
Pittsburgh	98	56	.636
New York	95	55	.633

New York's sole remaining chance was to take three games from the Braves. The Giants did that, thus tying the Cubs. Then the Cubs jumped to New York to win the memorable playoff at the Polo grounds Oct. 8. Then they leaped to Detroit to collect a world title.

Joss Beats Walsh Oct. 2.

The struggle in the American league after the games of Sept. 30 found a difference of four and one-half games between Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, and St. Louis, which were in this order. The four contenders rested Oct. 1 for the final dash. Oct. 2 was a memorable day for the Sox at Cleveland. Addie Joss hurled his famous perfect game and beat Ed Walsh, 1 to 0. The Tigers shoved the Browns toward the class of also rans. The standing read:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	88	61	.591
Cleveland	88	62	.587
Chicago	85	63	.574
St. Louis	83	66	.554

The next chapter of the stirring struggle, on Oct. 3, saw the Tigers strengthen the grip that eventually led to a pennant. They defeated the Browns. The Sox rallied and downed Cleveland. With three days to go the standing of the clubs was:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	89	61	.593
Cleveland	88	63	.583
Chicago	86	63	.577

Sunday, Oct. 4, the Tigers charged into Comiskey park seeking two victories on which to hang a pennant. They did not get it that day. Doc White beat them, 3 to 1. Cleveland and St. Louis played a tie. The standing, with two games to go, was:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	89	62	.589
Cleveland	88	63	.583
Chicago	87	63	.580

Cleveland, as a contender, passed out on Oct. 5 by losing half of a double header to the Browns. Ed Walsh's brilliant 6 to 1 triumph over the Tigers forced the matter of supremacy into the final day. Before the last game the standing was:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	89	63	.586
Chicago	88	63	.583
Cleveland	89	64	.582

For White Sox adherents the last fight was a heart tearing spectacle. Doc White thought his left handed skill could halt the Tiger southpaw hitters as it had done in the past. In less than an inning he was gone. Four Tigers were over the plate almost before the crowd settled into the seats of the now vanished south side park. Ed Walsh dashed to the rescue, but was of no use. The Sox couldn't solve Wild Bill Donovan and finally lost by 7 to 2. Only two hits were made off the Tiger star. In that game was a young Tiger shortstop named Bush, who made two hits. The same Bush now manages the White Sox. The Cleveland Naps also won that day, which made a final standing of:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	90	63	.588
Cleveland	90	64	.584
Chicago	88	64	.579

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"
—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL. D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the men whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

TYPHOON SWEEPS VICTORIAN ASIDE IN C. A. A. STAKE

Wins by Length to Pay $6.66 to $2.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The crowd at Lincoln Fields was a little sad after the Chicago Athletic association handicap had been run yesterday. No tears were evident for hardened racegoers do not shed tears. But those who didn't bet on him didn't fancy the idea of Typhoon, a selling plater of not so many weeks back, beating Victorian by a length at the end of the mile and a sixteenth affair.

Victorian is close to Gallant Fox and Zev for high money winning honors on the American turf. He seems to be the only horse in active training that can pass Zev and go on and give the Fox a brush for high honors.

He could have won $1,500 in the C. A. A. handicap. It wouldn't have put him near the two leaders, but it would have demonstrated that he was back in a winning streak.

Game Race for Victorian.

And as he fell in defeat in a mile and a sixteenth race that was run in 1:44, Victorian turned in one of the gamest races of his long and glorious career. He has been a noted front runner in most of his victories. He was last as the field hit the lower bend in the C. A. A.

He had to go around on the outside to pass his rivals, but he did it with much speed and gameness under E. Gianelloni's ride. Typhoon won by a handy margin, although Victorian was getting to him at every stride in the late stages.

Typhoon's time was within fractions of a second of the track record. Victorian's defeat should not take any of the glory from Typhoon, for the 5 year old son of Thunderstorm, after running in cheap claiming races early in the summer, has improved to a point where he can be ranked among the best western handicap performers.

Typhoon had his backers and paid $6.66 to win. Victorian would have been at 5 to 1 if he could have won the race. Islam was the favorite, but could not keep step in the stretch tussle.

If the Hammond purse, adash at seven furlongs, had been run about last May 10 it would have been a tremendous attraction, because Tannery, Johnson N. Camden's Culloden, the American Derby winner, Reveille Boy; Harry Payne Whitney's Niato, and Calome were in the battle.

Wins by Three Lengths.

Tannery won by three lengths and was the odds-on favorite. With J. Marcum in the saddle, he was in front all the way, and Culloden was closest to him and in second place when the finish came. Culloden rallied in the final strides to beat Reveille Boy and crowd the American Derby winner back into third place.

Reveille Boy was an old rogue at the post. He delayed the start for several minutes, then Morrissey sent him to the outside of the gate. It brought a perfect start, with Tannery romping into the lead and Reveille Boy forcing the pace to midway in the stretch, where he showed sort of a weak heart and gave up the battle.

Tannery ran his seven furlongs in 1:24 2-5. He paid $3.58 to win, $3.90 to place, and $2.50 to show. Culloden was at $4.46 to place and $3.36 to show. Reveille Boy's American Derby victory didn't give him much prestige and he was among the outsiders in the betting. It looks like Reveille Boy should retire from the turf with that American Derby scalp on his belt. He will never accomplish anything greater.

Do Hawks Hunt Prey on Ground? Gamekeeper Asks

BY BOB BECKER.

Some of our larger and bolder hawks are a menace to birds and mammals while flying over meadows, fields and through the woods, but are they not also coming to ground frequently to pursue a meal on foot?

Gamekeeper of Wheaton brings up this question with an observation that throws an interesting light on the habits of the predators and gives evidence that a rabbit or a bird which has taken refuge in a brush pile is apt to be followed and hunted on the ground by a hungry hawk. He writes:

"When I was talking in the Sahara desert some years ago with the Algerian pasha Djail, he told me that eagles would pursue their prey into cover on foot, but that hawks would not.

"Twice recently while riding in the country I have seen a hawk rise from the ground at my approach. I assumed that I had interrupted a meal and the second time looked around for the carcass. I found no carcass, but from a pile of brush nearby a rabbit emerged and ran off. Obviously, the hawk contrary to the belief of friend 'Djail,' was hunting this rabbit in the pile of brush.

"It may be that hawks are bolder here than in Africa because they have no carnivorous animals to fear and no eagles."

Our experience of seeing hawks surprised while on the ground coincides for the most part with that of Gamekeeper's. While running a trapline in the American desert some years ago we used to occasionally jump one of the big birds on a broad expanse of sage brush and sand and always we looked to see what the bird had been feeding on. Sometimes we found nothing that might furnish the predator a meal.

On several occasions we surprised hawks either going to a small mammal still alive in one of our traps [we were collecting scientific specimens for a museum] or else destroying an imprisoned rat or mouse that had been trapped.

Apparently the hawks were not averse to coming to earth and walking around for a square meal although we never were able to watch or catch one of the predators in the act of ground hunting for an animal like the cottontail.

It seems logical, however, that a hawk swooping to catch say one of the dwarf rabbits in the American desert [Oregon] and seeing it go into a brush pile, might come to the ground to see if there was any chance of making a kill.

one and one-half games behind the Cubs.

Again the score board, showing the important events in Brooklyn, where the Cubs were rounding out eighteen innings against Robins without a run, divided the attention of the patrons and performers. And again, for any reason or complication of reasons you may care to ascribe, the attendance at this drammer in the Polo grounds was no more than 20,000 paying loyalists in a city of six million.

Polo was going on at Meadowbrook and tennis was in progress at Forest Hills, but these pursuits wouldn't seem to rival the affairs of the New York Giants, and it may just happen to be that the patrons are shunning baseball because it doesn't cost enough.

Bell Finishes for Johnson.

The St. Louis pitcher, Mr. Johnson, another of those hither-and-thither athletes who are home where they hang their hats, was much indebted to the home run in the eighth. He wasn't exactly lavish, but neither was he firm, with the Giants, and Shanty Hogan, the aesthetic dancer, bashed a home run into the vacancies of the upper left stand in the sixth, scoring Melvin Ott. This way the Giants came by a lead of 3 to 1, which might have been enough but for the events in No. 8.

After allowing seven hits Johnson withdrew to let a fellow hit who could hit in the eighth, and Herman Bell, one of the numerous Bell-boys who have been playing off and on with the St. Louis club, finished up for him.

The infielding in these games has been very flashy indeed and the pitching has borne the mark of authority and poise in all but a few sudden moments. The Frisch boy has been working with extraordinary vim and polish with the incentive of a world series share to sustain him, he being frugal and just a little more responsive to the money lure than most ball players, none of whom are exactly indifferent toward the same.

SLANTS VARY ON DAY'S NEWS OF STEEL INDUSTRY

Backlog Reduced by 441,851 Tons.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Divergent news of the big steel industry produced all sorts of arguments in Wall and La Salle streets yesterday. It happened that the monthly report of the United States Steel corporation on unfilled tonnage and the mid-week trade reviews appeared almost simultaneously, with the first item of pessimistic hue and the latter fairly optimistic.

The U. S. Steel statement showed a drop of 441,851 tons in unfilled orders in August, which was rather more than had been anticipated. It was the largest decline for any month since May, 1928, and also was the greatest shrinkage for any August since 1922. Moreover, it was in contrast with an increase of 53,991 tons in July this year. It brought the total on Aug. 31 down to 3,580,204 tons, or 78,007 tons below a year ago.

The decline last month was even larger than the 429,966 ton recession in August, 1929, which was one of the first definite indications of the coming business recession. This was particularly noticeable because August usually is a month of small changes in steel production and orders.

Output Exceed Orders.

Although operations of the U. S. Steel corporation averaged only around 60 per cent last month, it is evident that output exceeded current orders considerably. And so the pessimists argued that the steel industry isn't showing any real signs of a business recovery. But the optimists argued that U. S. Steel would not have maintained operations at as high a rate and reduced its backlog of orders unless its officials were confident that the autumn months will bring at least a seasonal upturn in business. Furthermore, they argued that in the light of the trend of the industry this month the tonnage report was "water over the dam."

"Seasonal recovery in iron and steel, although confidently expected by the trade, is slow in materializing," the Iron Age said. "Demand for finished steel thus far this month has been moderately larger than in the corresponding part of August. But nothing resembling a broad buying movement has set in and the persistence of dissident market tendencies continues to obscure the outlook.

"Curtailment of pig iron production, which amounted to 4.6 per cent in August, is apparently still under way. This is in sharp contrast with the increase of 5.5 per cent in steel ingot output in August and a further gain this month. Present ingot production is fully 58 per cent of today's capacity, which is 3 to 4 per cent larger than the total officially reported at the end of 1929, and is 1½ per cent higher than the average for that month.

Ignored by Leaders.

"While these conflicting factors are confusing, they are ignored by leaders in the steel trade, who are convinced that the rock bottom replacement requirements of an economically strong and growing country exceed a 50 to 60 per cent production in the most basic industry, and for that reason alone that some measure of recovery is inevitable.

"This view finds support in an increase in miscellaneous orders for steel, indicating a revival of interest on the part of many consumers who have not been in the market recently. The customary fall and winter rail buying movement, even if smaller than a year ago, is also relied on to improve mill bookings. Farm implement makers are experiencing difficulty in determining their fall production schedules, which normally get under way by Oct. 1. Prospects in the automobile industry are not encouraging. Structural steel awards are of average proportions. Radio producers have expanded their operations materially since Sept. 1."

New York, Sept. 10.—Directors of the Parmelee Transportation company have accepted the proposal of the Checker Cab Manufacturing company by which Checker obtains control of the company and Parmelee expands its operations and simplifies its capital structure, it was announced today by Ernest H. Miller, president of Parmelee.

Seubert Says No Date Set on Listing Application

Edward G. Seubert, president of Standard Oil Company of Indiana, said yesterday that the date for applying for listing of the company's stock on the New York Stock exchange has not been definitely decided on yet. It was stated in an article in yesterday's TRIBUNE that some action would probably be taken by the company about Jan. 1. Mr. Seubert states that there are certain things which must be cleaned up before definite action can be taken.

Hosiery Interests Form New Marketing Agency

A clearing exchange embodying many of the features of the conventional trade association has been formed by the full fashioned hosiery interests. The announced purpose of the exchange is to adapt uniform trade practices as well as establishing a marketing agency whereby members may dispose of excess stocks of unfinished material among themselves.

The magazine starts with a circulation list of more than 10,000 of the leading retailers in the United States and Canada and marks another step in the pro-Chicago publicity campaign instituted by the Association of Commerce early last year.

CORN DAMAGE DUE TO DROUGHT IS 792 MILLIONS

Heavy Toll Taken During August.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—More than three-quarters of a billion bushels of corn, worth approximately 792 million dollars, at current prices, were burned up by the drought during July and August as shown today in an official crop report issued by the department of agriculture.

Unrelieved by badly needed rainfall, the hot weather continued to take a heavy toll in the ripening corn fields of the central west during August, the report revealed, diminishing the crop by another 229 million bushels. The July loss had been estimated at 590 million bushels, making a total shrinkage of 819 million bushels up to Sept. 1.

Corn 24.2 Per Cent Below 1929.

"The 1930 corn crop is now forecast at 1,983 million bushels, which is 10.4 per cent less than the Aug. 1 forecast, 24.2 per cent less than the 1929 production and 26.6 per cent below the five year average production," today's report, which was dated Sept. 1, stated.

"The 1930 corn crop, as now forecast, would be the smallest crop since 1901, when 1,523 million bushels were produced. It would be the first crop in that period of 29 years to fall below 2,200 million bushels. The yield per acre of 19.5 bushels indicated by condition on Sept. 1 is also the lowest since 1901, when the yield was estimated at 16.7 bushels."

All Crops Show Decline.

Drought damage to the corn crop during the month of August struck 33 states including Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and all of the other corn belt states except Nebraska and Kansas. During the last of the month the drought extended northward from New York to the Dakotas and south into Texas.

Virtually all crops in the United States, with the exception of small grains, including wheat, which were mostly harvested before the drought set in, showed a continued decline during August, according to the crop report.

Milk Production Off.

"A wide variety of late crops has been affected," the report said. "Prospects for corn have declined by 229 million bushels or 10 per cent, potatoes by 34 millions bushels or 9 per cent, beans 11 per cent, grain sorghums 11 per cent, hay 1.3 million tons of 1 per cent, buckwheat 23 per cent, and vegetables for canning, 7 per cent.

"Tobacco, flaxseed, soy beans, cow peas, sweet potatoes, sorgo and cane for sirup, broomcorn, grapes, cabbage, and various northern vegetables show important declines. Pastures, which were at the poorest on record a month

Rails Report Income Drop; Protest Grain Rate Cuts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 10.—Net operating income of the 171 class 1 railroads in July amounted to $52,750,153, a decrease of 33.1 per cent from the total of $123,824,669 in the month last year, according to the bureau of railway economics. The decline for July of 33.1 per cent compares with a decline of 34.9 per cent in June and of 33.1 per cent for both the six months' period and the seven months' period.

Gross operating revenues for July amounted to $457,025,113, compared with $558,386,428 in July last year, a drop of 18.2 per cent. In June the gross was off 16.5 per cent for the seven months; the gross was off 13.2 per cent from the period last year.

Net railway operating income in the first seven months aggregated $468,943,343, compared with $686,391,088 in the period last year. As stated above, this was a decline of 33.1 per cent.

Operating Expenses.

Operating expenses for July amounted to $331,561,565, or 14.8 per cent lower than the total of $389,257,584 in the month last year. This reflects the economies that have been taking place latterly, as the operating expenses for the first seven months were $2,405,088,119, or only 8.9 per cent lower than the total of $2,638,936,808 for the period last year.

During the seven months' period twenty-four class 1 railroads operated at a loss. Of these seven were in the eastern, three in the southern, and fourteen in the western district.

Class 1 railroads in the eastern district for the first seven months had a net railway operating income of $258,377,697. For the same period in 1929 their net railway operating income was $365,440,483. Class 1 railroads in the southern district for the first seven months in 1930 had a net railway operating income of $48,643,822.

Class 1 railroads in the western district for the first seven months in 1930 had a net railway operating income of $151,921,824. For the first seven months in 1929, the railroads in that district had a net railway operating income of $243,503,703.

ASK FAIR RETURN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Western railroads today charged the interstate commerce commission with failure to obey that part of the transportation act requiring it to prescribe rates that will yield a fair return.

This allegation was made in a petition seeking a rehearing in the recent general grain rate case in which the commission ordered rates on grain and grain products that, according to the railroads, will reduce their revenue $20,000,000 a year. Vacation of the order also is asked.

Since August, 1920, acording to the petition, the western railroads have not earned a fair return. In five years of that period they assert, their return was less than 4 per cent on their investment, and in three years less than 4½ per cent.

The conclusion is inevitable that the carriers in the western district have been and are being held to an inadequate rate level," say the railroads.

Return for First Six Months.

For the first six months of this year the rate of return on investment of the railroads in the western district was 2.74 per cent, it is asserted in connection with a declaration that the petitioners are in a desperate plight.

In the face of earnings "constituting considerably less than a fair return," declare the western roads, "the general trend of rate adjustment must be upward rather than downward and the commission cannot lawfully make reductions in rates upon a group of commodities moving in heavy volume which will result in enormous revenue losses."

Notwithstanding that the Supreme court of the United States held that the commission had misconstrued the Hoch-Smith rate revision resolution as "requiring rates on farm products lower than could be prescribed under the regular provisions of the interstate commerce act, it is charged in the petition, the commission's decision in the grain case "has been influenced to a great extent by the terms of the Hoch-Smith resolution" as previously construed by the commission.

The rates ordered in the grain case are not to become effective until Jan. 1, 1931, under the present order of the commission.

HEAR NASH WILL TURN OUT NEW LINE OF AUTOS

Rumors were heard yesterday that the Nash Motors company will soon make an important announcement of a new line of motor cars. For some time past the industry and the trade have been looking for some such pronouncement by Nash.

The reports have reference to a new low priced eight by Nash. There are reports that this car will be the lowest priced eight in the world. It is said there will be two other eights of moderate and medium price.

There are also rumors of a low priced six cylinder car—the lowest priced car Nash has ever built. It is said shipments of this new six are already being made.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 10.—Wall street's stock market—craving the dignified pardon of the old guard—is becoming hard boiled. Nothing seems to affect it any more. It goes up or down or round and around, ignoring about everything used to be reckoned as influences in the good old days when there were price crashes or runaways to relieve the montony and a public to help pay the piper.

Today, for example, the steel tonnage statement upon which the speculative fraternity was popularly supposed to be banking so heavily came out with figures disappointing enough to be framed in a black border, and yet the market pursued the tenor of its way without a bobble. U. S. Steel, indeed, showed its indifference by pushing ahead to the best prices on the movement after the report showing, as it did, the heaviest shrinkage in the corporation's backlog since May, 1928, came out. A long list of other issues substantial enough to keep in the public eye gave performances almost as impressive.

Buying Is More Brisk.

Buying was considerably more brisk throughout the list than on Tuesday, the turnover for the day rising to 2,481,420 shares. A low wave of selling developed around midday and another set in toward the close, but aside from these the trend of prices was generally upward.

U. S. Steel lost its early lead before the final gong and wound up showing a fractional loss, but Westinghouse, Radio, Consolidated Gas, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Western Union, and most of the other

IF YOU HAD A MILLION DOLLARS

If you had a million dollars—there is probably no question in your mind that you could make it grow rapidly.

It would grow because the man who has a million dollars to invest can secure the advice of large, well-informed banking institutions; because he can get the best statistical and technical information—and, most important of all, because he can diversify his investment so widely as practically to eliminate risk.

A plan has now been devised which makes available to every investor with a hundred dollars or more, the same advantages of diversification for his investment as are enjoyed by the millionaire. This plan is embodied in Standard American Trust Shares—a fixed trust of the capital accumulation type.

Under the Standard American Trust Shares plan, a scientifically chosen list of common stocks, such as appear in the estates of men of great wealth, is assembled in a trust deposit. You can buy shares in this trust—participating in the earnings and growth of the entire deposit—just as if you were able to make an investment of millions yourself.

If you are interested in this plan, fill out the coupon below and mail it today. Complete details will be sent to you promptly.

The purchaser of Standard American Trust Shares buys an interest in the following common stocks:

CHICAGO STOCK LIST STANDS PAT ON FAIR VOLUME

Fiscal Report of U. S. Radio Causes Flareup.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Trading continued in a fair volume on the Chicago exchange yesterday, but there was a scarcity of important price changes in either direction. Bullish enthusiasm may have been dampened somewhat by the report of a large decrease in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation, but speculators seemed more or less braced for the news.

Traders are showing a disposition to ignore the "bad news" when it can be construed as water already over the dam, and are stressing the bits of evidence that turn up from time to time indicating seasonal improvement in business.

U. S. Radio Is Active.

U. S. Radio came closer to being the speculative favorite than any other issue in yesterday's trading here. A favorable report on operations for its fiscal year, which ended July 31, was issued yesterday. For a brief time the company's stock sold above 30, later reacting to finish unchanged.

The report of the United States Radio and Television corporation shows net income for the period of $365,467, equivalent to $2.56 a share on the outstanding capital stock. For the preceding eight months the company reports a net loss of $746,840.

The balance sheet disclosed current assets of $1,734,740 and current liabilities of $545,136, as compared with $3,079,434 and $2,576,647, respectively, at the close of the previous year. Inventories were reduced by $1,167,-893 during the year, bringing total inventories on July 31 to $636,898.

President J. Clarke Coit said in his letter to stockholders plant facilities had been considerably expanded during the period and production was now concentrated at the Marion, Ind., plant.

Among Other Stocks.

Among the other stocks there was little of interest to record. Majestic Household, Chicago corporation and Middle West Utilities were freely exchanged but with no significant price fluctuations. Moderate gains were registered by North American Car and Castle corporation, although trading in neither issue was particularly heavy.

Directors of the Binks Manufacturing yesterday passed the regular quarterly dividend of 56¼ cents. W. T. Clarke, secretary, stated that the company had earned dividend requirements but directors considered it inadvisable to utilize the cash on hand to meet the quarterly dividend payment.

Earlier in the day directors of the Polymet Manufacturing failed to take action on the quarterly cash dividend of 25 cents due at this time but authorized the usual dividend of 1 per cent in stock.

Automatic Washer Cuts.

Directors of the Automatic Washer company reduced the annual rate from $2 to $1 by the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 25 cents.

Not all the dividend news was unfavorable, however. Chicago Towel company voted an extra dividend of $1 in addition to its regular preferred and common dividends.

Stockholders of the Loudon Packing company have been notified of an additional offering of 15,000 shares of stock at $20 a share.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Gray cotton goods markets were quiet today, with scattered sales of print cloths, sheeting, and some other fabrics at firm prices. Naming of lower prices on percales and printed cottons brought numerous buyers into the market. Burlap cables were unchanged to a shade easier, with better inquiry for spot and afloat goods. Declines in Japan put raw prices down here in a dull market.

Saxon Public Works.

Am interested in Saxon Public Works, Inc., 5 per cent guaranteed gold notes, dated July 15, 1930, and due July 15, 1932. Your advice, opinion, etc., are of material assistance to me. The transaction is pending and calls for prompt attention.—E. I.

Saxon Public Works, Inc., was formed in 1923 to consolidate the various electrical and coal properties of the Free State of Saxony under one operating company. The company is engaged in the generation of electricity through steam power plants and its distribution throughout the Free State of Saxony and adjacent territory covering an area of 6,950 square miles and having a population of about 5,000,000. The entire capital stock of this company is owned by the Free State of Saxony.

The company's electric generating stations have an aggregate capacity of 535,000 horse power, an increase of 175 per cent during the last four years.

The notes you inquire about are a direct obligation of the company, but are not secured by mortgage. The company has agreed that as long as these notes are outstanding it will not issue in excess of $5,000,000 bonds under its general and refunding mortgage unless it shall call the notes for redemption. It also agrees that it will not execute any new mortgage without securing these notes equally and ratably.

Net earnings, before reserves for depletion and depreciation, amounted to $6,814,074 in 1929, against $5,727,588 in 1928 and $4,616,837 in 1927. Annual interest on the total funded debt, including this $10,000,000 issue of notes, amounts to $2,709,221.

The notes are guaranteed unconditionally as to principal and interest by the Free State of Saxony.

They offer a high grade short term investment for a business man's funds.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil.

Will you please let me know how the business of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company this year compares with last year's business?—W. S. H.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company was originally engaged in the mining and marketing of coal. It is no longer an active coal producer, but produces, refines, and markets crude oil, casinghead gasoline, and natural gas.

The company's prospects hinge largely on developments in the oil market and the success of plans to curtail oil production.

For the six months ended June 30, 1930, gross was $4,309,092, against $4,683,250 in the first half of 1929. Profit, before depreciation and depletion, was $647,553, against $969,655. In the June quarter such profit was $273,519, against $541,513 in the June quarter of 1929.

The stock is a speculation.

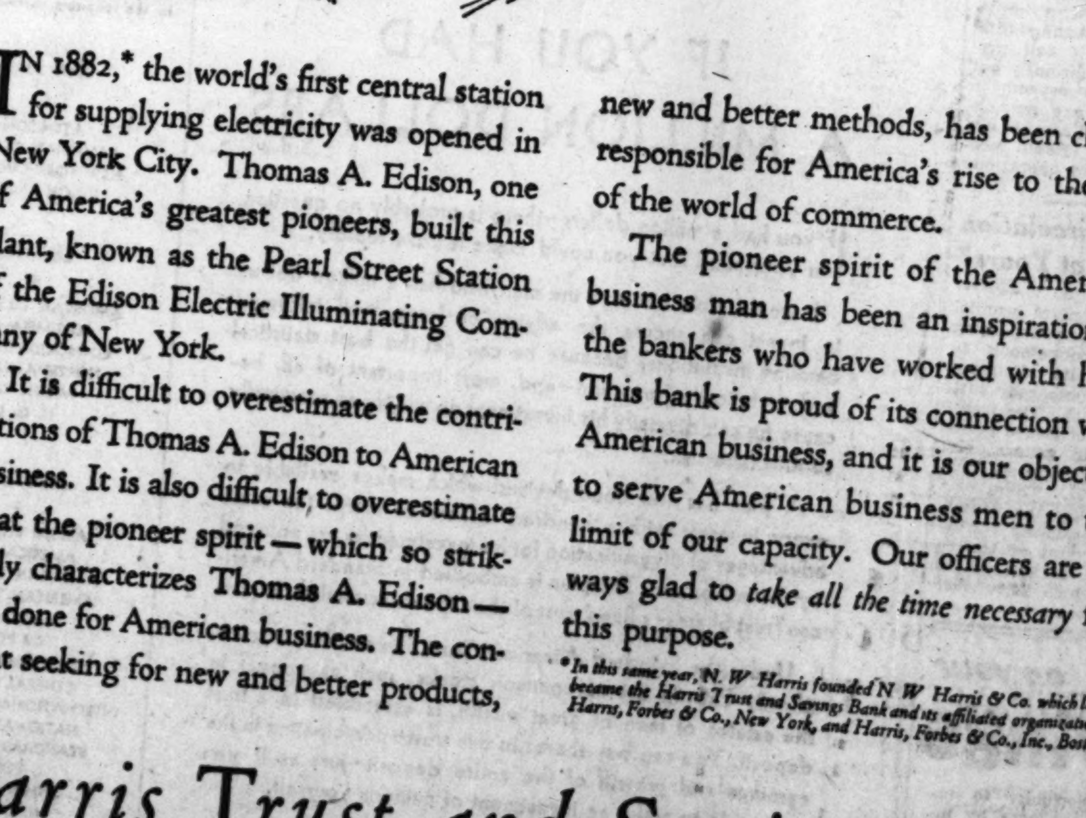
The First Electric Light Plant



Dynamo Room of Pearl Street Station, 1882

IN 1882,* the world's first central station for supplying electricity was opened in New York City. Thomas A. Edison, one of America's greatest pioneers, built this plant, known as the Pearl Street Station of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York.

It is difficult to overestimate the contributions of Thomas A. Edison to American business. It is also difficult to overestimate what the pioneer spirit—which so strikingly characterizes Thomas A. Edison—has done for American business. The constant seeking for new and better products, new and better methods, has been chiefly responsible for America's rise to the top of the world of commerce.

The pioneer spirit of the American business man has been an inspiration to the bankers who have worked with him. This bank is proud of its connection with American business, and it is our objective to serve American business men to the limit of our capacity. Our officers are always glad to take all the time necessary for this purpose.

In this same year, N. W. Harris founded N. W. Harris & Co. which later became the Harris Trust and Savings Bank and its affiliated organizations, Harris, Forbes & Co., New York, and Harris, Forbes & Co., Inc., Boston.*

CUTS RATES.

J. F. Owens, vice president and general manager Oklahoma Gas and Electric company, has announced reductions in residential and commercial lighting rates affecting 210 towns in the company's system.

The foundations of many fortunes have been laid.....

The time to prepare for the future is NOW!

TODAY, throughout the country, forces are shaping that will mould the destinies of the nation's industries many years hence. Some industries are sinking slowly but surely, carried down by economic forces no human ingenuity can resist. Others are due to expand amazingly. To the business executives and investors able to interpret the trend of these forces will go a large share in the nation's leadership—and wealth—a decade hence.

All this is clearly apparent. The great difficulty lies in the fact that these forces are so vast, so intricate and far-reaching, that they are beyond the power of any one human brain to measure.

An organization that meets a great need

It was this circumstance that brought the Standard Statistics Company into being twenty-five years ago—that explains its existence at this moment as the world's largest statistical organization.

For "Standard," by the carefully organized effort of more than a thousand brains, is able to achieve results far beyond the reach of any one man. It is an organization of specialists. There are specialists here on the broad economic forces that affect all business: banking, credit, foreign trade and all other similar considerations. There are specialists on the automobile industry, on the steel industry, on the building industry—on each of the other key industries.

Other specialists are continually at work analyzing corporations, searching out elements of strength or weakness.

Another group is in the field continually—interviewing corporation executives, searching for information of a type that never appears in the news or in corporation statements, checking their own conclusions concerning each industry with men who are living with the problems they are investigating.

Every step in the task of gathering the vital facts of business and interpreting their meaning in terms of the future, is entrusted to men who are specialists in the fields they cover.

When Nathan Rothschild got the facts

The black days of the Napoleonic Wars laid the foundations for the fortunes of the great house of Rothschild — today one of the largest in the world. Using the swiftest means of communication available—carrier pigeons, special couriers—Nathan Rothschild got the facts—then acted on them! The first in London to learn the outcome of the Battle of Waterloo, he bought sound securities at bottom prices while others were selling in panic.

Service designed for men whose time is always crowded

The mere existence of all this immensely valuable information would be meaningless to a man who did not have the time to use it. This fact has brought into play the abilities of still another group of specialists—men trained in the technique of making facts and conclusions accessible and easily understood.

The output of this composite brain appears in its final form in Standard Services. Here the scientific business man can secure intimate, immediate contact with the forces and industries on which his business depends. These Services are of many types to fit the varying individual needs of business executives and investors.

"Standard's" Chicago office maintains constant communication with the main office in New York, and is fully equipped to give clients prompt and efficient service.

A Path to Larger Profits

A pamphlet entitled "A Path to Larger Profits" tells about one of the most widely used of the Standard Services. Every investor—every business man who must plan for the future—every business man whose business depends on other businesses and other industries—will find a careful reading of this pamphlet well worth-while. We will be happy to send you a copy, without obligation, if you will mail the coupon below.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Natural Gas Stocks.

Last spring the natural gas stocks were all the rage on the stock exchange and curb. In the past few days some of these stocks have been active again at higher prices, and brokers are predicting their return to popularity.

Income Estimate.

According to latest available estimate earnings of Montreal Light, Heat, and Power Consolidated for the current year should be in the neighborhood of $1 ,000,000. In the previous year the coöperation earned $8,737,639.

Pennroad Activity.

Apparently there is no special reason for the revival of activity in Pennroad corporation. The stock has shown a much firmer undertone in the past week and has been able to register a fractional gain. Pennroad, as is well known, has important interests in many railroads.

Create Interest.

The new Diamond Match issues have created greater interest than has been seen in any "when issued" stocks in some time. Split-ups, these days, are rare.

TRUSTEE: IRVING TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, N. Y.

For further particulars concerning the Corporation and its Gold Debentures, 5% Series due 2030, we refer to the letter of Mr. C. E. Groesbeck, President of the Corporation, which we summarize as follows:

Business and Territory Electric Power & Light Corporation controls a diversified group of companies supplying electric power and light service in the ten states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Oregon; natural gas service in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi; and other public utility service in some of these states. The operating subsidiaries serve a total of 1036 communities, and the aggregate population of the territory served is estimated at 3,510,000. Electric properties in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi are interconnected and operated as a unit, including the properties of New Orleans Public Service Inc. now tied in by a transmission line placed in service last month.

The Corporation, through its recently created subsidiary, United Gas Corporation (incorporated March 29, 1930), occupies an important position in the natural gas industry. Extensive gas reserves are owned in Texas and Louisiana. The gas sendout of subsidiaries is marketed by them at wholesale or retail, or is sold by them under long-term contracts to other companies, for industrial and domestic consumption in a territory extending from St. Louis on the north to Monterey, Mexico, on the south, including among other cities, St. Louis, Atlanta, Birmingham, Memphis, Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Shreveport, New Orleans, Monroe, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Laredo and Monterey. Natural gas sendout for the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, exceeded 190 billion cubic feet. A large volume of the gas is utilized by electric generating stations of subsidiaries of the Corporation and other public utility companies in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas and nearby states as fuel for the generation of electric energy.

Consolidated Statement For the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, earnings of the Corporation (including undistributed earnings of subsidiaries after Renewal and Replacement and Depletion Appropriations), as shown in the President's letter, were equal to more than 8 times the annual interest requirements on the $31,000,000 Gold Debentures presently to be outstanding and including this issue.

Equity The Gold Debentures are followed by Preferred Stocks, Second Preferred Stock, Series A, and Common Stock, which have an indicated market value, based upon present quotations, aggregating approximately $200,000,000.

Supervision Electric Bond and Share Company is identified in a supervisory capacity (under the direction and control of the Boards of Directors of the respective companies) with the operations of Electric Power & Light Corporation and its subsidiary companies.

Legal matters in connection with the issuance of these Gold Debentures will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts of New York and for the Corporation by Messrs. Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett of New York.

These Debentures are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel at 92½ and accrued interest, to yield 5.40%

STOCK MARKET, IT SEEMS, IS A BIT HARDBOILED

recognized leaders were better than even on the day. The rest of the list showed a preponderance of gains of from a fraction to 2 points or so.

Other News Conflicting.

Aside from the steel report, the news that might be expected to influence operations was conflicting. Reports of a marked turn for the better in retail buying helped the merchandise shares, and word that Roger Babson, remembered for his prediction of the market break last fall, had taken a definitely bullish stand on the business outlook for the fall was credited with helping to give sentiment a more cheerful tone. Against the Babsonian ruminations, however, the bears were able to balance a rather pessimistic summary of the trade outlook by the Brookmire Economic Service, one of the Boston man's chief competitors, and somewhat gloomy utterances by Henry Ford and James Speyer, the banker.

Observers whose words usually carry weight believe that the present progress of the market in the face of such obstacles as keep developing in its path is due as much as anything else to an abundance of cheap money and a grim determination on the part of certain operators on the long side to "play along" until it is certain that a bull market is impossible.

GRAIN VALUES EVEN UP FOR CROP REPORTS

Sufficient Buying Lifts Wheat Prices 1c.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Evening up for the American and Canadian government crop reports, due after the close, constituted the bulk of the trading in grains yesterday. Wheat showed a firm undertone the greater part of the day, as there was a change in the general character of the news from Europe, with October in Liverpool closing ⅛d higher and going to a premium over the deferred futures for the first time in some years.

Sufficient buying developed to lift local wheat prices around 1c from the previous finish and the close was ⅛@⅞c higher, with September, 83½c; December, 88⅛@88⅝c, and May at 95⅛@95½c.

Withdrawals of offers of Russian wheat from the European markets, and reports that India had ceased offering and had bought a cargo of Australian grain was largely responsible for the strength in Liverpool. The action of the October delivery there was taken as indicating a lack of pressure of cash grain. This was reflected in purchases of 500,000 to 600,000 bu North American wheat, but the total was not sufficiently large to have much effect on sentiment.

Lower Canadian Estimates.

An estimate of 336,000,000 bu wheat for the three Canadian provinces was made by the Winnipeg Free Press, which is regarded as one of the best authorities in Canada. This compared with 282,000,000 bu harvested last year and was well below recent trade figures. The Searle Grain company of Winnipeg estimated the crop at 392,000,000 bu. Winnipeg showed fair strength and closed 1@1⅛c higher for the day. October there closed at 83½c, or the same as Chicago September, as compared with ¾c discount on Tuesday.

The disposition on the part of the American trade is to go slow on either side of the market pending further developments in the world situation. Bullish news on wheat of late has had little effect, and the market tends to react rather sharply from bulges, especially after the technical position has been weakened. A marked revival in the export demand and in general speculative trading is regarded as necessary to get the market out of the rut.

Hedging sales from the northwest were in evidence yesterday, and there was also selling of May here against purchases at Winnipeg by spreaders, and buying of wheat and selling of corn to close spreads.

September Corn Easy.

Deliveries of 110,000 bu corn on September contracts led to scattered selling and a decline of ⅛c for the day, the close being at 97c. Local operators and scattered commission houses gave the deferred futures a firm undertone within a range of less than 1c, expectations being that the government report would make a bullish showing. Closing sales were unchanged to ⅛c higher with December at 92⅛@92¼c, and May at 96⅛c.

It was the gossip of the cash corn handlers that eastern consumers and distributors were holding off in taking cash grain as long as possible, pending an analysis of the government report. There is also a disposition to wait and see what comes of the expected importations of Argentine grain. Should anything happen to start a buying movement a sharp advance in the price of the cash grain may be anticipated, as there are small stocks available at terminal markets. South Africa cleared 187,000 bu corn to Canada this week.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter and fresh egg prices showed little change. Live hens advanced 1c, with leghorn hens 2c higher and spring ducks 1c higher. Receipts, 5 cars. Potatoes, easier, due to less aggressive demand. Receipts, 91 cars, with 238 cars on team track.

Cites Justification for Rail Electrification Here

BY SCRUTATOR.

Electrification of steam railroads has proceeded faster on the continent of Europe than in the United States, where it has progressed faster in the east than in the middle west. Some evaluation of the reasons has been made; possibly a few that would clarify the matter have been largely overlooked.

The European angle might be dismissed with the comment that heavy mountain grades and water power, coupled with meager coal supplies, have tended to promote electrification in Switzerland, in France and in Italy. The same reasons have impelled what electrification as has been accomplished in the Rocky mountains.

With the Chicago area and New York-Philadelphia, causes and effects are much different. East and west metropolitan problems are those of traffic density, of smoke nuisance to millions, of a more attractive service for passengers and of swifter movement of freight. Scarcity of coal and heavy grades do not come into the picture.

Supplies Interesting Study.

Why a number of eastern railroads have concentrated their electrical activity near the seaboard and have left Chicago with only the Illinois Central to break the traditions of steam operation would furnish an interesting study. Programs calling for the spending of 158 million dollars in the east are now being pushed forward; none of moment is in contemplation by roads west of Cleveland, where a terminal is already electrified.

First of all, eastern public authority operating through the courts and legislators has exerted more pressure. Legislation made the Long Island railroad electrify thirty-eight miles in 1905. A court order sent fifty-three miles of New York Central track into the same motive power a year later. The New Haven put twenty-one miles of electrified road into service in 1910, because legislation required it at the New York terminus.

Civic compulsion, according to John E. McCallum, writing in the Harvard Business Review some months back, gave the New Haven forty-eight miles of electrified track and the progressive directorate raised the mileage to 650. Now the Pennsylvania has an immediate program to carry it from New York to Wilmington, and a long time one that will reach Washington. Apparently it saw a threat to a continuance of high speed traffic as amount of its business increased in future.

Experience Demonstrates.

It may have wished to get more work out of its tracks. Experience has demonstrated that trains can be increased by a third in number and operated from 11 to 28 per cent faster electrically in suburban areas. To turn away business is unpleasant. To build more tracks often is economically impossible. To get the most out of the existing tracks is the best solution.

In and about Chicago the railroads have maintained it is too costly for them to electrify. It is debatable whether many of the eastern electrifications are immediately profitable. There has always been something like a confession of faith in the future in their spending since the public demanded it.

Air rights in New York have been pointed out as cutting down the actual expenditures. Air rights on electrified roads in Chicago probably will be worth many millions more than at present. Mr. McCallum found that electric locomotives ran upward of 3,000 miles before needing adjustment while common practice in steam was to inspect and adjust locomotives at 200 to 250 miles.

Most of the reasons for electrifying New York, Philadelphia, and Cleveland apply with the same force to Chicago. Certainly the public interest is nowise different. If Chicago were congested in rail facilities instead of the world's choicest spot in physical equipment we might see magnates battling to get electric service in—and making money thereby.

REALTORS HOLD ANNUAL OUTING IN LAKE COUNTY

BY AL CHASE.

Several hundred realtors laid aside their business duties yesterday and journeyed across the Cook county northern boundry line into Lake county, with the Countryside Golf club as their destination. There the Chicago realty men were the guests of Samuel Insull indirectly, with the Countryside Golf club and the Public Service company of Northern Illinois as official hosts. This is the first time the annual stag outing of the Chicago Real Estate board has been held in Lake county.

The realtors were thoroughly shown the development of the Libertyville-Mundelein region by their hosts. Those who weren't too busy with golf made bus trips during the day through the grounds of St. Mary of the Lake seminary and parties were taken on inspection trips over the model farm of the Public Service company.

Start Outing with Luncheon.

The outing began with a band concert and a barbecue luncheon. At noon the golfers started playing and an hour later various games and sports began. Baseball, tennis, horseshoes, etc. on the Countryside playfield were followed by a series of races and games under the supervision of a professional playground director. Many of these had never been on a realty outing program.

At 6 o'clock every one but a few of the most enthusiastic golfers knocked off play and dinner was held on the playfield. Prizes were awarded and music was furnished by the North Shore Line band.

Crandon Avenue Deal.

Charles L. Roberts has traded his twenty-four flat building at the northeast corner of 70th street and Crandon avenue, known as the Alice apartments, with Martin J. McHugh for the twelve flats at the northwest corner of Marquette and Elfis. Anderson & Anderson and Sherman & Lewis were attorneys.

Max H. Insrael has sold the six apartment building at 5212-14 Kimbark avenue, lot 50x200, to Thomas P. Riordan for an undisclosed consideration. Paul H. Hazard & Co. were brokers.

CORN DAMAGE DUE TO DROUGHT 792 MILLIONS

August Loss Heavy, Crop Report Says.

ago, declined to a new low record on Sept. 1, and milk production per cow, largely as a consequence, was reduced 6.4 per cent below production on Sept. 1 last year. Egg production per hen is also sharply lower in the drought areas, and on Sept. 1 averaged about 6 per cent less than a year ago."

Total Spring Wheat Crop.

A total spring wheat crop of 240,000,000 bu has been raised this season, or practically the same as given by private returns, comparing with 223,000,000 bu indicated on Aug. 1, and with 228,000,000 bu harvested last year. Total crop of all wheat is placed at 838,000,000 bu, or 32,000,000 bu in excess of the return in 1929.

On the basis of 750,000,000 bu wheat being needed for bread, feed and seed and allowing for a carryover of 125,000,000 bu, it is estimated that the United States has about 240,000,000 bu wheat available for export during the 1930-'31 season. The carryover at the end of the previous season was 280,000,000 bu which must be added to the crop of 838,000,000 bu.

Canada has an indicated crop of all wheat of 385,000,000 bu this year or 79,000,000 bu in excess of last year's revised returns, while the three prairie provinces raised 362,000,000 bu, compared with 282,000,000 bu in 1929, according to the Canadian government report. Oats crop of all provinces is 439,000,000 bu, against 283,000,000 bu in 1929, while barley crop is 138,000,000 bu, or 36,000,000 bu more than last year.

Suggests Yield.

Production of the five grains as indicated by the government crop report for September, suggests a probable yield of 4,581,000,000 bu, a decrease of 121,000,000 bu from the August returns compared with 4,999,000,000 bu harvested last year, a loss of 418,000,000 bu, and considered with the average of 5,197,000,000 bu, the loss is 616,000,000 bu. The latter is one of the heaviest reductions in recent years.

There has been a loss in the corn crop from the July returns of 818,000,000 bu. It is seldom, if ever, that there has been such a loss in corn crop prospects in 60 days. The government crop report issued yesterday indicated a small improvement in late corn, but the general condition remains low.

Yield per acre of corn of 19.5 bu is around the lowest since 1894 when the crop was 1,213,000,000 bu. The lowest on record was 1901 when 16.4 bu per acre were raised, the crop that year being 1,523,000,000 bu.

COTTON UNSETTLED

Cotton prices advanced early yesterday with a break later and another rally, with the close toward the best prices with net gains of futures in Chicago of 23 to 28 points and in other markets 26 to 34 points, New York being the strongest. Spots in New York were up 30 points to 1.50c, with New Orleans up 25 points to 11c with Galveston and Houston 11.20c. Liverpool closed 15 points higher, with spot sales 7,000 bales.

Traders look for the real test of the market to be felt in the next four or five weeks and buyers are inclined to go slow and to confine their commitments to weak spots. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw, showed a further decline of 1 point today under increased offerings of nearby duty frees. Sales reported were 49,500 bags of Philippines due this month to local and outport refiners at 3.13c delivered. Press reports from Washington to the effect that the federal farm board would not lend its active support to the recent proposal by Cuban interests to limit beet and cane sugar production in the United States, and the further loss in the spot market were responsible for an easier trend in raw futures with all of the new crop position selling into new low ground for the season. Top yesterday, $9.40; average $8.35.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 8,000 cattle, 22,000 hogs, and 27,000 sheep.

Increased receipts failed to weaken the market for yearling steers and lambs yesterday. The former soared to a top of $13.00, highest paid for cattle since June 11. Last May, however, the top was up to $14.75 and in January top steers sold at $16.75, the year's peak.

Lambs opened steady, but finished active at 15@25c higher prices, both natives and westerns going to larger packers at $9.40, the day's peak. Hogs sold steady to 15c lower, but buying on the break was active and a good clearance was affected. Larger houses were principal operators at the close.

Relatively lower prices at leading outside hog markets curtailed shipping orders, resulting in a "bargain" trade for local interests. Armour, Swift, and Wilson bought readily on the break, handling a combined total of 8,000 head, nearly 40 per cent of the total supply of fresh and holdover hogs. Only between 3,000 and 4,000 remained at the finish.

Limits Buying.

Another decline in the wholesale market for fresh pork loins limited the buying power of smaller packers and city butchers. Points in the middle west which are usually in line with Chicago reported top prices at $11.00 and $11.10. The Chicago peak reached $11.30, while the general average moved down 10c at $10.30.

The advance estimate at five markets shows 45,000 hogs for today against 43,600 for the previous Thursday, Chicago showing an increase, while other points decreased. There has been an immense decrease in hog receipts during the last few weeks. From July 5 to Sept. 6, inclusive, nine leading points slaughtered a total of 3,227,301 hogs under federal inspection, against 3,780,517 a year ago, a decrease of 15 per cent, or more than a half million head.

Demand shifted from winter contracts to hogs to be delivered during the present month on the futures market yesterday. September mediums advanced to $11.00 in mid-day, after opening at $10.95, equaling the highest sales of September mediums since the futures hog market was established at Chicago last March. December mediums sold steady at $9.15 and January mediums brought $9.40.

While highly finished light steers and yearlings shot upward to new high prices, the market for medium and heavy steers proved a draggy, weak to lower affair. The range of prices reached the widest point in recent weeks, steers of beef merit selling within a range of $6.50@13.00, showing a spread of $6.50. Fancy 858 lb yearlings brought $13.00, the peak, while $12.90 was paid for 963 lb averages and numerous loads of yearlings sold at $12.50@12.75. Prime 1,406@1,516 lb steers stopped at $12.00 and long fed 1,600 lb averages were sold at $11.00.

Lambs in Demand.

After a comparatively slow opening at steady prices, activity featured the lamb market and gains of 15@25c were noted on closing rounds, the high point of the day. The $9.00 line was the practical top at the opening, when a few "hand picked" natives to city butchers reached $9.35. At the close, however, both natives and westerns to larger interests went over the scales at $9.40, the highest paid for lambs in two weeks.

LARD TRADE LIGHT

Business in lard futures yesterday was the lightest in a week. A little liquidation in the nearby deliveries was on, with offerings absorbed by packing interests who in turn sold December. Distant futures were bought in a limited way and prices had a small range. While September closed 5c lower other months were unchanged to 2½c higher, the latter on January. Deliveries of cash lard were 250,000 lbs on September contracts. Hog receipts were comparatively small yet prices were 10 to 15c lower. September bellies were offered at a decline of 10c. Regular cash bellies were 14½ to 14¾c, with demand less urgent. The general cash trade in lard and meats was fair. Prices follow:

BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter futures wavered after showing early strength on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, selling pressure at the close forcing the price downward. Encouraging statistical news failed to prevent the decline. November closed at 39⅝@39¾c, off ⅛@¼c from the previous close, December losing ¼c at 39⅞c. Egg futures met further selling pressure. November dipping to 27⅜@27½c at the close, off ⅛@¼c from the previous close. December eggs were sold at 28c, off 1c from the previous sale, over a week ago.

Bullish activity started butter futures forward at the opening but the market hesitated at the peak of 40c and a selling drive started. Sales—Butter: November, 162 cars; December, 18 cars. Eggs: November, 87 cars; December, 1 car. Receipts: Butter, 5,871 tubs; eggs, 7,825 cases. Prices follow:

CITY BANK FARMERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, Corporate Trustee.

The issuance and sale of these Bonds are subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In the opinion of counsel these bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in the States of New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and other states.

For further information regarding the Company and this issue of Bonds, reference is made to a letter dated September 9, 1930, from Fred W. Sargent, Esq., President of the Chicago and North Western Railway Company, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned, and from which the following is quoted:

The purpose of the sale of these Bonds is to reimburse the treasury of the Company for expenditures heretofore made for additions, betterments and improvements to the Company's property subject to the lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage.

The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds are secured by a lien on all the Company's lines of railway owned at the date of the mortgage and their equipment and appurtenances, including the very extensive and valuable terminals of the Company in the cities of Chicago and Milwaukee and in other cities which it serves, together with all other property thereafter acquired by the use of bonds secured by the First and Refunding Mortgage. The Company's lines of railroad aggregate 8,384.53 miles first main track on 1,286.22 of which the First and Refunding Mortgage is a first lien, while on the remaining mileage, said equipment, etc., it is or will be subject, in so far as such bonds have liens on the several parts thereof, to $216,022,000 prior bonds (including General Mortgage Bonds which may still be issued for other than refunding purposes), for the refunding of which a like face amount of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds is reserved. The Company covenants not to renew or extend any of the prior bonds. The prior bonds for which General Mortgage Bonds are reserved may be refunded by the use of either General Mortgage Bonds or First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds. The Company's $6,571,000 5% Debentures of 1933, included in the above mentioned prior bonds, are entitled to share, to the extent required by their terms in the security of the General Mortgage and the First and Refunding Mortgage. The entire funded debt of the Company, secured by mortgage or the pledge of mortgage bonds, (excluding Equipment Trust Certificates and the unsecured Convertible Debenture Bonds) outstanding in the hands of the public after the issuance of these $12,000,000 First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, will amount to $243,380,000, equal to only $29,027 per mile of first main track.

The Chicago and North Western Railway Company serves the important territory between the Great Lakes and the Missouri River Valley, and to the west thereof its lines extend into the states of South Dakota, Nebraska and Wyoming. The lines of the Company connect such important centers as Chicago, Illinois, Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin, Des Moines, Sioux City and Council Bluffs, Iowa, Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska, and Pierre, South Dakota. At Council Bluffs the Company's lines connect with those of the Union Pacific System, thus forming an important link in a through passenger route to the Pacific Coast.

The revenues and income of the Company during the past five years have been as follows:

Years Ended Dec. 31	Gross Income applicable to the payment of interest on funded debt and other items	Interest on funded debt and other items	Balance applicable to dividends
1925	$23,424,996.11	$12,640,418.09	$10,784,578.02
1926	25,000,542.08	12,580,700.75	12,419,841.33
1927	23,097,519.60	13,171,455.79	9,926,062.81
1928	25,570,846.92	13,512,256.52	12,058,590.40
1929	29,411,516.55	13,812,460.52	15,599,056.03

On account of unfavorable business conditions, the earnings for the current year to date compared with the same period of previous years have shown a large decrease, but it is estimated that for the full year 1930 earnings applicable to fixed charges and other items will amount to over one and one-half times interest on funded debt and other items for the same period.

The First and Refunding Mortgage 4½% Gold Bonds are secured by a mortgage dated May 1, 1920. The total amount of bonds which may at any one time be outstanding under this mortgage is limited to an amount which, together with all outstanding prior debt of the Railway Company, as defined in the said mortgage, after deducting therefrom the amount of all bonds reserved to refund prior debt at or before maturity, shall never exceed three times the par value of the then outstanding capital stock of the Railway Company.

In addition to the $12,000,000 Series "C" 4½% Bonds which you have agreed to purchase, $20,572,000 4½% Bonds and $15,250,000 of 5% Bonds secured by this mortgage are outstanding in the hands of the public. In addition to the Bonds reserved for the refunding as above stated, bonds may be issued under the First and Refunding Mortgage for the construction or acquisition of railroads, for additions and betterments, rolling stock and floating equipment to become subject to the mortgage. The Company has the right in the manner provided in the mortgage to reserve or to issue bonds to refund the indebtedness of other companies which it may acquire through purchase, consolidation or merger and whose properties shall become subject to the lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage.

Application will be made in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

THE UNDERSIGNED OFFER THE ABOVE BONDS, SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE, AT 99¾% AND ACCRUED INTEREST TO DATE OF DELIVERY.

The above bonds are offered if, when and as issued and received by the undersigned and subject to the approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the issuance and sale of the bonds and to the approval by counsel of all legal proceedings in connection with the issuance thereof. Permanent bonds will be delivered against payment in New York funds for bonds allotted.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Mr. Clement is the vicar of a country village in England. His attractive wife, Griselda, is nearly twenty years his junior. The vicar's young nephew, Dennis, lives with him.

Colonel Protheroe, a pompous parishioner, who makes life miserable for his daughter, Lettice, and his second wife, is expected at the vicarage at 6:15 one evening. At 5:30 the vicar is called to visit a dying parishioner, and leaves word for the colonel that he will be late. On returning at 7 the vicar meets Lawrence Redding, an artist, who is living in a studio on the vicarage grounds, coming out of the house in an agitated state. The day before the vicar had discovered the artist and Mrs. Protheroe in each others' arms and they had confessed to him their love for each other. In his study the vicar finds the colonel sprawled across the desk, shot through the head, murdered, apparently, as no weapon is found. Dr. Haydock is sent for, and he says Protheroe has been dead half an hour and calls the police. A note which the colonel started to write to the vicar is headed 6:20. A clock, overturned when the colonel fell forward, stopped at 6:22, but it was always kept fifteen minutes fast.

Lawrence Redding confesses he murdered Colonel Protheroe. Shortly after Mrs. Protheroe tells Colonel Melchett, the chief constable of the county, that she shot her husband.

Miss Marple, whose house adjoins the vicarage, saw Anne Protheroe going to the vicarage about 6:15. From there she went to the studio. She carried no handbag and had no place to conceal a weapon. Redding came along shortly after and joined her at the studio. They came out about twenty minutes later and walked towards the village.

Lawrence and Anne admit they had confessed the crime, thinking the other had committed it. Lawrence said he had come back to see the vicar after leaving Anne and had found his pistol lying on the floor beside Colonel Protheroe, and thought Anne must have shot it.

Mrs. Price Ridley, a neighbor of the vicar, calls at the police station to complain about a threatening telephone call she had received.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

A LOT OF QUEER THINGS.

"I felt quite faint," continued Mrs. Price Ridley. "All on edge and so nervous that when I heard a shot in the woods, I do declare I jumped almost out of my skin. That will show you."

"A shot in the woods?" said Inspector Slack, alertly.

"In my excited state it simply sounded to me like a cannon going off. 'O!' I said, and sank down on the sofa in a state of prostration. Clara had to bring me a glass of Damson gin."

"Shocking!" said Melchett. "Shocking! All very trying for you. And the shot sounded very loud, you say? As though it were near at hand?"

"That was simply the state of my nerves."

"Of course. And what time was all this? To help us in tracing the telephone call, you know."

"About half-past six."

"You can't tell us more exactly than that?"

"Well, you see, the little clock on my mantelpiece had just chimed the half hour, and I said, 'Surely, that clock is fast.' It does gain, that clock. And I compared it with the watch I was wearing, and that only said ten minutes past; but then I put it to my ear and found it had stopped. So I thought, 'Well, if that clock is fast, I shall hear the church tower in a moment or two.' And then, of course, the telephone bell rang and I forgot all about it."

"That lets Anne Protheroe out," he said.

"Well, that's near enough," said Colonel Melchett. "We'll have it looked into for you, Mrs. Price Ridley."

"Just think of it as a silly joke and don't worry, Mrs. Price Ridley," I said.

She looked at me coldly. Evidently the incident of the pound note still rankled.

"Very strange things have been happening in this village lately," she said, addressing herself to Melchett. "Very strange things, indeed. Colonel Protheroe was going to look into them, and what happened to him, poor man? Perhaps I shall be the next."

And on that she took her departure, shaking her head with a kind of ominous melancholy. Melchett muttered under his breath, "No such luck." Then his face grew grave and he looked inquiringly at Inspector Slack.

That worthy nodded his head slowly.

"This about settles it, sir. That's three people who heard the shot. We've got to find out now who fired it. This business of Mr. Redding's has delayed us. But we've got several starting points. Thinking Mr. Redding was guilty, I didn't bother to look into them. But that's all changed now. And now one of the first things to do is to look up that telephone call."

"Mrs. Price Ridley's?"

"No—though I suppose we'd better make a note of that, or else we shall have the old girl bothering in here again. No, I meant that fake call that got the vicar out of the way."

"Yes," said Melchett. "That's important."

"And the next thing is to find out what every one was doing that evening between six and seven. Every one at Old Hall, I mean, and pretty well every one in the village as well."

I gave a sight. "What wonderful energy you have, Inspector Slack."

"I believe in hard work. We'll begin by just noting down your own movements, Mr. Clement."

"Willingly. The telephone call came through about half-past five."

"A man's voice or a woman's?"

"A woman's. At least it sounded like a woman's. But, of course, I took it for granted it was Mrs. Abbott speaking."

"You didn't recognize it as being Mrs. Abbott's?"

"No, I can't say I did. I didn't notice the voice particularly."

"And you started right away? Walked? Haven't you got a bicycle?"

"No."

"I see. So it took you—how long?"

"It's very nearly two miles, whichever way you go."

"Through Old Hall woods is the shortest way, isn't it?"

"Actually, yes. But it's not particularly good going. I went and came back by the footpath across the fields."

"The one that comes out opposite the vicarage gate?"

"Yes."

"And Mrs. Clement?"

"My wife was in London. She arrived back by the 6:50 train."

"Right. The maid I've seen. That finishes with the vicarage. I'll be off to Old Hall next. And then I want an interview with Mrs. Lestrange. Queer, her going to see Protheroe the night before he was killed."

I agreed.

Glancing at the clock, I realized that it was nearly lunch time. I invited Melchett to partake of pot luck with us, but he excused himself on the plea of having to go to the Blue Boar.

On my way home I ran into Miss Hartnell, and she detained me at least ten minutes, declaiming in her deep bass voice against the improvidence and ungratefulness of the lower classes. The crux of the matter seemed to be that the poor did not want Miss Hartnell in their houses. My sympathies were entirely on their side. I am debarred by my social standing from expressing my prejudices in the forceful manner they do.

I soothed her as best I could and made my escape.

Haydock overtook me in his car at the corner of the vicarage road.

"I've just taken Mrs. Protheroe home," he called.

He waited for me at the gate of his house.

"Come in a minute," he said.

"This is an extraordinary business," he said as he threw his hat on a chair and opened the door into his surgery.

He sank down on a shabby leather chair and stared across the room. He looked harried and perplexed.

I told him that we had succeeded in fixing the time of the shot. He listened with an almost abstracted air.

"That lets Anne Protheroe out," he said. "Well, well, I'm glad it's neither of those two. I like 'em both."

I believed him, and yet it occurred to me to wonder why, since, as he said, he liked them both, their freedom from complicity seemed to have had the result of plunging him in gloom. This morning he had looked like a man with a weight lifted from his mind; now he looked thoroughly rattled and upset.

And yet I was convinced that he meant what he said. He was fond of both Anne Protheroe and Lawrence Redding. Why, then, this gloomy absorption?

He roused himself with an effort.

"I meant to tell you about Hawes. All this business has driven him out of my mind."

"Is he really ill?"

"There's nothing radically wrong with him. You know, of course, that he had encephalitis lethargica—sleeping sickness, as it's commonly called?"

"No," I said, very much surprised. "I didn't know anything of the kind. He never told me anything about it. When did he have it?"

"About a year ago. He recovered all right—as far as one ever recovers. It's a strange disease—has a queer moral effect. The whole character may change after it."

He was silent for a moment or two and then said:

"You know, I'd rather have my job than yours."

"Why?"

"Because your job deals very largely with what we call right and wrong—and I'm not at all sure that there's any such thing."

BY ROBERTA NANGLE.

Here's an old familiar dish, warmed over and served up for the third time with a richer flavor and heartier punch than ever. Rex Beach's Alaskan thriller, twice used for silent movies and now enhanced with dialogue and sound effects, has drama, romance, suspense, color, action, and all the other ingredients that combine to make great cinematic fare.

The story is a lively piece about the great rush for gold in the hills of Alaska. Glenister, a hard fighting youth, reared in "them thar hills," and two grizzly old timers lead a battle to preserve the old settlers' claims from a crooked government official. The old timers prefer to settle the matter with their fists and guns, but their young partner, due to the civilizing influence of a young lady from the east, persuades them to give the government a chance to right its own wrongs.

The plot probably is too well known to need an elaborate synopsis here, so I'll fill the rest of this space with bouquets for the cast. Every rôle in the picture is played for all it's worth.

To begin with, there's Gary Cooper portraying Glenister with that wistful gruffness that makes the ladies love him. He gets admirable support from James Kirkwood and Slim Summerville, who play the two valiant old frontier heroes with a fine touch of humor. Then there's Harry Green's Hebraic comedy in the rôle of a bargaining storekeeper.

If Harry's voice and features delight you as they do me, that's enough said about him.

Kay Johnson and Betty Compson share the feminine honors. Miss Johnson, looking lovely despite the clumsy sports costumes of the nineties, makes the heroine the sort of a girl who's be a great help to a husband on a wild frontier. Honesty, loyalty, and a sense of humor are conveyed beautifully in her portrayal. Betty Compson, as a dance hall queen who loves the hero in vain, contributes her usual fine performance.

Direction is fine, dialogue sparkling, and California scenery makes a convincing Alaskan background.

Kin of Rosenwald to Buy Noted Home in the Adirondacks

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 10.—[Special.]—White Pine Camp, the Adirondack summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Kirkwood and which served as a summer White House for President Coolidge in 1926 is under contract to be purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Stern of New Orleans at $115,000.

Mrs. Stern is a daughter of Julius Rosenwald, the Chicago merchant and philanthropist. The Sterns have occupied the picturesque camp this summer as tenants. The pending sale of New York property was confirmed today.

Most of the purchase money will go to swell the assets of the Laura Nelson Kirkwood trust, which with other available bequests, is being drawn on to erect the huge art gallery, now building for the William Rockhill Nelson gallery of art. The Laura Nelson Kirkwood trust will aggregate $1,200,000.

Vote 17 More Schools, Cost $18,000,000

Several Millions Will Be Spent Soon.

Bids will be sought at once by the board of education for four grammar schools, to cost a total of about $8,500,000. Two of these are left over from last year's building program and two are on that for this year. The school trustees, sitting as a committee of the whole, approved the 1930 program, calling for seventeen buildings at a total estimated cost of $18,000,000.

In this list are four senior high schools, each to seat 1,600, and to cost a total of $6,500,000, on which work is to be started in December. Bids will be asked for as soon as the board's architect has drafted one set of plans that will be suitable for all four buildings.

Construction is to begin on two of the four grammar schools and on the four senior high schools this year, while work on the remainder of the program will go over until 1931. The board already has received bids involving about $2,500,000 on work authorized in last year's program and contracts are to be awarded at the next board meeting. These involve additions to the Senn High school and the Gresham elementary school. The trustees yesterday authorized the seeking of bids for three additions to other schools to cost about $250,000 each.

It is hoped by school officials that these additions will reduce the seat shortage greatly.

The 1930 building program was prepared by Don C. Rogers and recommended by Superintendent Bogan, and is in line with the policy of L. E. Myers, new president of the board of education.

Spaniards Dig Gravel, Disturb Long Sleep of Old Roman Family

MADRID, Sept. 10—(AP)—An archaeological discovery which has attracted intense interest throughout Spain was being investigated today in the Madrid suburb of Las Carolinas.

Six tombs containing several skeletons, apparently those of Roman citizens and the remains of a Roman villa, with still older remains underneath, have been uncovered in a gravel pit. The older relics still remain unclassified, but some observers believe they represented a prehistoric settlement.

The newspaper El Debate has proposed that Madrid declare itself "the capital of the prehistoric world" and organize a prehistoric museum.

The paper proposed adequate appropriations for thorough scientific excavations around Madrid. Many believe that rich archaeological material, both Roman and prehistoric, exists in this vicinity.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Canon Pierre de Struycker, president of Pope Adrian VI. college, today was named rector of the American college at Louvain, where he was formerly vice rector. He succeeds Msgr. De Becker, who retires after fifty years as a professor.

WAITERS SEEKING HIGHER LEARNING, MENU WORDS, TOO

Joining the fall avalanche of seekers after learning who will trek to the classroom is a new group this year, they are waiters and waitresses.

The school primarily will train its students in the three "R's" and the science of table service. Classes will be conducted at Wendell Phillips High school and the headquarters of the Waiters and Cooks' association, 3659 South Michigan avenue, beginning Oct. 6. The school will be directed by the board of education, the Waiters and Cooks' Progressive association and the Chicago Urban league.

"A waiter will be taught to spell so he will not take the cook an order for 'zup' when he means 'soup,'" explained Dr. Charles J. Lunak, assistant superintendent of schools. "He will be taught to add in place of counting on his fingers. And he will study menu language to avoid serving his customer with cheese and crackers when hors d'oeuvres have been ordered."

During the last year, according to Alonzo C. Thayer, director of the department of industrial relations of the Chicago Urban league, the latter has coöperated with the board of education with several joint educational projects that have proved so successful that they have become permanent institutions. Among them was a class for domestic workers which received practical home economics at Wendell Phillips High school. Members of the class not already employed were found jobs when their efficiency had been increased.

The board of education also experimented with the use of the Urban league model apartment for training in practical home keeping for classes from Keith school, Mr. Thayer added. These classes are held daily at the Urban league building where the girls are taught the various phases of housekeeping by actual experiment in cleaning and arranging the home, and preparing and serving meals.

"The department of industrial relations of the Urban league realizes the importance of increasing the efficiency of the workers whom we place through our free employment bureau," said A. L. Foster, executive secretary. "With the coöperation of the board of education and the University of Chicago, we have been able to offer worthwhile practical courses to many people who have applied to us for work. We propose to continue to develop this important phase of our Urban league program until we have established a training school for workers which will make available highly skilled persons."

Boston Star Pupils Have Novel Ideas on History of U. S.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The mayor and the superintendent of schools want to know what is the matter with Boston's public school educational system. When a high ranking girl school graduate says Abraham Lincoln had something to do with slavery but on failing to finish the job he turned it over to George Washington the officials say something must be off color.

Thirty-four girls took the examination for entrance to the teachers' college and only eight passed. Chairman Joseph J. Hurley of the school committee was responsible for exposing the results of the examination. He said among the answers to the questions were statements that Daniel Webster was Washington's secretary of state. That Gettysburg was the scene of McDonough's victory in the war of 1812, that the Progressive movement in 1912 was when Roosevelt reclaimed the west and built a dam.

Hurley said a girl who received a mark of 90 in her high school mathematics had received a mark of 8 in the examination.

Dr. J. E. Burke, superintendent of schools, called in the headmasters of five suburban high schools today for an explanation and Mayor James M. Curley issued a statement favoring an investigation.

Human Gland Extract Makes Rooster Strut

Find Carbon, Sulphur in Mysterious Compounds.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Substitutes for the gland grafting of "rejuvenation" fame, which chemists are just beginning to develop, were explained to the division of medical chemistry at the American Chemical society meeting today.

The substitutes are secretions of three glands, and of other glands that probably never can be transplanted. The chemists extract the secretions and administer them like ordinary medical remedies.

Their experiments have barely touched upon human uses yet, but indicate a field of human application like that of other medicines in curing the sick, alleviating premature age or aiding subnormal youth.

No miracles like restoration of youth were even foreshadowed, but amazing practical experiments were reported. Dr. F. C. Koch of the University of Chicago said that a male sex extract, called a hormone, obtained from four men, when injected into roosters, caused growth of their combs and wattles, which are nature's ornamental badges of maleness in the chicken family.

Sex hormones obtained from women caused the rooster's combs to grow about as well as did the male extract. A different feminine hormone, however, obtained from women, caused rooster feathers to change slightly so as to show markings typical only of hen feathers.

These experiments add to existing proof that some of the glands of animals and humans produce substances so similar that animals may be used safely to extract remedies for man.

Dr. Koch said he has not experimented to learn what use the male hormone extracted at Chicago may have for human beings.

A female hormone extracted from animals by Dr. Edward A. Doisy of St. Louis university and used a little upon human beings was described by S. A. Thayer of St. Louis university. He said it shows signs of helping some types of physical backwardness in girls and in relief of one or two frequent causes of suffering among women.

A little of the mystery was stripped from hormones by two reports showing what they are made of. Dr. Doisy's hormone consists of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen. But the complex forms which these simple elements assume has not been fully unravelled.

Two other hormones made of carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen and sulphur, were described by Dr. Oliver Kamm of Parke Davis & Co. Both comes from the pituitary gland near the roof of the mouth, a gland which he said affects growth of body and bone, sex development, and distribution of water in the body. He said that nature using the same elements seems to obtain different hormones by slight changes in the way the elements are combined.

"He ventured the prediction" that man might learn the key and be able to "transmute" certain hormones—that is, to transform one into a different hormone. But he said this might be done only with very similar hormones.

A hormone extracted from the covering of the adrenal gland which already has saved one human life, was described by Dr. Frank A. Hartman of the University of Buffalo.

Dr. L. C. Rowntree of the Mayo foundation described a modern "miracle" that took place at the Mayo clinic. A man was brought there dying of Addison's disease, he said. This happened just after a hormone extract of the adrenal cortex had been isolated at Princeton university and the Cold Spring Harbor laboratory by Drs. Swingle and Pfiffner.

Rowntree had some of the new extract sent by airplane, and given to the dying man.

"In three days," he said, "an amazed interne came to me saying this man was sitting up demanding wieners and sauerkraut. Since then we have saved several other persons suffering from this ordinarily incurable disease, but cannot say yet that cures are permanent."

The new cancer treatment of Drs. Coffee and Humber of San Francisco was questioned by Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of cancer research at the graduate medical school of the University of Pennsylvania. The Coffee-Humber treatment is by injecting the extract made from the covering of the adrenal glands of certain animals. McDonald said that in his laboratories extensive experiments upon animals with cancer showed the extract from this to be useless for cancer.

Life Sometimes Punishes Quicker than Man Can

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"After twenty-four years of married life, I am at the point of not knowing which road to take. Until three years ago my husband was a good pal and a good father to our two boys. Then a change in his office environment brought in a young woman as his secretary. He began by taking out a group of girls, including the favored one, and put on birthday parties for them, and did other entertaining.

"Then the others were dropped and the one girl was his companion. When I told him he was being talked about he choked me and told me to go back to Ohio where I came from, that he wanted and needed younger companionship.

"I stayed, for the boys' sake. They knew nothing about our trouble. I was forbidden to go near his office any more. The girl had a car and would drive my husband up to my door. I ignored this and stayed on for the children's sake.

"Suddenly he became sick and is sick yet, requiring my nursing day and night, and with every spoon or glass I hand him the thought of his treatment of me comes up before my eyes, and I wonder why I should work for him, now that there is not a spark of love left. The younger woman does not care for him now. She deserted the ship the moment he became ill. And neither do I care for him any more.

"But I keep on working and nursing him against my own wishes. He is sixteen years older than I and I have no more feeling for him than I would have for a sick animal. When I see his hands I think of the day he choked me. When I think that not one of his office associates calls to see him, I wonder why I stick to the post. He has money enough to pay hospital bills and a nurse.

"ALICE M."

Wonder what the man thinks as the spoon is raised to his lips by the one lone woman who does not desert him? Wonder if he looks at those hands of his and asks how they could have been employed on the neck of a woman who'd stood by him for twenty-odd years? Wonder what his thoughts are about the younger woman and the way she deserted him?

Life punishes and punishes hard for even temporary lapses from the righteous path. Perhaps the wife could let the punishment go at that, for the man is getting his with every drop of medicine or broth he accepts from the woman's hands, whether the hands are willing or unwilling.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Wait a Year.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 15 and my parents will not let me go out with boys. What can I do? BLUE."

Fifteen is rather young to go out with boys, dear. In another year your parents will give their consent.

Deserves to Be Ignored.

"Dear Miss Blake: The girl who says she loves me broke her date with me and went to a picnic with another fellow. Please advise. LEONARD."

I would ignore her entirely. That was too unkind a cut to overlook.

Albrecht Asks Pope's Approval of His Wedding

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 10—(AP)—The newspaper Ujsag today made public a declaration by Archduke Albrecht to the effect that while he adheres to belief in the validity of his marriage in England recently to Mrs. Irene von Rudnay, the divorced wife of a Hungarian diplomat, according to the Hungarian civil law, he is convinced "as a faithful Catholic, from a human standpoint and having a regard for his soul's salvation" that his marriage was not fully valid.

For this reason, the statement says, he has not yet taken up common habitation with his bride, who, by her union with Albrecht, became a Hungarian royal princess.

She has moved into a villa while Albrecht continues in his former residence, until the pope shall have given the sanction of the church to the wedding.

Lanvin Gives Peplum Jacket a New Flare

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Peplums flared into the mode with the Greek fashions of last spring, but though attractive they were dangerous to all but the young and slender. The Paris couturiers, refusing to admit that there's such a thing as an unsolved problem, turned their master minds on to peplums and evolved forms that are practically universally becoming, with the result that peplums hold a large place in the formal fashions of the winter showings.

Mme. Lanvin is particularly devoted to them; she uses them on every sort of costume from nonchalant sports frocks to regal evening gowns. She makes them fairly short with an exaggerated flare which she coaxes into becomingness by dipping it a little in the back.

Sketched above is a Lanvin afternoon ensemble with a peplum jacket that is typical of this great creator's manner. It's of black velveteen, and that fabric, don't forget, is going to be one of the big winter favorites this year. The peplum and the huge puffs reaching to the elbows are of snowy ermine. The fitted jacket is slightly draped in a flattering manner. Its trick band collar that ties in a little bow in the back is also very Lanvin.

The frock of this ensemble has a circular skirt of black velveteen that mounts in a point on to the bodice of white marocain, bloused at the back and boleroed in front. The tight lower sleeves are also of black velveteen. A narrow velveteen belt indicates the natural waist line.

Society Affairs Tell Autumn's Fashion Story

The most alluringly feminine features are to be seen among the afternoon gowns that society women are wearing for numerous receptions being given this month. The debutantes, in particular, wear a very dressy type of frock, as the evening parties follow the afternoon teas so closely that there is no time between them to change costumes. Ankle length skirts, frequently trailing slightly in the back; capelets, and deep berthas are among the most popular details, and lace is one of the most favored fabrics.

Both Mrs. Huntington Henry and her daughter, Miss Hortense Henry, wore lace for the latter's coming out reception in Lake Forest last Saturday afternoon. Miss Henry's was of a warm apricot shade, gracefully girlish, with a flaring skirt overlaid with a series of eight ruffled flounces. Mrs. Henry's was of emerald green.

Miss Constance Hasler, one of the debutante assistants, wore a dress of rose beige lace. Its skirt was fulled at one side, with the lace falling in a low dip at the left side. Turquoise moire slippers provided an interesting note of color. Also of lace were the frocks worn by the attendants at the wedding on Tuesday of Miss Mary Elizabeth Couch to Alfred Norval Mitchell. The maid of honor and the two bridesmaids wore dresses of parchment color, with tiered skirts and full cape backs. Their small velvet hats and satin slippers were of delphinium blue.

Plain and figured chiffon are also being worn for the early fall. Miss Helen Stanley, another of the debutantes, wears a chiffon frock of several shades of blue, patterned in large conventional daisies. Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, whose daughter, Miss Beatrice Kirk, was presented also last Saturday, wore a stunning gown of a more advanced fall fashion for the tea. It was of black chiffon velvet, long sleeved, with the skirt long and full. It was trimmed with rows of ermine tails at the wrists and down the front of the bodice.

You Can Slenderize the Fatted Calf by This Little Exercise

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Reducing the calf of the leg can be done. If you don't believe it can be done and in fairly quick time, you'll have to be referred to a certain young person who took off a round two inches in six weeks.

Her fat, it must be explained, was not hard set, as the fat on some legs most obviously is. Nevertheless, there was enough there, just the same, to disturb the owner's pride. And, as in so many cases of leg thickening, there was not a consistent taking on of fat elsewhere on the body.

Exercise did it. One exercise only. But there was vim put into it and more "kick," to hear the young woman tell it, than "you could get out of a keg of applejack."

This is the exercise that remodeled the leg of "Jackie": Stand erect, arms hanging at sides. Bend the left knee, raising the lower part of the leg backward and upward as far back as possible. Point the toe strongly; then kick the leg forward and backward fifteen or twenty times. Give the left leg a rest and put the right one to work for fifteen or twenty good swift ones.

If you try it and you find it monotonous kicking away to counts, turn on some fast music. The music addition to many exercises puts a certain verve in the performance that you don't get without it, although, of course, it won't be the music that will take the inches off the calf. It will be the vigor with which you swing high, low and back again, and the number of times you are willing to perform the movement.

You can double the number after a few days. You can do it morning, noon and night. It is an exercise you can do clothed, so you could start your kicking almost any time the impulse struck you, providing, of course, you were careful about adopting space not liable to be used by an innocent passerby.

It is best to catch the thickening when first the leg profile shows signs of failing you. Don't wait until the settled look of ripe maturity clings to the lower limbs. Then it is hard to get off. The wonder is, however, that more of the taxi-riding, motor-driving, never-walking girls aren't afflicted with weightier calves than they are.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Shoestring Gardens

How to plan initial steps in gardening so that the amateur who never has grown flowers can get a start with the use of pin money is described in a portion of the newly revised 6½ page Tribune booklet, "Flower Gardening." It may be obtained by sending 13 cents in stamps to the Farm and Garden Editor of The Chicago Tribune or by purchasing the booklet for 10 cents at any of The Tribune public service stations.

Villa Park suburban residents are proud, they assert, of their Civic Garden club, which has been organized but six months but which has obtained a membership of 125 gardeners, has held two flower shows, has been made a member of the Illinois federation of such clubs, and has participated in the promotion of civic beauty.

One instance of the latter work is cited by H. W. Gerard, who served as chairman of the spring show and also of the fall show, which was held last week. He points to 1,500 trees donated by the club to school children, who set them out in yards, gardens, and curb parkways. A committee on forestry is functioning on appointment of members of the board of trustees of the village, who also happen to be civic garden club members.

Officers of the garden group include Mrs. F. R. Dunbar, president; Mrs. H. W. Gerard, L. E. Zagers, Mrs. John Adren, and Mrs. W. A. Wood, vice presidents and board members; Miss M. Rusek, secretary; and Mrs. E. Voss, treasurer. In the spring show the contest attracted 262 exhibits, while in the more recent fall show there were 524 entries.

Food Talk.

Because of its rare flavor and texture, salmon is a delicacy for the rich, and because of its abundance and low cost it is a luxury easily within reach of the poor. Fresh salmon is available only near the source of production or in large cities, but the canned product is available everywhere, even in the most isolated places.

Salmon, canned or fresh, is a valuable food from the nutritive points of view. It is high in protein, varying from 19.3 to 26.5 per cent, and it contains considerable fat, the amount ranging from 3.6 to 15.3 per cent fat. Salmon is richer than meat in phosphorous. It has twice as much calcium as meat, but only about one-third as much iron.

It also contains iodine, one of the essential chemical elements necessary to normal nutrition and the proper functioning of the thyroid gland. People who grow up with an inadequate amount of iodine develop simple goiter, which is an enlargement of the thyroid. While the amount of iodine varies, salmon has considerable value as a dietary source of this element. It makes an excellent contribution to the diet, especially for those of us who are not near an abundant supply of inexpensive sea food rich in iodine. But, like all other foods, there is a great range in the quality.

Have you ever purchased a pink salmon thinking that you were obtaining a beautiful rich red colored fish for your salad or loaf? The names by which the grades are known are in a measure misnomers, and for this reason it is important that housewives become familiar with the quality and name of each grade.

The five grades found in almost every market are really the five species of salmon that are of commercial importance. They are "Chinook," sometimes called "King"; "Red," often called "Sockeye"; "Medium Red," in some instances called "Coho"; "Pink," and "Chum." The pink is sometimes called "Humpback" and Chum "Keta," or "Dog." In addition to these species the steel head trout, canned chiefly on the Columbia river and Puget sound, is marketed as "Steelhead salmon."

Red Salmon is the most valuable commercially. Pink salmon does not command as high a price as the red because the flesh is paler and less firm. But in flavor one is as good as the other. In salmon loaf, soup, and croquettes, where the texture and color are not so important, the pink salmon is just as satisfactory and is more economical.

SALMON ROLL.

3 tablespoons melted butter.
3 eggs.
Pepper.
1 teaspoon minced parsley.

Remove skin from salmon. Flake salmon with fork, add butter and mix well, then the crumbs, well beaten eggs, salt, pepper, and parsley. Pack into a buttered mold. Cover tightly and steam for one hour. Serve with oyster sauce.

Yield: 6 servings. One serving: Total, 294 calories; protein, 76 calories; fat, 179 calories; carbohydrates, 39 calories.

OYSTER SAUCE.

1 cup milk.
1 teaspoon flour.
1 tablespoon butter.
Pepper and salt.
1 egg.
¼ cup cream.

Put cleaned oysters into milk and cook over hot water about ten minutes. Then drain off milk. Blend flour and butter together in top of double boiler. Add milk drained from oysters and the seasoning. Stir until smooth. Then add oysters that have been chopped fine. Yield: 6 servings.

Consistency Is a Jewel in Training of Small Children

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Building the Baby.

Consistency, goes the saying, is a jewel. It surely is—a jewel of the first water in the guiding of children. Consistency is something children understand, while a lack of consistency is utterly bewildering to them!

If you say no to something today and tomorrow say yes to the same thing for no apparent reason, they are completely at a loss. If you allow them to speak rudely to you today without reproof and tomorrow you scold them for it, they are bewildered.

If they are allowed to play and talk and act and sit in certain ways at home, and then if you fly at them or scold them or even spank them for doing the same things in public or at someone's house—they can't make head nor tail of it.

If you expect them quite suddenly to be unobstrusive, polite, neat, and entirely quiet when they are visiting, and expect none of these things of them when they are at home, of course you will seem like an unreasonable human being to them. They will either be rather cowed and robbed of initiative for fear they will do something wrong, or else they will try to get away with as much as they can. Of the two, the latter is probably the more wholesome.

In either case, inconsistency is something they can't understand. It means that they just don't know which way you're going to jump next.

Consistency, on the contrary, is like a solid rock to children. They know what to expect with a consistent mother and father. They learn one of the most important mental lessons there is—that of cause and effect. They come to recognize that certain things are expected of them and will always lead to certain other things—praise, approval, delight, reproof, or a firm denial.

Consistency is a jewel.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Then He Gave Up.

At the country club one day I had to take a new caddie as none of the other boys who had gone out with me before were in.

After my usual game of poor golf, I said to him, "Tell me, am I the worst golfer in the club?"

"No," he answered, "if what the other caddies say is true, a fellow named M— D— is the worst." I almost fell over—that was my name.

M. D.

Bird of a Drink.

My most embarrassing moment happened one evening when I accompanied a group of friends to a drug store to get a soda. I noticed a sign that said, "Canary hi-balls sold here." Thinking that it was a new kind of drink I said that I would have one instead of a soda. Imagine my embarrassment when the druggist informed me that they were only for canary birds.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

GIRL'S DRESS.

Washable dusty pink silk crêpe was used for this attractive frock, and it is equally suited for sports or spectator sports. The cap sleeves of the yoked bodice are outstandingly chic in their unusual pointed treatment, and a narrow belt of self fabric is adjustable and may be worn at the higher or the natural waistline. The circular skirt is most graceful.

The pattern, 2846, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 30 inch material with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR.

THAT'S WHY YOU CAN GET A GOOD USED CAR AT A BIG SAVING

If You Buy from the Studebaker Sales Co.

Studebaker holds more American stock car records than all other makes combined—and Studebaker is the world's largest builder of eights.

Our business has been exceptionally good because of these facts, and as a result we have taken in a great number of "trade-ins." We need the room and MUST TURN OVER this stock immediately. In order to do this, we have marked our cars at exceptionally LOW PRICES.

FORD COUPE. One of the very latest model A's that is in wonderful condition and will give new car satisfaction. Today, $295.

BUICK ROADSTER. A fine running car with 4 whl. brakes, windshield wings, spare tire, etc. Nice appearance. $95.

HUPMOBILE 8 ROADSTER. This low slung car is in exceptionally fine condition; has rumble seat, 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $295.

MARMON SEDAN. Late model 8 cyl. that originally cost about $2,000. This car is in magnificent condition today. Every feature of the upholstery, finish, tires and motor will please the most exacting buyer. There is a wealth of extra equipment. Will not remain long at $450.

OAKLAND COACH, 1929. Only driven a few thousand miles. This car is absolutely brand new in every respect. Equipped with every essential extra. Worth considerably more than our price of $550.

PEERLESS SEDAN. It's a late model finished a beautiful blue. The mileage is very low as this car was in storage for almost a year. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, and other extras. The motor is excellent. $345.

STEARNS-KNIGHT COACH. The finish, upholstery, tires and carpets are in wonderful condition and the equipment includes 4 whl. brakes, bumpers, snubbers, spare tires, etc. $95.

STUDEBAKER COUPE. 1928 Commander. Examine this car from bumper to bumper and you'll agree that it's one of the most handsome cars you've ever seen. Bring your own mechanic to inspect the motor and he'll testify it's okay in every respect. A real bargain at $395.

WILLYS-KNIGHT SEDAN. If you are in the market for a late model you cannot get a better bargain than this car. It's the last word for beautiful appearance and spirited performance. Attractive finish, expensive upholstery, that looks new. Tires have little mileage. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Special for $545.

CADILLAC SEDAN. This 1927 model 314 seven pass. was formerly owned by an actor, who actually used it only for a short time. It's a beauty and is equipped with shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. This car was traded in at a low figure, and we're willing to pass on the saving to you. Only $850.

CHRYSLER COACH. It's a remarkable buy at our special low price. The finish, upholstery and tires are in dandy condition. Snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $195.

DODGE SEDAN. A school teacher owned this car and she gave it very good attention. We checked over the motor, equipped the car with new tires and priced it unusually low for quick sale. $295.

ERSKINE SEDAN, 1929, that was oiled and greased every 500 miles, so it's in wonderful condition now. Appearance is very attractive and the equipment includes 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $395.

NASH COUPE. If you are in the market for a good running, fine appearing car at a cheap price, you cannot beat this Nash for $185.

GRAHAM-PAIGE SEDAN, 1929, that's finished in an attractive color. Equipped with wire wheels, two spare tires, driving light, shock absorbers, etc. This car was taken in on consignment, and when it is sold the owner will take out a new Studebaker 8. Naturally we are anxious to dispose of it at once, so we priced it as low as this for quick sale. Only $685.

STUDEBAKER BROUGHAM. Big 6 with 4 whl. brakes. This is the last word for sparkling performance and attractive appearance. Has every essential extras. $145.

PIERCE-ARROW

OFFERS LATE MODEL LINCOLNS AT BARGAIN PRICES

These cars were privately owned by wealthy families, and in most cases under the care of experienced chauffeurs. They were traded in on the new 1931 Pierce-Arrows at favorable prices, so here is the chance for you to make a substantial saving on a Lincoln.

LINCOLN VICTORIA. 1930 Conv. 5 pass. Victoria, body by Dietrich. Special leather upholstery. Only run 6,200 miles. Absolutely in the original new condition and has fender wells, wire wheels, trunk, special driving light, 6 Whitewall tires, and other valuable equipment. The finish, upholstery, and motor appear unused. Offered at about half its original cost.

LINCOLN ROADSTER. Late model that we sincerely believe is one of the sportiest roadsters in Chicago. Has rumble seat, 4 whl. brakes, Houdaille shock absorbers, wire wheels, fender wells, and many other extras. The Double-Eagle tires are in unusually good condition. Special for $1,650.

LINCOLN SEDAN. 7 pass., with Brunn body, that was driven for a few years, but it actually looks in new condition. Finished a handsome olive green, with crimson wire wheels. Has shock absorbers, shutter front, two spare tires, driving light, bumpers, etc. $550.

LINCOLN SEDAN, 1928, with Dietrich body and opera seats. Has five practically new Double-Eagle tires, wire wheels, windshield wings, heater, Houdaille shock absorbers, etc. Finish, upholstery, and motor are in marvelous condition. $1,650.
